MUTT AND JEFF TO APPEAR AT LA FAYETTE WEDNESDAY

Those two faithful cronies, pals, comedians, friends and enemies, Mutt and Jeff, have joined hands again in a new stage version of their latest exploits. The new piece is called, "Mutt and Jeff in Chinatown," and will be the attraction at La Fayette Theatre, Fayetteville, Wednesday night, March 15th. Bud Fisher's famous comics have entertained millions. They have become an American institution. We might say international, for right now they are laughing over their numerous antics in the wilds of Borneo. At any rate England and France have taken the popular pair to their hearts. The play is in two acts and six scenes. The action is rife and spirited from start to finish and one is amused and thrilled from curtain to curtain. Of course, Mutt and Jeff quarrel, with Jeff, naturally getting the worst of it. But Jeff comes out first best in his instance. The company employed is a capable one. Good and catchy music also prevails. Mention also might be made among the girls. They are good looking, possess class and do more than merely wear expensive and gorgeous gowns.

"Mutt and Jeff in Chinatown" The play hit of the season and styled as one of the best and funniest of the Mutt and Jeff series is underlined as the next attraction at the LaFayette theatre, Fayetteville, Wednesday March 15th.

This offering bears the title of "Mutt and Jeff in Chinatown" and is in two acts and six scenes. Besides a bevy of exceptionally pretty young women, the company contains a number of capable comedians who know the value of getting the laughs across the footlights. Mutt and Jeff, as usual, have their squabbles, quarrels and pats. Just how it all comes out and how the famous comics patch up their grievances must needs be withheld. Justice to say, it is all done in the spirit of fun, and the world naturally is all the happier for it. The play is in two acts and six scenes.
