

A GREAT DEMAND FOR AUTOMOBILES

Local Buick Dealer Sold Six Cars Yesterday And They Are Beauties

Prosperity is with us. Neill Green, Buick dealer, furnishes the evidence and gives the testimony.

Six cars were acquired of Neill by Dunn District folks in a single day—Thursday. Four of these were new Buicks; others were old cars traded in recently for other new Buicks.

Lofitt Tart, Ike Smith, Walter C. Baker, Charley Aycock—these were purchasers of the new cars. The second hand machines went to colored farmers who need the new to ride.

These new Buick cars are beauties, by the way. Nothing prettier has found its way to Dunn in many moons. They have all the new and pretty doodads boasted by the higher-priced vehicles and are equipped with four-wheel brakes and all that sort of thing. A fellow wouldn't be ashamed to park one of these beauties beside the most elegant of foreign and special designs.

Mr. Green stated yesterday that not since 1919 had business been so good in the automobile business locally. Demand for new cars is so great that he recently has been compelled to borrow cars from dealers outside of the prosperous regions around Dunn. Even then his factory shipments have not been sufficient to supply the immediate demand.

Cotton Co-Ops Open Office in Charlotte

Raleigh, Sept. 24—Recognizing the importance of Charlotte as a logical distributing point for North and South Carolina, particularly in the cotton industry, General Manager U. B. Blacklock spent several days in Charlotte this week, together with Fred T. Haas, Assistant Head Classifier. The result was that a classing office was opened to be known as classing department "B" of the North Carolina Cotton Growers Cooperative Association. Mr. Haas will direct control of the office, and with the assistance of other classifiers and the necessary office help will not only control the classing of all cotton concentrated at Charlotte, but the classing department "B" will very likely include all the warehouses in that section of North Carolina west of the Pee Dee river. More cotton was concentrated in Charlotte last year by the Cotton Association than at any one point, and it is expected that still more will be concentrated there this season.

CELEBRATES HIS SPIRITUAL BIRTH

Once Notorious Drunkard Celebrates First Anniversary of Transformed Life

Something took place last Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Mills, of the Hearne Heights section of Albemarle, unlike anything ever heard of before in this county, says the Stanly News-Herald. It was a spiritual birthday dinner given by Mrs. Mills, in honor of the first anniversary of his conversion. Mr. Mills, known over the entire county as "Bill," is about 55 or 60 years of age. Up to a year ago he drank excessively and was in many ways a rather notorious character. One year ago last Sunday he was converted, and since that date he has been attending church regularly, is working faithfully and has revolutionized his home and home life entirely. He immediately joined the Presbyterian church, and never misses a service when in the city. He is at present working in Hamlet, coming home once a week. Some weeks ago he intimated to his wife that he would like to celebrate his first spiritual birthday anniversary, in some way. Mrs. Mills, remembering the expression, made ready for the celebration last Sunday with a great dinner. She invited Rev. D. L. Green, Mr. Mills' pastor, and the members of the session of the Presbyterian church, together with a number of relatives. It was a surprise to Mr. Mills when he came home Sunday morning to find a large number of his relatives and friends gathered at his home. In addition to the fine dinner which Mrs. Mills had made ready for the occasion, regular religious services, in the nature of a thanksgiving, was held. Mr. Mills' pastor, Rev. D. L. Green, Mr. J. M. Harris and other members of the church session, made talks. Mr. Mills, himself, made a beautiful talk in which he reviewed his "wasted life," and told of what Christ had done to make him and his family happy, and how his home had been changed entirely since his conversion a year ago. Those who had the good fortune to be present have been heard to say that the occasion was a most inspiring and delightful one.

Plow Under Cotton Stalks Before Frost

(By W. Bruce Mabey.)
Raleigh, Sept. 24—One of the most important steps in boll weevil control is the plowing under of cotton stalks early in the fall. There are two main reasons for this:
1. It destroys a large number of young and immature weevils in the squares and young bolls still remaining on the cotton plants. Were these permitted to mature and feed they would better withstand the winter than the older weevils.

2. The plowing under of cotton stalks removes the weevils' food, thus making it longer from the time they have their last meal in the fall until they have their first meal in the spring. Consequently many more die during the winter.

This is only effective when the stalks are plowed under or destroyed before they die naturally. Its effectiveness is in direct proportion to the length of time the stalks are plowed under before frost. Make a special effort to get your cotton picked out early and the stalks turned under.

It is a hard job to cut and turn under green stalks, but it is worth the trouble if you do it early.
