MISS SHAFFER TO SPEAK HERE DEC. 3

Will Address Ladies On Subject of Budgets And A Household Schedule

Miss Blanch E. Shaffer, dean of home economics at North Carolina Colleges for women will talk to the Women of Dunn on Monday afternoon, December 3, at 3 o'clock in the Woman's Club rooms.

It is through the combined efforts of the home economics department of the Woman's club and the home economics department of the Dunn high school that Miss Shaffer comes to Dunn.

Some one has aptly said, "It is not what is made, but what is said that counts." Miss Shaffer's subject will be one of vital interest to every one. She will talk on "Budgets and a Household Schedule."

The home maker has a business to run. Why shouldn't she have a plan by which to run that business? Uncle Sam has a yearly budget for running the United States government. The cities and towns have their budgets planned by the year. The business man in every line of endeavor plans how he will spend his money. If all of these people plan how they can spend their yearly incomes so as to get the most satisfaction and make the most money, is it less important in a home to make everybody happy.

Home making is a business and women must learn this business of spending carefully. Men learn the earning business when they go down town to earn the family income. Women must learn the spending business, since they are the spenders as a rule, of the family money.

In these days of scarcity of servants women not only have to plan and spend wisely the money earned but they have to plan and do more, if not all, of the house work themselves.

Miss Shaffer will show you how to make a budget of function in the life and happiness of your home and how to plan your house work in order to give you more time for earning, recreation, pleasure and cultural pursuits.

It will be to the decided advantage of every housekeeper in Dunn to attend this meeting.

Miss Shaffer is a plain, unassuming woman with a very practical mind and she is coming to give you in her own way the subject of "Budgets and a Household Schedule" in a workable form. Be sure to hear her!

Was A Tie Game

CONCERT AT LOCAL OPERA HOUSE WEDNESDAY NIGHT

The concert will be given by 18 boys, ages from 10 to 17 years. The band has traveled over several States and those who have heard them declare that they render a most delightful program.

Chances are that you will miss a treat if you fail to hear this concert. This is a non-denominational home and not a State institution. A collection will be taken.

Constance Talmadge One Of Ziegfeld's Beauties.
Old Silas Meacham always had the habit of getting the wrong cue. Sometimes it didn't make much difference, but when he butted in on the amateur movies that his niece, Polly, with long ambitions and short experience, was staging he grabbed the show. That furnishes an idea of how he becomes an unwelcome interloper in "Polly of the Follies," the First National attraction starring Constance Talmadge, that will be shown at the Colonial theatre Wednesday.

The story centers upon the girl who decides to decamp from the old homestead and emulate her thousands of sisters-of-the-gingham-gown in seeking fame in the city. The difference is that Polly actually manages to see Flo Ziegfeld and obtains a try-out for the Follies. After that her experiences furnish a new and original chapter in the life of the stage-struck, honest-but-hard-working daughter of the soil.

Quite dramatic in some of its action, the plot provides abundant comedy and gives the star an opportunity to display the talent for which she is best known. Kenneth Harlan makes a promising leading man and George Fawcett, noted character actor, contributes an excellent part.

Sixteen counties are holding planting bees at some rural school this fall. In Alsmance county recently the folks set out 75 trees, 450 shrubs and about 600 flowering plants on the grounds of the Whitney school. Plans for landscaping the grounds were made by F. E. McCall, landscape specialist for the State College and Department of Agriculture.

Large Crowd Attends Frank Blount Funeral

Fayetteville, Nov. 25.—One of the largest gatherings that has attended a funeral service here in recent years paid tribute to the memory of W. Frank Blount, one of Fayetteville's most beloved citizens, yesterday afternoon, when the funeral rites were held from the Hay street Methodist church. The services were conducted by the pastor, Rev. H. A. Humble, and were quite impressive. The music was unusually beautiful, as befitting a service held for one whose life had been so largely devoted to the sublimation of the arts.

The members of the Kiwanis club at the Fayetteville lodge of Elks attended the services in a body, as did the directors of the Cumberland Building & Trust Co., and the directors of the Cross Creek building and loan association. Mr. Blount being a member of all these organizations. The interment was in Cross Creek cemetery.

Wilson May Take An Active Part In Fight

New York, Nov. 23.—Active participation of Woodrow Wilson in the next Presidential campaign, Brooklyn Democrats believe, is shadowed by a letter which the former President sent the secretary of the regular Democratic Club, Twelfth assembly district, Kings county, acknowledging resolutions commending him for the principals enunciated in his Armistice Day radio address.

Mr. Wilson said: "I am deeply gratified by the generous preamble and resolutions of the regular Democratic club and beg that you will express to the members of the club my great satisfaction in the thought that you shall be comrades in the great work which lies immediately ahead of the Democratic party, work which will, in my opinion, lead to permanent triumphs in the great cause of justice and humanity."
