While numerous sprinkles had fallen here during the continued drought, the ground had not been wet before since the latter part of April. The corn crop suffered most from the absence of rain and gardens have dried up. It is feared that the rain came too late to save the early planted corn, though the late corn should produce a good crop.

FALCON CAMP MEETING AUGUST 16TH TO 26TH.
"This Camp has grown to be national—D. H. Hood." And he ought to know, for he has attended every one since it was begun—in 1900, and has been in close touch with its growth and influence not only on the surrounding community, but world-wide. The preachers for this year will be as follows:
Rev. E. D. Reeves, of Roanoke, Va.; Rev. S. A. Bishop, of Birmingham, Ala.; Rev. G. F. Taylor, of Royston, Ga., Editor of The Pentecostal Holiness Advocate and Sunday School Literature; Rev. P. F. Beacham, President of Holmes Bible and Missionary Institute, Greenville, S. C.
The music will be in charge of R. E. Lee, and The Falcon Holiness School Band will also take part. This will be the twenty-fourth annual session of this international, national and denominational camp. It seems difficult for many people, and especially the newspapers to understand that this camp is not controlled by any church, and does not seek "joiners" to any particular church. In fact the only "joining" is to become a member of The Falcon Camp Meeting Association, by paying one dollar per year, and this is used for the expenses of the meeting, thus almost entirely eliminating public collections, except such as are given to the Falcon Orphanage and other phases of Christian work, including mission work, which is generally represented by some missionary returned from distant lands. Members of various churches belong to the Camp Meeting Association, and such membership in no way interferes with their church relationship. The sole object of the camp is to promote the spiritual welfare of those who attend, and send them back to their home, community and church better able to exemplify practical Christianity. Further announcement will be made soon.
A. E. ROBINSON, Secretary.

CASTER BUTLER HAD A VERY CLOSE CALL
Caster, 12-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Butler, was seriously hurt Saturday evening about 7 o'clock at the plant of the Tilghman Lumber Co., where his father is employed. The boy was playing on a fuel chain when he fell and was caught between the teeth of the chain and a sprocket. His left leg was broken both above and below the knee and the knee was crushed, while his right leg was badly bruised. The engine which pulls the fuel chain was running at slow speed and was stalled when the boy was bound between the chain and sprocket. Had the engine not stalled, his life would have been snuffed out. He was taken to a hospital in Fayetteville, and it is feared that the left leg will have to be amputated as a result of the accident. The boy had accompanied his father to the mill, and was attempting to walk on the moving chain when he missed his step and fell, it is said.

SEES NO REASON WHY FORD SHOULD NOT RUN FOR PRESIDENT
Chicago, July 14.—There is no reason why Henry Ford, Detroit manufacturer, should not enter the 1924 Presidential race if he desires to be a candidate, according to William C. McAdoo, former Secretary of the Treasury, who arrived in Chicago today on his way to New York. "The Presidential race is the great American-free-for-all," McAdoo said regarding Ford's chances. "I see no reason why he should not enter it if he desires to be a candidate." The former Treasury secretary said he had made no statement in Kansas City last night, as reported, that he had not decided if he would seek the nomination for the Presidency. He said he had not discussed politics while in Kansas City. "My trip is a business one, and it is important enough to bring me across the continent in midsummer," he said. "I am not discussing it all on this trip."

SAYS HE MADE MONEY TO PURCHASE LIQUOR
Greensboro, July 14.—James Paradise, a young white man in jail here on a charge of counterfeiting, is quoted as telling the police that all the money was good for was to buy liquor with on a dark night. He is said to have had three bogus bills in his possession at the time of his arrest, not very good counterfeit, having somewhat the soft feel of currency. Paradise was captured by a government secret agent, H. E. Thomas, after a chase that covered parts of North and South Carolina. Careless seems to have been the cause of his arrest, he having given, it is said, bills to friends who lost them in a rooming house at Bennettsville, S. C., where they were turned over to Thomas. Paradise is held for trial at the December term of Federal court here. He has been living here about a year, and is a painter. The money was made from pieces of paper bag, it is said, painted to look like the long green, but with no numerals.

Prominent in Business and Civic Affairs in Cape Fear City
Fayetteville, July 15.—E. W. Percival, prominent business man and city official of Fayetteville, died in the Highsmith hospital here this morning after an illness of several months' duration. The best medical skill of this city and of Battle Creek, Mich., whence he had but recently returned, were enlisted in the brave fight for life which he made. Mr. Percival was head of the Universal Garage Company, local representatives of the Ford interests, and Fayetteville agent for the Gulf Refining Company. He was a member of the city board of alderman. During the past spring he was prominently mentioned as candidate for mayor, but declined to make the race.
