Anyway, it was not the worst Legislature ever.

This is March 9th and Dunn is yet in need of a new hotel.

See in the papers a prediction that gasoline is soon to sell for $1 a gallon. That is one way to drive the cars under the shed.

The fact that a live bull weevil was seen on the streets of Dunn recently is proof that the little rascals are not easy to freeze.

Now that the legislature has departed from Raleigh, the attention of Statesmen, Statewomen and the balance of the North Carolina public will not center there.

See by the papers that North Carolina continues to lead the States in ratio of number of births to number of inhabitants. Well, that's not bad.

Governor Morrison believes that the Legislature which "passed away" Tuesday will again come to life in the form of an extra session.

The large number of bills passed by the legislature during its dying days, would indicate that Maxwell's figures served only as a means of delaying for a spell the acts which followed later.

"Papa, why don't you be president?" was the question a small boy put to his father Monday evening as President Harding was passing through Dunn.

Judging from the various reports heard of what President Harding was doing when he passed through Dunn Monday evening he must have been very busy about that time.

Are the State highways in the Dunn District getting the same attention that the highways in other sections are getting?

Not all members of the legislature returned to their homes "bigger men" in the sight of the home people.

cent" hearing when they come forth to offer that which they haven't got. Let them know that aside from not allowing them to relieve you of any cash, you have no time to throw away in such a manner as that of listening to their make-you-rich stories.

TOO MANY LAWS A total of 1,896 bills were introduced during the recent General Assembly, while 1,195 of the bills were ratified and 701 met death at the hands of the law-makers.

SHOULD BE LEFT TO GROWN UPS Is it not true that too many children are allowed to drive automobiles in Dunn? If we are not mistaken, there is a State law which, if enforced, would prohibit any child under 16 years old driving an automobile.

COOPER GIRLS WIN Last Thursday afternoon Mingo came to Cooper with a chief to take us by force. After selecting the Cooper players to suit themselves they played ball. The score was 17 to 9 in favor of Cooper.

Mr. J. W. Warren... took place at 4:30 o'clock... of the Spring Branch... of Sampson county, were... The wedding, which was a quiet affair, was solemnized at the home of Rev. J. A. Campbell at Bulo's Creek, Mr. Campbell officiating. Only a few intimate friends of the contracting parties were present. Immediately after their marriage, Mr. and Mrs. Warren motored to their home, where a few invited guests gathered for a wedding dinner.

The bride is a young woman of sterling character and is very popular among a large circle of friends, while the groom is a prosperous farmer and is also well and favorable known.

Mrs. Willard was lighting the kitchen stove early yesterday morning when her clothing became ignited. Neighbors were attracted by her screams but she was terribly burned before the flames could be extinguished. She was taken to the hospital, where she maintained consciousness until near the end.

Far Heels Honored By The Portuguese Decoration Awarded By Portuguese to 120th and 107th Regiments Washington, March 7.—The Portuguese government has awarded the decoration of Torre Eshada to the 120th and 107th National Guard Infantry Regiments for participation alongside Portuguese units in the World War. Corps area commanders with headquarters at Atlanta and New York, were instructed today by the War Department to decorate the colors of the two regiments with appropriate ceremony.

The 120th infantry was in the 30th Division, made up mainly of troops from North and South Carolina, Georgia and Tennessee. The 107th Regiment was part of the 27th (New York) Division.

Put Newspaper Men Under License System Bill in Oklahoma Assembly Provides For Examination And Licensing Oklahoma City, Oklahoma, March 7.—Newspaper editors, reporters and all persons engaged in handling "copy" for publication would be required to pass an examination before a State board of newspaper examiners and pay $10 for a license under a bill introduced in the upper House of the State legislature late today.

The measure, according to its author, seeks to lower the libel average by raising the standard of personnel on Oklahoma newspapers, and making the newspaper business a profession. The bill provides for the revocation of licenses in case of "unethical acts" by newspaper men. Provision is made in the proposal for "cubs" who are defined as students. They would not be licensed and their editors would be responsible for their acts.

New England People Plan To Come South Cotton Men Consider Mills In This Section; Charlotte Expects Gumpers Charlotte, March 7.—The attitude of New England textile manufacturers toward the south is not of panic, declares Norman Pease, returning from Boston today. Mr. Pease said: "I found many instances of large textile interests that are seriously considering building new mills in the south, and many of them have already moved in that direction. The majority of the mill owners indicate, however, no haste in the matter, but rather an attitude of watchfulness. The labor situation in that territory is discouraging to the investment of more capital, and yet the low capitalization of the New England mills against the higher capitalization, which is necessary now when spin-dles must be figured at $60 rebounds somewhat to the advantage of New England."
