Because Miss Sue Smith, staff photographer for The Dispatch, will leave late this week for her summer's vacation in the mountain country, The Dispatch will be glad to have those whose pictures are to appear in the special industrial issue soon to be issued call at Miss Smith's studios at once. We would like, too, to have owners of pretty homes in Dunn have Miss Smith make pictures of these homes before she leaves. We want to use several of these in the special edition. There is no time to lose on this, because Miss Smith will have none too much time to complete your orders if they are placed immediately. The special edition, by the way, will be about the most elaborate project ever undertaken by a Dunn newspaper. It will contain about fifty pages, profusely illustrated and carrying complete stories of the progress of the Dunn District in every way. This edition will go into the far places of the country to tell those who do not know just how important a community we are. For this reason we will be glad to have photographs of all the pretty dwellings we can get. Be sure to place your orders with Miss Smith now. She can be reached by telephone.

MR. AND MRS. PERRY A. JERNIGAN VISITING HERE

Perry A. Jernigan and the charming little woman who has become his bride since last he visited Dunn are here from their home in Sanford, Fla., where Mr. Jernigan is one of the leading automobile dealers of Florida. They made the trip overland, and will spend several days here with Mr. Jernigan's parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Jernigan.

Perry is one in whom Dunn and The Dispatch, particularly, have a very deep pride. He is a Dunn and a Dispatch boy. He was employed on the old Dunn Guide under J. P. Pittman, and later came to The Dispatch, except for a short time spent with the Richmond Times-Dispatch in 1918, until he went to Florida in 1920. With him to Florida went Braxton Baggitt, another Dunn youngster, who has been in business with Perry ever since.

Success has come to Perry and "Brack." Fine stories of their progress have come back home by way of every one who has seen them down there. Their business is housed in a tremendous building, which houses their offices, show rooms and service station. They own this building, and the big business which they have builded.

Dunn is glad to see Perry and to meet the little woman who has joined him for the journey through life.

Appoint Library Board

Mrs. N. A. Townsend, president of the Woman's club, has appointed the following to act as a board for the management of the Dunn Public library:

Miss Louise Williams, chairman; Mrs. J. W. Thornton, Dr. C. D. Bain and Hugh Prince.

This board is to have charge of the library, which was established by the Woman's club a few weeks ago.

The children and young people are patronizing the library, spending their vacation in reading good literature. The outlook is very promising and encouraging. Mrs. Henry Lee is librarian, and will for the present be found on duty Monday, Wednesday and Friday afternoons. The library is in the Woman's club rooms. The establishment of this library fills a need long felt in Dunn, and the library needs the support of every man and woman who is interested in Dunn's future.

Exposition to be held there in July.

BAPTISTS BEGIN WEEK OF STUDY

Fine Opening For Seaside Assembly At Morehead City

Morehead City, June 25.—The Baptist Seaside Assembly had a very auspicious opening here. Large congregations heard Dr. W. J. McGlothlin, president of Furman University, at Greenville, S. C., preach the opening sermons at the morning and evening services on the growth of faith in Jesus. Both were masterpieces. He will speak each evening during the assembly, which will last through the week.

The assembly is composed of the following members: Dr. McGlothlin, Dr. Zeno Wall, Goldsboro; Dr. O. C. Davis, Albemarle; Dr. B. W. Spilman, Kinston; Dr. C. T. Greaves, Raleigh; Professor I. E. M. Freeman, of Meredith college, Raleigh; Rev. F. A. Bower, Morganton; Harold E. Ingraham, Nashville, Tenn.; Miss Minnie Anderson, returned missionary from China; Mrs. Lydia Yates Hilliard, Raleigh; Miss Elma Farabow, Raleigh; and Mrs. Walter M. Gilmore, Sanford.

They are doing exceptionally fine work. Rev. Walter M. Gilmore, Sanford, is acting dean. It would be difficult to assemble an abler group anywhere. Each day's work is begun by early morning prayers, while immediately after breakfast simultaneous classes and conferences are held along various lines of church activities. These group meetings are followed by an inspirational address by Dr. Zeno Wall. The entire afternoon is devoted to recreation. The surf and the refreshing ocean breezes, the good fellowship and the inspiration, make this city one of the most attractive spots in North Carolina this week. Visitors are coming in ever increasing numbers from various sections of the State.

Miss Ezzell Entertains

The chief social event of the past week in Dunn was the party given on Friday evening by Miss Elizabeth Ezzell in honor of her guests. Miss Carolyn Glascock, of Greensboro, and Gladys Foust, of High Point. Following eight dancing dates, the guests then engaged in a game of bridge. Punch was served during the game, and ice cream was served later.

The invited guests were: Misses Ina Massengill, Ruby Crockett, Miss Adams, Margaret Wade, Florence Holliday, Rennie Massengill, Louise Pridden, Ruth Young, Emily Grantham, Emily Newberry, Bessie Ramsauer, Elizabeth Davis, Kathleen Holland, Lucy Pope, Mildred Shell, Christine Thompson, Allen McKay, Mayme Clyde Ross, Miss Jones; Pat Lynch, Pat Jones, Gibson Cook, Sid Wilson, Bruce Cromartie, Raymond Cromartie, Red Clifford, Willie Newberry, Midget Newberry, Thomas Hood, Ralph Snipes, Earl Dawson, Earl Westbrook, Graham Olive, Prince, Hugh Overton, Joe Wilson, Toofer Grantham, Bill Pearce, Sammie Tilghman, Runt Newberry, Louis Jeffreys, Carlyle Rowland.

The occasion provided rare entertainment for all the young people present, and will not soon be forgotten.

Little Miss Riddle Entertains

Sanford, June 23.—One of the most enjoyable lawn parties of the summer season was given Saturday, when little Mabel Reid Riddle entertained quite a number of her friends at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Riddle. The guests were greeted by the young hostess and invited to the punch bowl, which was placed in a shady nook on the lawn and was surrounded by Southern smilax and fern. After playing games, cream and cake were served by Misses Frances Riddle and Janette Widdifield. Each guest departed, voting "Baby Reid" a charming hostess.

ESCAPES DEATH TWICE IN PARACHUTE STUNT

Schenectady, N. Y., June 24.—John D. Smith, of Chicago, twice escaped death here this afternoon. Smith attempted to descend by parachute from an airplane. The parachute, failing to open, caught in the landing gear of the plane, leaving Smith hanging some 15 feet below. His attempts to climb to the cockpit were futile, and the pilot signalled that he would drop him over the Mohawk river. The aviator planned to a few feet above the water and Smith jumped. He could not swim, and sank but was pulled ashore by T. W. Geweke, patron of a swimming school nearby.
