Class Celebrates Anniversary
Wednesday afternoon the Volunteer Wesley Class of the M. E. Sunday School composed of married ladies, celebrated the ninth anniversary of the organization of the class, in the church basement. The class has fifty-two members and about forty other guests were invited for this occasion. The inclement weather, however, prevented a number from being present.

The room was attractively decorated with Dorothy Perkins roses and sweet peas, Mrs. Eliza Williamson having had charge of the decorations. After the guests had assembled the program of the afternoon began with the singing of the class song, which was composed by the teacher of the class, Mrs. T. L. H. Young.

Mrs. J. J. Broadhurst was chairman of the committee on entertainment and quite a number of interesting stunts were planned. After the song, the secretary, Mrs. E. S. Sanders, called the roll, each one being asked to respond with a joke or conundrum. Following this, a potato race was engaged in, furnishing quite a bit of fun. Then an art exhibition took place. Different ones were asked to illustrate nursery rhymes on the board, the other guests to guess the rhyme from the drawings. An "advertisement contest" came next, which consisted of pictures used in advertisements—the article advertised to be guessed. Then came a "Pillow-Dex" contest which closed that part of the program.

Delicious refreshments in the form of fruit punch and wafers were served by Mrs. Hal C. Hood, Mrs. Ella Baker and Mrs. D. H. Tuttle.

Before the departure of the guests, the class presented the teacher, Mrs. T. L. H. Young, with a lovely bouquet of flowers. Mrs. T. E. Hood presented the bouquet. Mrs. Young with appropriate words thanked the donors and thanked especially the committee who had made possible the successful social event of the afternoon. It was one of the most enjoyable anniversary parties yet given by the class.—Smithfield Herald.

BIG RAILROAD DEAL

The People Can Rule

News and Observer.
The people can rule under the primary system whenever they are willing to take the trouble to do so. Government will be responsive to an awakened and militant electorate, but it will drift into the hands of special interests or machine politicians, generally working together, if the people are not willing to fight for the control of their own affairs.

The tendency in all parties is for the few, who have some axe to grind, to control. Congress is full of men who have lost touch with their people, who serve special interests or do the bidding of some political boss. They will continue to misgovern if the people are too indifferent to demand clean men who take orders from none. There was recently a striking illustration of what the people can do. Illinois had a representative, Mr. Copley, a member of the Ways and Means Committee, a man of large wealth, who helped the interstate to write tariff schedules for their own enrichment. To the surprise of most people he was defeated for re-nomination. How was it done? Here is the explanation as given by Mr. Reed, his successful opponent:

"The campaign was waged against the system by which a dozen men of great wealth dominate the action of congress on matters of tariff and taxation and use their great power to secure legislative protection of their own interests. I urged the necessity of having a people's bloc to oppose this 'millionaires' bloc,' to return the power of government to the people."

The people have only themselves to blame if their public servants listen to dozens of privilege agents, fail to represent the people. The people can rule if they have courage and convictions and organization.
