MR. O'BRIAN WITH CAROLINA POWER COMPANY

M. L. O'Brian until recently manager of the McCrory 5 and 10 cent store in Dunn, has accepted a position with the Carolina Power and Light Company and assumed his duties Monday. He succeeds J. A. Hine, who has been transferred to Goldsboro, and who was local salesman for the Company here the past year.

Mr. O'Brian needs no introduction to the people of Dunn. In his position as manager of the McCrory store he became acquainted with most of the people of the Dunn District. He is a native of Pennsylvania and a graduate of the engineering department of the Penn State College. He has just completed a special course at the head office of the Carolina Power and Light Company at Raleigh, and the knowledge acquired there will serve him well in the performance of his new duties here.

While Dunn regrets to lose Mr. Hine and his splendid family it is glad that Mr. O'Brian is to continue a citizen.

A. T. LASSITER.

DENNING-COOPER

On January, the thirtieth, Divine Street Methodist church was the scene of an unusually pretty wedding, when Miss Florence Cooper charming daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. S. Cooper of this city became the bride of Mr. Lewis Knox Denning, prominent young business man of Dunn.

Approaching the nuptial hour accompanied by Mrs. John Hodges, Mrs. Harper McD. Holliday sang, "The Sweetest Story Ever Told," by Stultz. Mr. Robert Jordan gave a violin solo, "O Promise Me," by De Koven. Two vocal selections by Miss Iva Pearson, "Thank God for a garden," by Del Riego and "Believe Me If All Those Endearing Young Charms," by Davanant, completed this phase of the ceremony.

The artistic setting for this beautiful marriage was wonderfully done in green and white. The dark green background of palms displayed to us advantage, great bunches of statice lilies, the purity of their whiteness lending to the scene, a sacredness all their own. While an enclosure about the altar terminated before the ceremony.

The ushers, Mr. Harper Holliday and Mr. Benjamin Cooper, brother of the bride, both of Dunn, preceded the bride party to the altar. Following these were the groomsmen, Mr. Strickland of Four Oaks, and Mr. Oliver Warren of Dunn with the bridesmaids, Miss Rachel Clifford wearing gray chiffon with silver slippers and gray lace hat, and Miss Majorie Godwin, in Sapphire blue lace, black hat and satin slippers. Next came the dame of honor, Mrs. Nathan Johnson attired in black lace dress and hat. The maid of honor, Miss Irene Parker, appeared becomingly dressed in lavender broadcloth.

chiffon, hat and slippers. The attendants carried shower bouquets of pink roses. The ring bearer, Myra Thigman in a Fauntleroy suit of black velvet, bore the ring in a white lily. As flower girls, little Misses Meta Elizabeth and Helen Johnson wore white organza over blue. The bride beautifully gowned in a suit of navy blue polart twill with gray accessories carrying a cascade of bride's roses and valley lilies, leaning on the arm of her brother, Mr. Edwin Cooper, of Dunn, nearest the altar, here meeting the groom and his best man, his brother, Mr. Robert Denning, of Dunn. Cupid's gates having been opened by the dainty flower girls, before the altar on a pillar of white satin, the sacred vows were taken, Rev. G. L. Adams, officiating, using the impressive ring ceremony. Amidst a shower of best wishes of a host of friends, Mr. and Mrs. Denning left on an extended bridal tour immediately following the ceremony.
