DUNN, NORTH CAROLINA, FRIDAY, AUGUST 17, 1923.

NUMBER 40

CHARGE OF FRAUD AGAINST COOPERS

Arrest of W. B. Thos. E. And H. C. Cooper Follows The Indictment

Wilmington, August 16.—Lieutenant Governor W. B. Cooper, former chairman of the board of the defunct Commercial National Bank; his brother Thomas E. Cooper, former president; Horace C. Cooper, former cashier, and Clyde Lassiter, an automobile dealer, are at liberty today under bonds from $1,000 to $10,000 following their arrest here last night on charges of conspiracy to defraud and wreck the Commercial bank.

The specific charges against Thomas E. Cooper alleges misapplication of funds and monies of the bank, and conspiracy. Lieutenant Governor Cooper is charged with conspiring with Thos. E. Cooper, to defraud the Commercial bank of certain sums of money, and misapplication of certain funds and monies.

Horace Cooper is alleged to have misapplied funds of the bank and to have made false entries in the bank's records.

Clyde Lassiter is accused of aiding and abetting Thomas E. Cooper in the misapplication of funds.

Thomas E. Cooper is held under two bonds of $5,000 each, Lieutenant Governor Cooper's bail has been fixed at $5,000, Horace Cooper $5,000 and Lassiter $1,000.

The warrants were sworn out by District Attorney Tucker July 31 and served by United States Marshal Ward last night.

Closed 8 Months Ago The Commercial National Bank was closed on December 30, 1922, after an examination of National Bank Examiner William F. Folger, who took charge.

C. L. Williams was named receiver subsequent to the closing of the institution he reported to the controller of the currency numerous federal officials, and as a result of these reports Special Examiner H. E. Tull and assistants have been making investigation and examinations and no action against anyone was taken until this inquiry was completed.

Warrants for the Coopers and Lassiter were issued last week by United States Commissioner A. S. Williams on affidavits made by Examiner Tull, the same having been approved by United States Attorney Tucker at Raleigh.

The warrants charge conspiracy to violate section 5209 of the federal code, misapplication of funds and false entries. District Attorney Tucker has been forwarded all papers in the case but, in view of the preliminary hearing he will not come to Wilmington and the government's charges will not be presented in court until they are given to the federal grand jury in bills which are expected to be drawn at the November term.

W. B. Cooper's Statement. W. B. Cooper made the following statement this afternoon: "I returned to the city from President Harding's funeral and ran into this thing. It was the first I had heard of it. I know the government, as is customary, had been investigating the affairs of the bank. As I understand the matter, I am charged with approving a worthless note for $13,000. The records of the bank will show that the other directors approved the note along with me."

To be fully secured in the sum of $8,000 should Lieutenant Governor W. B. Cooper and his son, Horace C. Cooper, fail to appear in federal court to answer the charges filed in connection with the failure of the Commercial Bank, D. L. Gore, father-in-law and bondsman for the lieutenant-governor, has caused the latter to execute a trust deed to the Cooper home on North Fifth Street. The deed is in favor of R. B. Shepard, an employe of Mr. Gore.

COTTON FARMERS IN TEXAS GET BIG LOAN

New York, Aug. 15.—A New York banking syndicate, headed by the Seaboard National bank and Goldman, Sach and company, today completed arrangements for a large loan to the Texas farm Bureau Cotton association for the purpose of assisting in the orderly marketing of the cotton crop in that state.

The amount of the loan was not disclosed, but it was understood it will total at least $20,000,000 and may be substantially more, depending upon the size of the crop and the market price for the product.

SANFORD EDITOR HAS VERY NARROW ESCAPE

Sanford, Aug. 15.—P. J. Brown, newspaper editor and manager, miraculously escaped death today, when his motorcar turned over, about three miles from town.

He was returning from Raleigh to Sanford driving about 25 miles an hour, and he reached a curve in the road, saw a wagon just in front and a car filled with women and children, passing the wagon.

Seeing a collision inevitable, unless he could stop, he applied the breaks and the car stopping suddenly, skidded, faced toward Raleigh and went over an embankment.

He has not a bruise and the machine was repaired in time for him to return to Raleigh today to take part in the marriage of Miss Flora Sholes and Solomon L. Homewood, at the church of the Good Shepherd, at 5 p. m.

DRIVES OFF BRIDGE AND KILLS TWO MEN.

Whitakers, Aug. 16.—John Quarrels, colored driving a car, drove over the rail of a bridge between here and Glenville, a suburb of Whitakers, instantly killing himself and his brother and fatally injuring another negro from Warrenton, whose name has not yet been learned. It is thought that the driver had fallen to sleep and thus lost control of the car.

Carl Jones has accepted a position as a salesman in M. H. Dibs ice cream parlor. He began work Monday.

SERIOUS CHARGE BROUGHT BY LEE

Says Prominent Men Are Collecting Pensions of Deceased Veterans

Spring Branch, (Dunn, R. I.) Aug. 15.—There has lately been brought that the devil himself might blush to be accused of. Happenings that the sovereign people of the State of North Carolina should not, and I believe will not, allow to continue.

You probably know that a certain sum of money is appropriated and paid out of the State's funds in pensions every six months for the Civil War veterans. You know some of them. The number is rapidly diminishing. That gray line, which for four years withstood the larger forces of Northern troops, swelled by the addition of hired butchers, rapists and incendiaries from the four corners of the earth, is fast giving way before the invincible enemy of all flesh—disease and time, which will shortly bring the last sturdy old frame low in death.

The State cannot afford to do less than try to make the last days of those faithful old soldiers comfortable, and this the State is faithfully trying to do. But owing to the rapid decrease of the number of "old soldiers" by death, it seems that an occasional revision of the pension list and re-appropriation of the appropriations among those left alive would be proper. That this matter is not properly attended to is easily proven by the simple method of looking at the list of dead kept by the bureau of vital statistics and then through the pension list. Easy, isn't it?

Or to settle a local question, just go read the inscriptions on the tombstones and then read the records kept by the clerk of the Superior court in Sampson county. You will then see why some of your neighbors can ride while you walk. Three veterans who lived in this community have been dead for several years; yet the State continues to pay each of them $52.50 every six months. This money, the records show, has been collected by two well-known citizens of this community. Now in all fairness, I ask, is this right?

I freely admit my own ignorance with regard to the proper adjustment of such matters, but somebody knows and should look more closely into the use and distribution of public money. A recent grand jury was informed of these things. Solicitor Powers has been informed orally, while Judge Gandy was sent a polite, neatly written, statement of the condition of affairs.

Now it is for you, Mr. Public, to say whether or not you will allow your servants in office to throw away your money in this, or any other manner. If you doubt my word look for yourself.

F. P. Giles and Daniel R. Lee, of R. 1 from Dunn, were among the visitors in town Wednesday.

BLIND MAN SAYS HE MADE WHISKEY

Sixty-Gallon Copper Still Found In Home Of Blind Man

The unusual happened yesterday afternoon when local officers arrested a blindlger who is actually blind. Tommie McLamb, who has been totally blind for a number of years, was arrested after the officers had captured a copper still of 60-gallons capacity in his home, four miles north-west of Dunn. Between four and five gallons of whiskey and two barrels of beer were also found in the blind man's home.

The still was set up for operation in an old kitchen within a few feet of the McLamb residence. The surroundings indicated that it had been in operation just a short time before the officers reached the scene. The still was a dandy copper outfit and it is thought that it had been operated in the building for several months.

McLamb, who is a man of some fifty summers, admitted to the officers that he had done what operating had been done, which raises the question can a blind man operate a whiskey still? According to the story which he told the officers, he owed some money on his farm and had decided to make and sell whiskey to pay off the indebtedness. He made bond for his appearance in Federal court to answer to the charge of manufacturing whiskey.

The officers making the raid, capture and arrest were A. B. Adams, special prohibition agent, and Deputies L. W. Tart and Carl Matthews.

FOUR DROWN IN OLD ROCK QUARRY

Father And Three Sons Lose Lives In Small Pool Of Water

Spartanburg, S. C., Aug. 16.—Samuel W. Rogers, of Pascolet, shipping clerk of the Pascolet Manufacturing company, and his three sons were drowned in an abandoned rock quarry pool near Pascolet some time this afternoon, but the tragedy was unknown until near midnight, when the bodies of Mr. Rogers and a small son were found floating in the pool of water by a firm grasp upon the hair of his father's head and both were dead when discovered.

The dead are: Samuel W. Rogers, 40; Samuel W. Rogers, Jr., 13; John L. Rogers, 11; and James Rogers, five.

This was the first day of Mr. Rogers' vacation period and he took his sons on an outing while Mrs. Rogers remained at the family home in Pascolet mill village. Mr. and Mrs. Rogers were preparing to leave tomorrow morning for Hartsville, S. C., to visit Mrs. Rogers' family.

Dr. Kerpatrick, a physician of Pascolet, one of the first to reach the abandoned quarry, stated tonight that, with the assistance of others, he floated the dead father and the youngest boy to the bank and quickly ascertained that there was no hope of resuscitation.

The bodies of the other boys were found on the bottom of the pool and were recovered after considerable effort, Dr. Kerpatrick stated.

The bodies of the other boys, the physician said, were attired in bathing suits, but that of the youngest child was in rompers, while Mr. Rogers was only partly undressed. As no eye-witnesses have been found the full circumstances surrounding the tragedy are unknown.

The quarry is filled with clear water and granite and occasionally has been used as a swimming pool.

Mr. Rogers has been in the employ of the Pascolet Manufacturing company for the past 15 years.

106 DISTILLERIES AND 21 AUTOMOBILES TAKEN

Salisbury, Aug. 14.—One hundred and six distilleries; 1,115 gallons of spirits; 84,446 gallons of malt liquor and 21 automobiles were captured during July by federal prohibition agents operating in North Carolina, according to figures obtained today from the office here of A. B. Coltrane, prohibition director of the state.

Arrests totalling 74 were made while 170 prosecutions were recommended. Value of the automobiles seized was estimated at $5,925; the total appraised value of property seized and destroyed amounted to $35,975.30. The value of property seized and not destroyed was placed at $5,808.

DUKE BASEBALLERS WHIP LILLINGTON IN SNAPPY CONTEST

Smoky Joe Cavanaugh Takes Small End of 3-0 Contest On Local Lot

GRAND OLD MAN TOM SEAWELL IS A STAR

Mill Town fellows wallop Joe For fourteen hits, although Veteran White, Dorman Gets Flunk Home Run Into Pea-Patch, Jones Hurts Well.

(By Puddin' Jake.)

All the smoke of Smoky Joe Cavanaugh was not enough to smoke Grandpappy Tom Seawell and his husky buddies from their lair Wednesday afternoon when Joe and Lillington's baseball hopefuls against the Duke aggregation on the local lot for the deciding contest of the Harnett Co. championship series. The Duke fellows touched Joe for fourteen hits and four runs, while the Lillington outfit was able to gather only five biggies for three tallies from Jones' delivery.

Really the fellows from the county seat would have fared less well had Dorman's short cut to right not bounded into the pea patch and been lost to the hectic game of Parker, who was not able to recover the sphere until Dorman alone on the heels of Nell Seawell had crossed the pan and had himself credited with a home run.

This untoward incident came in the first inning, just after Seawell had laced out a hit, after that the Lillingtonians were able to register only three hits, and most of them the flunkies of Seawell, who appeared in the fifth. Gardner, who was a pass; Carl Wilson, drafted into the service of Lillington from the county seat, but Jones' delivery was the attempt to dismount, under the auspices and guise of Masonry, the propaganda of the Klan. An audience of less than 150 people heard Judge Orison deliver his address at the opera house tonight. Mayor Edgar H. Bain was on the platform with the judge. Nothing spectacular developed. Intensely hot weather, which kept the few persons present in a state of extreme discomfort, probably materially reduced the attendance.

Duke Hits Freely.

Meantime Duke had gotten next to Smoky Joe's slants in the first inning Archie Woodworth and Norris singled in succession, but Parker's grounder was copped by Byrd and shot to Wilson for the third out, leaving both runners high and dry. McKay, first up to the second, singled, but Seawell hit into an easy double play, Blalock to Wilson. Another chance came in the third when Jones banged out a single, but Zachary and B. Woodworth hoisted infield flies and Archie Woodworth struck out.

Until the fourth inning Lillington had all the luck. Duke was doing most of the hitting, but it wasn't getting anywhere. Norris came to the bat in the fourth with blood in his eye. He had the bloody eyes on the pea patch, but his hot line drive got no further than the pitcher's stand, where, although he stuffed it, Cavanaugh retrieved in time to catch the runner at first. Then Parker shot a sharp single through the infield, to be followed by McKay with a short fly to left. Then appeared the mighty Seawell, swinging his wicked bludgeon. Thomas' fouled seven balls and then clouted a counter that sent Parker across for Duke's first run. While McLamb was striking out, McKay stole home for the next run. Then Pitcher Jones brought Tom home with his second hit of the afternoon. Zach ended Smoky Joe's agony with a fly to Wilson, Duke having forged ahead 3-0.

Caviness Stumbles.

Caviness settled down after the fourth, although B. Woodworth's hit and errors by Young and Blalock in the fifth came near to spilling more beans for the former Piedmont star. With runners on second and third he fanned Parker and McKay in succession. The real damage came on the seventh when Zachary singled and was sacrificed to second by B. Woodworth and sent off third on A. Woodworth's single. With Norris at bat, Zach attempted to steal home. The pitched ball and the runner arrived simultaneously, but Norris bunted the ball. Norris forgot to run, but he saved Zach's hide for the winning tally anyway.

Dunn Enjoys Game.

It was a great little old ball game; a thrilling session of the national pastime for all the tired business men of Dunn and the surrounding country. The presence of Tom Seawell, the veteran who was playing Class AA amateur baseball when Bud Pope was in the third grade of the local school and who was a seasoned player when "Old Panic" Shell was a beginner, was a welcome sight to the old fellows who like to see evidence that they ain't so old. Tom, as youthful as the youngest, was out there covering as much ground as any of them. Nothing got by him.

Dunn, now, too, for the first time, the young brother of Archie Woodworth in action. The kid was there with the willow and figured in the run getting.

MASONS REMOVE KU KLUX SPEAKER

Goldboro Klansmen Stage Meeting of Their Own

Goldboro, Aug. 14.—A stroke of strategy was nipped in the bud when the name of Judge Charles J. Orison, of Indianapolis, was stricken from the list of speakers to be heard here at tonight's big meeting of Sixth District Masons. It is rumored that the plan was conceived by one or two local members of the Ku Klux Klan, who are also members of the Masonic order.

Knowing that Judge Orison was a Klan lecturer, it is alleged that these gentlemen communicated with Dr. W. C. Wicker, educational field secretary for the Masons, requesting that the Judge be included in the local Masonic meeting program, making their request as Masons. After a number of articles concerning tonight's Masonic meeting, in which Judge Orison was featured as a Mason and one of the speakers, were published in local and State newspapers, there appeared in Monday's News and Observer and Advertiser stating that Judge Orison would deliver in Raleigh Wednesday night, under the auspices of the Raleigh Klan, the same address—as he was scheduled to make here tonight and which he will deliver at Klan meetings in five different cities of this State.

Dr. Wicker when informed by local Masons of the contention, immediately cancelled Judge Orison's proposed participation in tonight's Masonic meeting, not wishing the impression left with the public that the Masonic order was sponsoring Klan activities. The Goldboro Klan then arranged to have Judge Orison deliver his lecture at a Klan meeting to be held in the Messenger Opera House at the same hour as scheduled for the Masonic meeting, to which the public was invited.

Two-Cent Reduction Announced; Price Shaking War Still Goes On

New York, Aug. 15.—The gasoline price cutting war that has been underway for some time in Mid-

retail prices were reduced in some states 6.6 cents a gallon, spread yesterday to the entire Atlantic Seaboard. Led by the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey, four large oil companies announced cuts of one to two cents a gallon in the tank wagon price of gasoline.

The wholesale price after the reduction will average 19 1-2 cents a gallon and the retail price 23.

The cuts do not bring prices in the Seaboard states to the pre-war level in the case in Western and Southern states, but further reductions are expected if the price of crude oil drops as has been predicted in many quarters.

The Standard Oil Company of New Jersey announced a reduction in the tank wagon price of gasoline of two cents a gallon in West Virginia, North Carolina and South Carolina and Virginia, and one cent a gallon in New Jersey, District of Columbia and Maryland.

The Gulf Refining Company later extended its one cent reduction to New York and New England, making its price 19 1-2 cents a gallon.

Following the lead of the Standard Oil Company, the Texas Company also announced cuts in Virginia, West Virginia, North and South Carolina, the reductions ranging from one cent in some districts to 2 in others.

GULLEDGE IS NEW COLLEGE LIBRARIAN

Raleigh, Aug. 15.—James Ratliff Gullledge, a native of Anson county, has been elected librarian at State college. Dr. E. C. Brooks announced today. He will assume his new duties September 1, succeeding Mrs. Charlotte M. Williamson, of Raleigh, who has acted as the head of the college library for the last several years. Mrs. Williamson will continue in her position as assistant librarian.

Mr. Gullledge comes to the college with fine training and experience at a time when the institution is undergoing a market expansion in its library facilities to keep pace with the growth in other departments. He was prepared for college in the graded schools of Albemarle, where he spent his boyhood, and at Weaverville college. Entering Trinity college in the fall of 1911, he was graduated with the class of 1915, receiving the degree, A. B.

and the outcome was pleasing to the majority of the customers.

Summary: Home runs, Dorman; sacrifice hits, Caviness, Norris, B. Woodworth; struck out by Caviness, 9; by Jones, 4; bases on balls, Jones 2; stolen bases McKay; double play, Blalock to Wilson. Umpire Holliday; attendance 400. Time of game 1 hour and 55 minutes.

YOUTH KILLED WHEN TWO AUTOS COLLIDE

Wilmington, Aug. 16.—C. F. Williams, Jr., 19 years old, died today ten minutes after being buried from the automobile in which he was riding with Walter Hatch against the windshield of another machine, which rammed the Hatch car.

The lad's jugular vein was severed. Hatch submitted to a transfusion of blood in an effort to save the boy's life and is himself in a serious condition.

LEAVES BABY IN HANDS OF WOMAN IN KINSTON

Goldboro, Aug. 15.—A young man giving his name as Will Herring and his home as Goldboro, Sunday morning left an eighteen months old baby with a lady on Madison street, Kinston, saying "that he would return shortly." Thirty-two hours have passed and the man has failed to return. He is believed to be Roy Harper, who jumped bail bond here, as one of the women with him had two babies.

Farmers Get $90 a Month in 1922.

About half of the farmers in the United States received less than $90 a month in 1922 by way of return on the money and labor they invested in the business of furnishing the country with agricultural products, according to Nathan Straus Jr., chairman of the Agricultural Committee of the New York State Senate. The average farmer's income in 1922 was $1,211, compared with $1,456 in 1919.

GAS PRICE CUTS HIT THIS STATE

Two-Cent Reduction Announced; Price Shaking War Still Goes On New York, Aug. 15.—The gasoline price cutting war that has been underway for some time in Mid-

WOMAN KILLED IN AUTO ACCIDENT

Chadbourne Lady Killed When Car Is Wrecked—Two Others Injured

Lumberton, Aug. 15.—Mrs. Leslie McCumbee, Chadbourne, is dead; J. C. Carter, her brother-in-law is in a sanitarium here, badly injured and a small boy is being treated in Chadbourne as a result of an automobile wreck which occurred on the Wildcat highway five miles west of Chadbourne, Columbus county, this afternoon about 4:30.

According to Carter, the accident occurred on the main highway as he was traveling at a moderate rate of speed when the steering gear went wrong and the car turned turtle. When he got out from under the wreckage he saw Mrs. McCumbee lying in the middle of the road still breathing.

A big car containing C. M. Grady, V. B. Person and A. J. Branson, of Fayetteville, came up just after the time of the accident and brought the woman on to Lumberton to the hospital but she had died on the way. A fracture at the base of the brain caused death.

BROWN PLEADS GUILTY TO IMMORALITY CHARGE

Greensboro, Aug. 14.—Paul B. Brown, of Danville, Va., Monday was fined $300 in municipal court on a charge of immorality arising from his connection with Mrs. J. B. Groves and also of Danville, who shot and killed herself in a room that was occupied by Brown in the O. Henry hotel here Saturday evening. Brown pleaded guilty to the immorality charge. He was absent when the woman ended her life. The woman's husband Monday took the body to Henderson, her old home, for burial.

SINCLAIR DIRECTS N'BRAYER INQUIRY

Tells Hoke County Grand Jury To Investigate Charges At Sanatorium

Raeford, Aug. 14.—Acting under direct instructions contained in Judge N. A. Sinclair's charge on the opening of the August term of court here yesterday a committee from the Hoke county grand jury today went to the State Sanatorium to investigate allegations of violations of the criminal statutes of North Carolina. Their report has not yet been made to the court.

Legislative investigation had developed the charge that Dr. L. B. McBrayer, superintendent of the institution, had violated the criminal code. Judge Sinclair told the grand jury. He wanted a thorough investigation made of the place, and directed that if their judgment there was grounds for indictment then indictments should be returned.

Here for his first term of court since he was elevated to the bench Judge Sinclair made a profound impression in his charge. He went after hooded lawlessness vigorously declaring that the courts must be the only arbiters of justice in this State, and that any attempt at private punishment should be dealt with sternly. He did not mention any suggestion by name, but his informants were very plain.

The report of the grand jury on the Sanatorium is not expected before Thursday. Dr. McBrayer, who was mentioned specifically by Judge Sinclair in his charge, was brought under the spotlight several months ago when a resolution calling for an investigation of the institution was fought through the General Assembly, and a committee named to conduct the inquiry.

After more than a week of examination of witnesses the committee adjourned to allow time for the filing of indictments. Their decision was announced, but found that Dr. McBrayer had violated the State law prohibiting trading with himself, but held that there was no moral turpitude in the violation. The committee recommended the retention of Mr. McBrayer and the dismissal of some of his staff. The report has not yet been transmitted by the Governor, it is understood here. The Sanatorium is about 12 miles from Raeford.
