RECORDER'S COURT

Three hours of yesterday's session of the local recorder's sourt were used in trying to decide who is the owner of a certain bird dog. After all that time had been consumed in the trial of the case, Recorder R. L. Godwin was unable to name the rightful owner and the case was dismissed. Ed Parrish and R. J. Hudson both claim the dog as their own, and et is likely that the matter will be taken to the Superior court.

RUTH THE FAITHFUL DAUGHTER

SEON TEXT-Book of Buth. GOLDEN TEXT—Thy people shall be my people and thy God my God.—Ruth 1:16.

PRIMARY TOPIC-The Story of JUNIOR TOPIC-Ruth and Naomi.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOP-YOUNG PROPLE AND ADULT TOP-IC—The Secret of Ruth's Noble Life.

(Chapter 1:1-15). On account of famine in Bethlehem of Judah, Naomi with her husband and two sous sejourned in the and of Moub. After the death of her husband her two sons married Monbitlish women. After a time her sons died also. After the death of her sons Kaomi resolved to return to her home and, having heard that the Lord had visited His people in giving them bread. They went to Monb to escape trouble but only got into more. It was not until Naomi was thus chastised that she resolved to return. Naomi had the good sense to recognize that the hand of the Lord was upon her for good. When the time came for her to go Muth and Orpah accom panied her, for a distance. This she permitted but determined to place be-fore them frankly the difficulties which would necessarily confront them. It was this frank presentation of the dif-ficulties and her repeated urging them to go back that called forth from Buth the expression of her nobie choice.

II. Ruth's Noble Choice (1:16-18). Much as Naomi loved her daughters-is-isw, she would not have them go into this matter blindly. She told them the worst that could come upon them. This principle ought to be carried but by us in all our relations in life. In be ss the spirit of frankness should be manifest. At home we should deal with each other in the most straightforward way. The same thing should characterize our behavior in the church and society. Note the difficulty

Naomi told her that she had no more sons for whom she could wait. In that day to be unmarried was the greater diagrace. Society differed then from

2. She Must Renounce Her Gods Her idelatrous wership could not be carried on in the land where God's people dwelt. This was delicately touched upon when Orpah went back (v. 15). Orpah went back when it was plain there was no chance to get a husband. Now Naomi puts an addi-tional test upon Huth, that of giving up her religion. Ruth was equal to the occasion. Her mind was fully made up. She was willing to accept as her God the one who was able to produce in his subjects the nobility of character she had observed in Naomi. Naomi's very frankness in dealing with her caused Ruth to be more det cast her lot with her. Ruth's position was so definite and unfaltering that to us in words which "no poetry has out-rivated, and no pathos has esecceded, and which has gone three centuries with the music that will not let them be forgotten." She was determined to share Naomi's journey, her some, her lodge, her lot in life, and her grave in death, whatever that would be. To crown it all she would renounce her heathen gods and worship Jehovak.

III. Bissings Which Attended Ruth's Faithfulness. Ruth was nover sorry for her choice, because—

5. She Became a Link in the Ob of Christ's Ancestry (4:18-22 compare Matthew 1:5). The one who fully de-cides for Christ and gives up all for him shall get a hundred-fold in this life, and in the world to come, eternal
