ing learned by the head of a well-known North Carolina business house. He stated that less than a dozen years ago he was first approached by an advertising solicitor. He had never tried advertising and didn't believe in it as a business getter. The solicitor was given a fair chance to present his argument and was ordered out of the office in a rather harsh manner. Finally this same man saw the light and now the business which he heads spends $10,000 each year for advertising. The day has already arrived when the man who tries to do business without advertising is not giving his business a fair chance.

We have it on good authority that a family which lives in the north has decided to spend the winter in North Carolina instead of Florida. And in selecting the place in North Carolina to spend the winter this family picked "Dunn—the liveliest town under the sun." The family is to arrive here the first of the year and spend three months before returning to their northern home.

Civil Court Calendar To Be Heard On Friday

Beginning Friday of this week Recorder M. M. Jernigan expects to hold a special session of court each Friday for the hearing of civil actions until the docket has been cleared.

The Unenforced Order

The town fathers did the wise thing in rescinding the 1921 resolution ordering that Lucknow Square be discontinued as a marketing place for cotton. We say this because the order was never carried out and no ordinance should be allowed to stand unless it is to be complied with. We would not argue that the "square" should be used for a public cotton yard. But even if it should not, the former order of the board, turning the property over to the ladies for beautifying, was never enforced; and an ordinance not enforced does harm and no good. In fact, as we understand it, the board had no legal authority to enforce the order. Whatever the case may be, unless the resolution could be put into effect, it is better off the books than on.

Only those who do their Christmas shopping at once can be classed as "early shoppers." Remember, the last minute rush is the most unsatisfactory time of all to spend your "Christmas money."

It appears that the New York "bandit wave" has turned into a "suicidal wave." Ten people committed suicide in that city Friday. But New York always does things on a large scale.

The Coolidge Message

After reading of how the President's message to Congress pleased some and displeased others; appeared to some as a shining piece and to others as a shining poor example for the head of a nation of more than a hundred thousand inhabitants, we have come to the conclusion that the rank and file of the folks saw in it just what they wanted to see. This being true, we will not attempt to express our views. However, we were impressed with one statement appearing in the story sent out by the Associated Press. This statement was a general one and the Capital that Congress would be able to translate into law even a substantial portion of the proposals of the Chief Executive. We accept that statement as true, which moves us to wonder what a President amounts to, anyway. It matters not how worthy may be his plans and purposes; very few of them are able to get the co-operation of a majority of the nation's law-makers in order to enact their ideals into law. Entirely too many of our representatives envy their fellow-workers, and this is not always confined to strife between opposing political parties. Even at this time contending factions in the Republican party will make it hard for President Coolidge to play his hand. Too many of those elected to high office place personal ambition above the good of the country.

Things must be getting back to normal. Another revolution has made its appearance in Mexico. It seems that some folks just don't love peace, and the people of Mexico belong to that class.

We rather like Governor Morrison's reply to the commissioners of Nash county. It is too late to prevent a lynching after it has occurred. No doubt the precaution of the governor has had much to do with the fact that not a single lynching has occurred in the State since his inauguration.

Cheer up. Congress is with us again and the beginning of a campaign year is only three weeks in the future.

Judge W. M. Bond ruled that Noah Williams, an Edenton man, who had two wives was not married and the man was freed of a bigamy charge. It developed that both the wives had other husbands, and in that case their marriage to the defendant was illegal. That's what we'd term a close shave for Noah.

Add a union passenger station to the things which Dunn is entitled to. Then let's get behind the matter and get it.

"Dunn's the best of them all", remarked a local citizen who had just returned from a visit to several other North Carolina towns. And he said it just like he felt that way.

And after all, you'll get more real pleasure from making Christmas gifts to those from whom you do not expect a gift in return.

We have read many church advertisements, but the one which attracted us most was headed, "Who wants to make their first trip to church in a hearse?"

He Saw The Light

Some folks live and learn, while others just merely live. But what we had in mind to relate is the lesson of advertising learned by the head of a well-known North Carolina business house.
