Mr. and Mrs. Lowis Adley of Philadelphia, are spending the day in Dunn. Mr. Adley was called home last week on account of the seriou condition of his brother, James Adley, who is still in a Fayetteville hospital suffering from injuries received in an automobile accident. Mr. and Mrs. Adley are spending most of their time in Fayetteville.

W L. Gore, cashier of the Bank of Salemburg, will give up his position with the bank in a few days and come to Dunn to accept a position with the Peoplo's Supply Co. He will be bookkeeper for the local here, Lewis Denning, who has done this work for some time, will spend most of his time as traveling salesman for this company. Mr. Gore will report for duty by May 15th.

The condensed statement of the First National Bank is published elacwhere in The Dispatch. Judging from this statement things are fast getting back to normal in Dunn and this section of the State. The item of cash on hand and due from banks amounts to more than a quarter of a million dollars and deposits are more than half a million. This is a splendid showing for this season of the year and is far better than the statement issued by the bank in March. The Duna district is getting on its feet again and by the fall it seems that things will be about normal.

At the election held by the student body of the University of North Car-olina at Chapel Hill Monday, J. J. Wade, who is now serving as managing editor of the Tar Heel, was named editor-in-chief of this school paper for the next year. He succeeds Jonathan Daniels, son of Josephus Daniels, who held this important position the past year and who was not a candidate for re-election. The position of editor-in-chief carries with it much prestige and respo bility and the many friends of this Dunn young man, will be pleased to know that this distinct honor has

Capt. Fitshugh Whitfield of Clinton, candidate for Congress from the Third District of North Carolina, was a visitor in Dunn Saturday. He is conducting an aggressive campaign and has a personality that draws men to him. He is making a thorough canvas of his district and will doubtless make a strong race for the nomination at the primary in June. Capt. Whitfield has an envisble war record and has had experience in politics that will serve him well in the pres-ent campaign. Walle Dunn is not in the Captain's district he has a host
