Cherokee Camp

Fire Entertains

Thursday afternoon the Cherokee Camp Fire entertained with a "Mothers-Daughters" program at the Woman's club rooms. The guests were received by Miss Williams, the guardian. Lemonade was served by Misses Lollie Mac Westbrook, Margaret Lucas and Dorothy Driver. A program was rendered consisting of a piano solo by Miss Alice Surles, reading, Miss Merle Owen and the Highland Fling by Misses Ruth Bell, Merle Owen, Ines Pridden, Annie Hodges and Elsie Baggett. Candy was then served. The girls who made this received an honor in the home craft. After a discussion of the summer camping trip, ice cream and cake were served. The mother's were then presented with home-made gifts, made by their daughters. After singing the camp fire "Farwell Song," the program ended. Mrs. George Floyd then expressed thanks for the daughters program.

The following guests were present: Madames J. C. Bell, Mal Driver, J. G. Godard, P. H. Westbrook, George Floyd, Mac Hodges, E. S. Pearce, Fred Baggett, Misses Blanche Grantham, Agnes Cannady, Lella Curran, Mrs. Gregory of Raleigh, Gertrude Merrit and Mable Hodges.

James F. Lee Dead, Closing Useful Life

Henson, May 20.—James F. Lee died at his home here a few days ago. He was born in Linnett county, being the son of S. W. and Caroline Lee. His father died during the Civil War and he was left to earn his own living at an early age. He was educated at Salem and Burlington Institute. He taught school for several years, moved to Henson between 30 and 35 years ago, about the time the railroad was opened up here, and was manager of A. E. Rankin's store here for 11 years. From time to time he bought several farms near town and was a very successful farmer.

He married Miss Cassie Barbour, the second daughter of U. T. Barbour and Sarah Toulinson. To this union three children were born. Eugene, the eldest son, died several years ago. His wife, one son, Mr. Paul Lee, and a daughter, Miss Mary Lee, all of this place, survive, along with an unusually large host of friends throughout the section who knew him as one of the pioneers and most beloved men of the country. He lived an upright, honorable and truthful life. He was a devout Christian. In health, sickness and death he always lent a helping hand, encouraging words, bright smiles or doing anything he could to brighten the lives of others. He will be missed in this town as few men are.

The funeral services were held in the home here and concluded at the grave by Rev. A. O. Keller, Rev. A. T. Lassiter and Rev. Mr. Davis. His body was laid to rest in the Barbour cemetery, several miles from Clayton, where a large number of relatives and friends had gathered to pay their last tribute of respect. In life he was always fond of flowers and his last resting place was banked with many handsome floral offerings.

So far as economic conditions will permit, a young man should be as careful in selecting his employer as his school.

Geo. K. Grantham, well-known Dunn druggist, yesterday celebrated his sixty-first birthday. The following brothers and sisters of Mr. Grantham spent the day at the Grantham home here: Mrs. J. C. Bingham, Mrs. F. H. Parrish, Miss Alice Grantham, N. B., Ed and Walter Grantham, of Smithfield; W. H. Grantham, of Benson; Hiram Grantham, of Red Springs and Irving Grantham, of St. Pauls. One brother, Lee Grantham, of Clark, La., failed to get here. Mrs. Grantham arranged the birthday dinner for her husband and invited all his brothers and sisters, as a surprise to Mr. Grantham.

ENTRE NOUS CLUB
Madames Arthur Pope and R. G. Taylor Jr. were joint hostesses Thursday evening from 8:30 to 12 o'clock, to the members of the Entre Nous club and their husbands.

The home was beautifully decorated in spring flowers. Miss Lucille Howard and Mr. Rowland Williams served punch from a table covered in laurel. Bridge was played at seven tables. After delicious refreshments, consisting of tomato, chicken, salad, beaten biscuit, pimento sandwich, cheese balls, olives, pickles, ice tea and mints were served. Filled nuts in fainty baskets were at place of each guest. Those enjoying their hospitality were, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Young, Mr. and Mrs. Harper Holliday, Mr. and Mrs. Sansom, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Pearall, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Stephens, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Barefoot, Mr. Jerry Pearall, Mrs. Ellison Goddard, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Freeman, Misses Rachel Clifford, Lucille Howard, Lois Fetter; Messrs. Jim Davis, Rowland Williams, K. L. Howard Jr., R. G. Taylor Jr. and Arthur Pope.

MAYOR J. L. WADE FEATURED GAME

His Work On First-Base Was Chiefest Feature Of All-Star Game

If you missed it—that All Stars-high school baseball game played yesterday afternoon—you missed a baseball treat. As had been predicted, it was the crowning event of local baseball for the 1923 season—a game that was not lacking in both pep and speed.

While the high school team walked off with the even inning game to the tune of seven to three runs, the All-Stars held them a warm hand. At the end of the third inning, when the All Star pitcher, "Little Sammy" Pleishman, retired from mound duty, the score stood 3 and 3, in favor of the All Stars, as one All Star rooster put it.

One of the chiefest features of the game was the handling of first-base by Mayor J. Lloyd Wade. The mayor held first in a manner that would have been to the credit of a present day professional. He even went so far as to put out three men in one inning.

The batting record went to Ralph Koons, who failed not at the bat. Ralph also did some star field work in left field. The only accident recorded during the game came about when one of the All Star players rent the leg of his pants.

When the game was over, there was not one present who would deny the fact that it was worth what it cost—twenty-five cents.

NEILL S. BLUE INDICTED BY U. S. GRAND JURY

Raleigh, May 23.—Neill S. Blue, Cumberland county, who sold the government $350,000 worth of land for the Fort Bragg reservation, was indicted by a federal grand jury here yesterday afternoon for the alleged illegal removal of 14 miles of wire fence from the reservation. His case is expected to be tried at this term of court.

The government, in bringing action against Mr. Blue, alleges that it had paid him for the 14 miles of wire fence, which, it is charged, he later removed. The defendant contends, it is understood, that he took possession of the fence on the grounds that the settlement by the government did not include payment for the wire.

BOSTWICK REQUEST TOTAL $1,500,000

Wake Forest, May 21.—The gift of Jabez A. Bostwick to Wake Forest College, which was transferred last week after two years of litigation following the death of Mr. Bostwick's daughter, who held the bequests life tenant for 30 years, amounts to $1,500,000, it was announced here today.

The bequest, which is in the form of Standard Oil stock, has been previously estimated at from $1,350,000 to $1,375,000, but assessors who appraised the stock last week placed the present market value at $1,500,000. President W. L. Poteat, W. N. Jones, attorney for the college, and Talcott Brewer, college attorney, returned today from New York, where they received the bequest as agents of the college.

Accumulated income on the bequest amounts to about $120,000, and plans for spending this amount will be adopted by the trustees at their meeting here this week.

Browning Will Hold Revival At Lillington

Burlington, May 20.—Rev. Raymond Browning, evangelist of the Methodist Episcopal church, was in Burlington today with his tent man, Fred Seibert, shipping his tent to Lillington, where Mr. Browning will begin a meeting on Sunday, May 27th.

Rev. Carolyn Hosford, of Massachusetts, his choir director, and his pianist, Rufus Perkins, will meet the party in time to begin the meeting.

Mr. Browning held a very successful meeting in Burlington last fall, and his many friends here are wishing him success in the meeting at Lillington.

Revenge is simply low-browed vanity.
