Carpets, Rugs, Pianos, Organs, Trunks

Barnes & Holliday Company

Building Sold—We Must Move To Other Quarters

The great building which has housed the Furniture, Music and Baggage Departments of this establishment for the last ten years has been sold. Within a few weeks carpenters must come in to make alterations for the new owners. WE MUST GET OUT.

Until new quarters can be secured for these departments, we must house them in our warehouses, which already are crowded. There is not room enough for more than a very small part of our big stock. Therefore we are compelled to sacrifice the goods at prices so low that you are bound to buy.

The Barnes and Holliday furniture stock includes suites and extra pieces that will fit into every home. Some are appropriate for the magnificence of the mansion; others will make cozy the humblest homes. No where will one find a nicer, prettier, more dependable stock.

We will not attempt to quote prices in this advertisement, nor will we undertake minute descriptions of the various articles spread over this tremendous store. The task is too large. In this space we could not begin to do justice to the subjects. However, we do outline a few of the offerings, hoping that you may gain an idea of just how stupendously important to you this sale is.

Ivory, Three-Tone Grey, Walnut and Mahogany Bed-Room Suites

These are lovely things—just right for Bridal Presents, or to go into the new home.

We have them in four-piece or seven-piece suits. The four pieces include Bed, Dresser, Chiffoniers and Dressing Tables. The larger Suites have, in addition to these, Rocker, Chair and Vanity Dresser. These are dainty bits of furniture, with the most superb finish upon the best woods procurable. They are selling now for twice the prices we are going to charge during this sale. They are a feast for the eyes. You must see them.

PIANOS, ORGANS AND PLAYER PIANOS

Schulz, Werner, Straube, Putnam, Piedmont.

Five Schulz Players—Three Straight Pianos—23 Organs. All in fine condition and ready to be installed in your home.

BARGAINS, ALL!

We are making some startling Reductions in these instruments because we positively must sell them to save the space.

Magicold Refrigerators

Hobby Horses and Wagons

A few left over from the Christmas stock—but always seasonable. Strong, well-made toys that will give a world of pleasure to the Tiny Tots.

Walnut, Mahogany Suites in Tapestry and Velour for Living Room

Superb! Magnificent! Suits of grace, of charm. With the subtle allure of supreme craftsmanship, these pieces compel your attention.

The woods have that velvet finish you love; the upholstering, in hand woven tapestry or eye-soothing velour, is perfect in tone and finish. These beauties cannot go to the warehouse—it would be desecration. We must find good homes for them some where. The prices we have put on them should serve to move them.

The stock of these goods is limited.

RUGS, CARPETS, DRUGGETS AND CONGOLEUM

Brussels, Axminster, Crex, Colonial velvet, Wool Fibre.

With the coming of Spring the Housewife looks for new Floor Covering. This season she is unusually fortunate, for we had anticipated her desires and bought large before this sale was made necessary by the buildings sale.

We have the goods in Little Rugs and in 6 x 9 and 9 x 12 Druggets.

ALL PRICED REMARKABLY LOW

The Barnes and Holliday Company is not going out of business. It is not even going out of the furniture business. Circumstances compel, for the time being, that we decrease our stock. That is the reason for this sale. The Stock must be decreased to the point that we may temporarily house it in our warehouses. Eventually we will blossom forth with a greater and more elaborate furniture store. Until this is possible we will have to content ourselves with a curtailed—though complete—stock of standard goods. We want all of our friends to profit through the circumstance which compels our removal. They are invited to visit the store and choose the things they want now.
