

LOCAL

S. R. McDaniel of Fairmont was a Dunn visitor Tuesday afternoon. Jack Lee arrived in Dunn Thursday and will spend some time here with relatives.

The banks of Dunn will be closed Monday, November 12th (to observe Armistice Day).

M. E. Barefoot, who lives on R. 2 from Dunn, was among the visitors in town yesterday.

Mrs. Robert Swain went yesterday to Greensboro, where she will spend a few days visiting friends.

Born: To Mr. and Mrs. Jesse M. Wilson, at their home in Hamlet this week, a daughter, Dorothy Jean.

A special Armistice Day program will be rendered at the First Baptist Sunday school Sunday morning at 9:45. All ex-service men are invited to be present.

A large number of local people have attended the Sampson county Fair at Clinton this week. The Fair is said to be one of the best ever put on in Clinton.

Tyrus O. Naylor has been appointed by Postmaster W. D. Holland as carrier on Route 4 from Dunn, pending a civil service examination, succeeding his father, the late Geo. W. Naylor.

Aileen, 15-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Columbus Weaver, who live near Dunn, died Wednesday morning at 4 o'clock. The funeral was conducted Wednesday afternoon and interment was made in the family cemetery.

The fire company was called out late Tuesday afternoon on account of a blaze at the home of J. M. Henry on South Layton avenue. The fire started from a stove fire. The flames were extinguished by the use of chemicals before much damage had been done.

A 9-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. William Blackman, who lives in the Eosh Hill section of Sampson county, had his right arm broken below the elbow Monday afternoon in a fight with some other boys while on the way home from school. He was knocked, or pushed, into a ditch and fell on his arm, it is said.

G. W. Butler has leased the store building owned by Mayor J. Lloyd Wade on West Broad street and expects to move his meat market into the building about December 1. The building is being remodeled on the inside. Mr. Butler has purchased new equipment for his market and these will be installed in the new location.

The concert given by the Marion Quartet in the local opera house Tuesday evening was witnessed by a small crowd. The concert was well worth the price of admission and the small number present were delighted with the musical program rendered. This concert was the first number of a Redpath lyceum attraction booked for Clinton and put on here because of the fact that the Sampson county Fair was on there.

The printing plant of the Falcon Publishing Company has recently been moved from Falcon into the P. T. Massengill building, East Cumberland street, formerly occupied by the American Railway Express Co. A. E. Robinson is manager of the business and will conduct a job and periodical printing business. He will also publish the Apostolic Evangel, a semi-monthly religious journal which has been published at Falcon for a number of years.

Special Program At Opera House Monday

A special Armistice Day program will be rendered in the local opera house Monday morning at 10 o'clock. The program is being arranged by the Women's club, the U. D. C. and the D. A. R. of Dunn. The fact that these three organizations have combined in preparing the program means that a fitting and interesting celebration of this memorable day will be provided. The public is invited to attend.

Monday is to be observed as "tag day" in Dunn, the proceeds of the tag sale to go towards paying for a suitable memorial to the young men of this section who saw service in the United States army and navy during the World War. It is fitting that some tablet or monument be erected in Dunn to the memory of those who went to war and did not return and those who went and did return. No doubt the citizens generally will buy a tag and thus aid the promoters in this worthy and patriotic undertaking.

FIRST BAPTIST

Special Armistice Day services will be conducted at the First Baptist church Sunday evening. Special talks and features will be of interest. The pastor will speak on "The Highest Patrioticism." All ex-service men and the public is cordially invited.

Otto Hughes of Craven county won first prize as the best judge of livestock among the club boys at the State Fair. William Capel of Montgomery county won second place. Among the teams, the one from Montgomery county won first place.

DUNN IS SWAMPED BY FAYETTEVILLE

Local Football Eleven Loses Championship Game Thirteen To Six

(Reported)

The Dunn football team was defeated by Fayetteville last Friday at the Fayetteville Fair ground by the score of 13 to 6. Although closely-played the game was the hardest-fought the locals have engaged in this season. The local boys fought and fought desperately, but the breaks of the game, together with Fayetteville's greater experience, was too much for the locals.

The first-half of the game was all Dunn's, Fayetteville never getting the ball past midfield but once and then to the locals' 40-yard line. In this period, Dunn made two first downs, while Fayetteville failed to make any. It was also in this period that Dunn threatened to score. Having advanced the ball to Fayetteville's 15-yard line, on straight line plunges, Rudy Wilson went over tackle for 6 yards, but Dunn was penalized 15 yards for holding, bringing the ball back to Fay's 30-yard line. On the next play, Dunn was unsuccessful in making a pass and the half ended with the ball in Fay's possession on their 35 yard line.

Fayetteville's first touchdown came at the beginning of the fourth quarter. After they had advanced the ball from Dunn's 45-yard line on a long forward pass and off-tackle plays, Remberg carried the ball through guard for the touchdown. McDuffie added the extra point by a neat drop-kick.

Immediately after this touchdown, Fayetteville kicked off and recovered their own kick-off. Then, after recovering two Dunn fumbles and collecting two forward passes, they carried the ball over again on a pass, layton to Barnes. McDuffie's drop kick for extra was blocked.

Dunn's touchdown came directly after this play. Fayetteville kicked off to Anderson, Dunn's hefty left tackle, on Dunn's thirty yard line. Andy, by crossing and recrossing his left and clever broken field running, planted the ball over the goal for a touchdown and awakened new hope in the Dunn supporters' breasts.

'Twas short-lived however, as time was out after about two more minutes of play. Newberry's try for extra point by drop-kick failed. The bright lights in the Dunn line were, Snead, Anderson, and Capt. Godwin played his consistent game at center. Newberry and Wilson were the chief ground gainers in the Dunn backfield. Anderson's touchdown was the most spectacular play of the game.

In the Fay line, Capt. Andrews and Barnes played the best games, while backfield honors went to Raynor and Remberg. Fay's quarterback, ran his team well, made two nice end runs and was on the receiving end of several passes. Remberg was most instrumental in his team's victory; his passing and line-plunging being of high order.

Although roughly-played, the game was surprisingly free from serious injuries. For the locals, Coats had a sprained thumb and Jackson, C. had to be taken from the game in the third quarter on account of being hit on several of his many boils. For Fayetteville, Shuford, Leatherwood and Andrews sustained minor injuries while Remberg had to be carried to the hospital. At last reports his condition was reported much-improved. The game was played before a crowd of approximately 700, about one hundred and fifty Dunn fans going down. Dunn's next game is with Ingold high school at Clinton Fair the afternoon.

Considerable increase in the degree of infestation by the European corn borer in Ohio has been noted during the past month in the infested territory, states a report to the United States Department of Agriculture. One field has been observed which yielded as high as 17 per cent of the stalks infested. No definite indication has yet been found that the insect will be two-brooded this season under Ohio conditions.

$5,000 FIRE HITS THE PARKER FARM

Mrs. T. A. Parker Loses Two Barns, Cow And Much Feed In Blaze

Fire thought to have started from a short circuit in a Ford car destroyed two large barns, $800 worth of cotton, an automobile, about 100 bales of oats, one cow, a large supply of hay and practically all the 1923 corn crop of Mrs. Troy A. Parker, who lives three miles north-east of Dunn, Wednesday night.

The fire was discovered about midnight when the voluntary blowing of the electric horn on a Ford coupe owned by L. V. Parker attracted Mrs. Parker. However, the fire had made such headway that it was impossible to save the barns and it took half work on the part of the family and neighbors to have the dwelling near the barns saved. The estimated property loss is approximately $5,000, with no insurance.

L. V. Parker, son of Mrs. Parker, who works in Dunn, went home about 10 o'clock Wednesday night and drove his car into one of the barns. The fact that the electric horn on the car was blowing when Mrs. Parker was awakened caused the belief that the fire started from a short circuit in the car.

As soon as the fire was discovered Mr. Parker used the telephone in calling the neighbors to their assistance and in a few minutes quite a crowd had gathered. About ten cords of wood which had recently been placed between the barns and the residence caught on fire and had it not been for the efficient and faithful work of the crowd the flames would most likely have reached the dwelling and other buildings belonging to Mrs. Parker.

Practically all the corn grows this year on the Parker farm had recently been housed in one of the barns, both of which were two-story structures, and filled with corn, hay, oats and other feed.

On a recent visit to New York Mrs. Harding attended the first performance of a new play. At the end of the play the young playwright was presented to her, and she said: "I like your comedy very much, indeed, and I shall send all my friends to see it."

DUKE NEWS

Duke, Nov. 8.—Plans have been completed for one of the largest Armistice Day celebrations to be held on next Sunday afternoon at Duke in the Erwin park that has ever been held in this section. Arthur Whitely, director of the Erwin concert band, chairman of the committee for the exercises of the day. Mr. Whitely has announced the mailing of invitations to all ex-service men of all branches of the service inviting them to be present next Sunday in uniform if convenient.

Lieutenant Cole K. Burgess, formerly State Adjutant of the American Legion, will be the speaker of the day. Mr. Burgess is a very entertaining speaker and his address here on Armistice Day will be worth listening in addition to Mr. Burgess' address, the Erwin Concert band will render several patriotic selections, some of those made famous during the late war. A cordial invitation has been extended to the public to come and help celebrate the signing of one of the most famous documents in the history of the world.

The first district meeting of the Woman's Auxiliary of the Raleigh Wesleyan met in the St. Stephen's Episcopal church last Saturday and carried out the following program:

The meeting came to order at 10 o'clock with a celebration of the Holy Communion, followed with an address of welcome to the visiting delegate, by Mrs. E. H. Best of the Duke church. Mrs. Samuel Lawrence, of Raleigh, and chairman of the district presided over the assembly.

The address by Mrs. T. B. Bickett, Diocesan president, was one which was full of food for thought and growth. Her address was one of the features of the meeting, and one that was very inspiring and helpful.

A large number of those from Raleigh, Rocky Mount, Charlotte Chapel Hill and Selma were here for the district meeting. After the session was over the ladies of the Duke church served a very delicious luncheon to the visiting delegates at the Duke public library.

When livestock dealers, and sheep, are sold on the market, it usually means that producers force on the buyer more than he wants and therefore he is compelled to buy it at lower price. By cooperative shipping the man with a few animals, less than a carload, can get the same freight rates and price as a market where the buyers want the stock.—The Progressive Farmer.

The Game Friday.

(By A. Spectator)

The boys played an exceedingly plucky game Friday. The backfield entered the game without a man being in condition physically to play. Had they been in condition to play, the score would have been different. However, they're not offering this as an alibi. They admit they were beaten fairly by a team that got ALL the breaks. And now they want to play Fay. In Dunn, as soon as Sanford gets through with them. Look out Fay.

Oh! Andy Anderson certainly did look good on his 70 yard dash for a touchdown. The way that boy crossed and recrossed his field and zig-zagged and dodged his way through the entire Fay team was spectacular, to speak mildly. 'Twas a nice run of which he should feel justly proud.

And speaking of individual stars, George Snead was there with bells on. Time after time Snead broke through Fay's line and threw their backs for losses. And on Andy's touchdowns, after clipping one man, Snead looked up and saw a Fay man in Andy's wake. Although handicapped by about ten yards, Snead

How true out behind them and overtook the tackler before he could get Andy. Snead is about the fastest of foot seen around these parts lately.

The result of the game Friday may be contributed to the breaks of the game going to Fayetteville and to the Dunn team's inexperience, mostly to the former. Any team that recovers three of its opponents' fumbles, intercepts two forward passes, recovers its own kickoff, and has the good fortune of seeing its opponents penalized fifteen yards when only nine yards were needed for a touchdown, should be considered extremely lucky and well-nigh invincible in the particular game that these happenings occur in. These are exactly the breaks that favored Fayetteville and beat Dunn Friday.

D. H. S. has played three games this season, winning two and losing one. They have scored 21 points to their opponents 12.

Nervous Break-Down

MRS. ANNIE LANGRISH, of R. F. D. 1, Burlington, Tex., writes as follows regarding her experience with Cardui: "Some time ago I had a nervous breakdown of some kind. I was very weak and so nervous. I had fainting spells and suffered a great deal, but more from the weak, tremble, no-account feeling than anything else. I knew I needed a tonic, and needed it badly. I began the use of Cardui to see if I couldn't get some strength, as I knew of other cases that had been helped by it.

me. I soon saw a great improvement, so I kept it up. I had seven bottles of Cardui, and my strength was well spent, my I grew well and strong. Am now able to do all my housework and a great deal of work besides." If you are weak, all-down, nervous and suffer from the ailments peculiar to women, it is very likely that Cardui will help you, in the way it helped Mrs. Langrish and has helped thousands of others, during the past 40 years. Ask for, and insist on, Cardui.
