Of the crops to be planted, it would seem that corn will be the same as usual, wheat perhaps 2 per cent reduction, tobacco from 4 to 7 per cent increase, cotton perhaps equal to last year's acreage. The various hay crops will be about the same, peanuts slightly reduced, soybeans increased from 4 per cent, Irish potatoes reduced from 5 to 10 per cent, and sweet potatoes from 3 to 6 per cent reduction.

It seems impossible to get reliable acreage data from many reporters, which is particularly true concerning highly speculative crops and tobacco. Although reports of large decreases in cotton acreage are made from the central and southern coastal area, it is very doubtful if there will be as much as 15 to 20 per cent general decrease there. It is well known that the areas not seriously affected by the boll weevil will greatly increase their cotton acreage.—Farm Forecaster.

DOLLAR GASOLINE

Whether or not the Standard Oil Co. will charge one dollar a gallon for their motor "juice," Senator LaFollette says they will have the power to do it, unless they are restrained by the strong hand of the law. That restraint the Wisconsin Senator will endeavor to provide when the Congress convenes next (December). It was supposed that the power of this monopoly was broken, when Congress separated the giant into various units some years ago; but according to the committee report which Mr. LaFollette has made, the attempt to curtail the power of Standard Oil only increased it. The fact that this report so enraged the officials of the company excites the suspicion that LaFollette and his committee have "hit the spot." The weak attempt to cover the report with ridicule by the President of the New Jersey branch of the Standard Oil Company, will not work, and is completely answered by the bushy-headed Senator from Wisconsin, who knows how to take care of himself as well as anybody in the United States. It is hoped that the investigation and report of the power and purpose of the Standard Oil Co. will stir Congress to prompt and effective action. The people must be protected from the oppression of this giant trust and since the eyes of the public have been opened to the danger, the probability is that prompt measures will be taken to head the lion in his den. The committee has done the country a fine service and it is to be hoped that the Congress will respond to their recommendations and afford the helpless public the protection to which it is entitled. IMPOSING STONE MARKS GRAVE OF JERSEY PRINTER

(The Linotype News.)

"What could be a more fitting monument to mark a printer's last resting place than his imposing stone?"

Such probably was the thought of the late Andrew E. Nolan, printer, of Jersey City, N. J., who died January 22, for one of the last requests made by Nolan was that the stone he had worked with for nearly sixty years be placed at the head of his grave.

Here's how the New York Tribune told the story:

"Almost sixty years ago Andrew E. Nolan, of 67 Leonard Street, Jersey City, opened a little print shop. In those days all type was hand set, and the printer's 'stone' was about the most important thing in the plant.

"Nolan picked a good stone, a four foot square slab of smooth marble, upon which for more than half a century he made up type forms. Time scribbled the original flawless surface, the years mellowed its whiteness, its edges were smooth through constant contact with the aprons of stones and blackened it, but it remained a good stone, a solid reliable basis upon which to create sound typographical achievements.

without being accused of discrimination." While there may be less of sentiment than business acumen in the desire on the part of Buick dealers to possess the millionth Buick car, there is no question that sentiment predominates in the reception of this car on the part of Buick employees. Thousands of the latter have worked on Buicks ten years or more and feel a personal pride in the accomplishment of the million mark. They stand about in groups, looking fondly over this millionth Buick, and a flood of interesting recollections find expression.

EVERYBODY WANTS MILLIONTH BUICK

Flint, Mich., March 24.—"As requests for the millionth Buick car have come from so many of our branches and distributors—and dealers, as well—it will for the present remain unassigned."

Thus General Sales Manager E. T. Strong of the Buick Motor Company today disposed of the question as to the ultimate destination of the smart model 55, six cylinder sport touring car bearing upon its frame the imposing number plate of 1,000,000.

"Of course they all want this car. Not primarily for sentimental reasons, but for an intensely practical one—its advertising value. So we feel we cannot let anyone have it

SHEPHERDING OUR THOUGHTS

Our thoughts are sheep and we are their shepherds. Armed with rod and staff, we must lead our mystic thought flocks up into the green pastures of nourishing reality. Threading the higher ranges of being, we shall constantly hear the still waters of peace murmuring all around us. When some wolf of untruth, some roaring lion of impurity springs out of the hidden lair, He who shepherds our churches—that Great Shepherd of the sheep—shall lend us strength to smite our enemy down. Where is there a lovelier, finer vision than that of the fair company of good shepherds, who have led their flocks of thoughts forth to graze upon the shining pasturelands of truth, and to feed upon the gleaming hilltops of the spiritual?—Dr. Frederick F. Shannon.

A Leading Question

(American Legion Weekly)

Professor Cyanidus was interrupted during an interesting and instructive chemical investigation by the ringing of his telephone.

"Hello," said a sweet feminine voice at the other end. "Professor Cyanidus? This is the Kaffen Clothing Store. That pair of trousers you ordered last Tuesday have just come."

"Ah—er—yes?" parried the professor absent-mindedly. "And—ah—do they fit?"

"Strong and Well" I WISH you could know how much I am improved since taking the Cardui, writes Mrs. Nannie Brown, of Black Rock, Ark. "You wouldn't know me for the same weak invalid I was before, I took it. At my... I had to keep off my feet or I would fall. I couldn't do my housework, and just get where I'd most as lief be dead as living. Some one told my husband of Cardui. He got it for me and I took three bottles before I stopped—then off and on for the last three years just this tonic. I saw a decided improvement after my first bottle. I took the three, and was able to do my work with ease, and now I take for my family and for others. I am feeling fine, and strong and well." Take Cardui! It may be the medicine you need.

"With a bucket and stick I've got the Boll weevil Licked."

That's all the equipment or machinery you need to apply Hill's Mixture. Just walk along the cotton row, touching the bud of each plant as you pass by; inside of a few hours, the weevils on the plant will eat the mixture, and drop off—DEAD!

A Most Effective Poison I've got a poison that I am convinced the boll weevil SFEKS—not one that has to seek the weevil. Then, too, Hill's Mixture can be put on IN THE DAYTIME. No night-work. An inexperienced boy or girl can thoroughly cover 5 to 6 acres a day.

Best Protection—Minimum Cost!

My mixture is the result of thousands of dollars of investment, and years of hard labor and practical field and laboratory experiments on my Burke County farm. Hill's Mixture is a liquid poison, composed of calcium arsenate, molasses, water and secret ingredients which form a combination that we are convinced, from results obtained, attracts the boll weevil.

Scores of farmers who used it last year have written me unqualified letters of endorsement, and have already placed their orders for 1923. I will be glad to send you a book reproducing these letters, or my agent whose name appears below, will be glad to show them to you.

HILL'S MIXTURE A BOLL WEEVIL KILLER

Approved by Georgia State Board of Entomology Hill's Mixture is manufactured in the South's largest boll weevil poison plant. The calcium arsenate, molasses and other ingredients are accurately measured in the exact proportions, and thoroughly mixed by machines which distribute the poison evenly in the molasses. Every mix is chemically analyzed before shipping.

Raise your cotton on a pre-boll weevil basis Go ahead and plant your cotton and leave the weevils to Hill's Mixture. Place your order today. $38.50 for a 50-gal. bbl., plus $3.00 for bbl., which will be refunded upon return. Freight free to any Ala., N. Car., Tenn., or Miss. point. My agent for your territory, whose name appears below, will give you full particulars L. D. HILL.

THE 1923 AGRICULTURAL OUTLOOK

The present outlook for farm work is much better than a year ago. Farmers are generally more optimistic and the Cooperative Marketing Associations are in position to begin this year's work with a greater assurance of success than they were able to do a year ago. All farm prices are much better and, excepting the scarcity of labor, things are much more favorable in every respect.
