ELECTION TO BE HELD TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 2.

The election is fast approaching and on next Tuesday, November 2, 1926, the voters of the state and of Haywood county will be expected to vote rain or shine.

In Haywood county, very little interest is taken in the general election, owing to the fact that a Democratic nomination is equivalent to election. Keen interest was manifested in the June primary and the great majority of Democrats made their choice of candidates.

A Democrat is always a good pool and realizes that the very fundamental principles of their party rests upon the fact that the majority rule. Being good Democrats, the defeated candidates picked themselves up, brushed themselves a good and gave the old Democratic hand-hake of co-operation to the victorious candidates and pledged their co-operation in defeating the common enemy, the opposition party.

Of course politics or sly scheming politicians of the opposition party will naturally try to create chaos or dissatisfaction in the Democratic party by centering upon some one individual or candidate in order that they might accidentally elect one member of their party.

The only hope in Haywood county to elect any candidate not a Democrat, would be through lack of interest of the Democratic voters. It is understood that the failure of the Democrats to come out and vote might decrease the substantial majority needed by some of the state candidates.

It is believed, however, that the Haywood county Democratic voters will be out and vote next Tuesday and will not only roll up a large majority for the county Democratic nominated candidates, but will give the State candidates a good big majority and will put Hon. Zebulon Weaver so far in the lead that the opposition will stop putting up a Congressional candidate.

REV. ALBERT NEW WILL REMAIN IN WAYNESVILLE

A legion of friends and the members of Grace Church in the Mountains will be glad to know that Rev. Albert New has again declined a call from Florida.

Mr. New has had many calls to other climes since residing in Waynesville and has always been persuaded to continue as pastor of the Waynesville Episcopal church.

Not long ago Mr. New received a persistent call from a Western North Carolina Parish and another in April from Middleboro, Kentucky. At this time he has declined a call from the Right Reverend Bishop J. D. Wing of Winter Park, Fla., St. Bartholomeu's church of St. Petersburg, Florida.

Mr. and Mrs. New have a great love for the people of this community and they have won the friendship and affection of all who know them. The members of Grace Church in the Mountains are unanimous in their determination to keep Rev. and Mrs. New here as long as possible.

During their early residence in Waynesville Mr. New suffered a great deal with malaria and the wonderful climate of this section had a great influence in curing him.

Grace Church in the Mountains has had the most successful year in its history during 1926. Not only in a material way, but it has had a substantial gain in membership and an appreciative spiritual growth.

The Sunday school under the direction of Superintendent James W. Reed is in a flourishing condition.

The Bible Class under the leadership of Hon. Charles R. Thomas is creating keen interest and is rapidly becoming one of the most interesting features of Grace Church in the Mountains.

STAND BY ZEBULON WEAVER

It is expected and predicted by those in a position to know that Hon. Zebulon Weaver will roll up an increased majority.

This paper predicts a Democratic majority for the Tenth Congressional district of approximately sixteen thousand.

Mr. Weaver has made a splendid record. He is on many important committees and his years of service put him in a position of influence in the national councils of his party.

Give Mr. Weaver your vote of complete confidence.

GIVE HIM AN INCREASED MAJORITY

Ashville Times.

The Representative Zebulon Weaver will be re-elected by a comfortable margin is a certainty which even the Republicans in their most exuberant moments do not question. His personal popularity, added to the normal Democratic strength in this district, assure as much.

But Congressman Weaver is entitled to something more than mere re-election. He should be returned to the House of Representatives by the largest majority which he has ever obtained. He deserves the encouragement which an increased vote will imply.

He has proved to be a faithful, intelligent lawmaker. He has been ever alert to the larger interests of his constituents, his State and the nation. He has kept his official conduct above reproach. He has ever been in harmony with the policies of his party. He is now, thanks to his long service, better qualified than ever to discharge his legislative duties wisely and energetically.

The Democrats have attested their confidence in Mr. Weaver by renominating him by an unmistakably decisive majority in the teeth of able opposition. They should now see to it that he receives the approval which re-election by an augmented majority will signify.

REV. J. T. MANGUM APPOINTED

At the Western N. C. District Conference held in Gastonia last week Rev. J. T. Mangum was appointed as the future pastor of the Waynesville

Methodist church. Mr. Mangum was the former pastor before Mr. J. F. Marr took his place. Mr. Mangum won a prominent place in the hearts of the Waynesville people, not only in his own congregation doing many things for church and community, but with folks from all walks of life, and there are many who welcome him back.

Rev. T. F. Marr has been appointed to fill the pulpit at Albemarle and he too was appreciated and well loved by the local people.

WHEN THE DEMOCRATS VOTE

When the Democrats get stirred up and go out to vote in Haywood county, the opposition parties have not any more chance of electing a candidate than a snow ball has of going through "Florida."

HON. FELIX E. ALLEY TO SPEAK SATURDAY

The Hon. Felix E. Alley, prominent attorney and one of the Democratic leaders of Waynesville, will speak at the Haywood county court house in Waynesville on Saturday night, Oct. 30th, at 7:30 o'clock.

Hon. Cameron Morrison, ex-Governor of the State of North Carolina, is also scheduled to speak here at the same meeting, immediately following Mr. Alley.

It is expected that a large audience of citizens of Haywood will attend.

BUEL HYATT WRITES

himself with the North, East, South and Western sections of this country, and demonstrate to the voters his ideals for an administration of the Washington system. Then, the thousands of people that determine the swing of public opinion will have an opportunity to accept him as Al Smith the next President of the United States, as far as his platform will carry him. The Baltimore sun expresses a splendid sentiment covering his political position: "The more deeply this situation is analyzed the clearer it becomes that if Smith, as now seems sure, runs again for Governor in New York and is for the fourth time elected, it will be practically impossible in 1928 for the Democratic convention to refuse him his chance at the presidency because he is a Catholic. Strong as is the anti-Catholic feeling, (I do not believe there is much strength to the hub-bub about that) the inherent Democracy of the South and the belief that Republican victory has a tendency to encourage the negro to strive for political and social equality is stronger still. Catholic or not Catholic, when the time comes, the South will hold to its Democratic moorings. In other words, Southern Democrats are great believers in the Constitution, and will pocket their local issues when the National interests of the party are at stake. Personally, I advocate and believe in politicians with backbone enough to tell the whining priests, ministers and saints to step to the rear; a modern man is in the saddle; and, if the American people want an executive that will administer affairs of government intelligently, and guide the ship of state courageously, giving his time and energies to matters of legislation and diplomacy; now and always, I say give the country more statesmen and fewer religious fanatics. Washington did not try to make the country Episcopalian. Wilson did not try to make the country Presbyterian. Is there any man fool enough to believe that a Democrat, with the qualities of leadership demonstrated by Governor Smith will try to make the country Catholic? Personally, I would like to see the Vatican moved to the United States. Then, should there be enough religious fanatics to organize an armed camp against each other, I for one would like to see the show. What a grand Quixotic Spree for the Crusaders, Knights (both Columbus and Templar) sensible beings would observe. I don't believe you could put Masons on one side of the river and Catholics on the other, set the stage of battle for religious supremacy, give them a year to fight out the differences, and have a first class dog fight. The scrap would not last as long as scheduled. . . . It wouldn't be a week until a smart man would recognize the absurdity of HATE; and walk over to the Columbus Camp and say Gee-noa. The K. of C. would reply: yes brother, Haw-Haw! What damn fools we are. That's right sister Susie married a Catholic, brother Jonathan married a Protestant, Uncle Bill married a Democrat, and Aunt Cynthia eloped with a Republican. So there you are! If Al can get there let's give him the right hand grip and put Democracy again in the saddle. Southern, Eastern, Western and Northern Democrats must stand to their man if we ever expect to exist as a great National party. Two years will decide the sentiment of the party for or against any candidate with nerve enough to try to push up Davis' poll. Otherwise, Southern Democrats might as well get used to voting a ticket Nationally Republican, and locally Democratic.

With McAdoo asserting to the church, "there is no office I want less than that president of the United States" . . . there is only one practical candidate from the Democratic ranks as the nominee in 1928. That man is Hon. Al Smith, Governor of New York. Right here, I must say, that there never has been a time in the history of the United States when political parties allowed the church to become dictatorial as to who should be president. If that condition exists today; then, the American people had better beware of a religious monarchial party . . . and all leaders of the Democratic party publicly announce Governor Smith's candidacy is not an issue of religion or prohibition, merely the man who represents the fundamental principles of the Democracy of the country. With that spirit, the party will have a chance to put a Democrat in the White House in 1928. There will be no Klanism, Churchism, Prohibitionism, or any other kind of rider to block a mountain on the first ballot. Two years is plenty time to tell who the voters will support. I am quite sure Mr. Nobody's opinion will be worth a hairpin, when the forces of the Democratic party are once organized as in the days prior to the Wilson elections. When that is done, the Old Demo-Done will be worth any pair in the country. And Al Smith can secure a vote that will make John Davis look like a colt. Mr. Voter, bear in mind that politics is the science of government, and not the call for unintelligent exercise of the rights of citizenship. When men and women become appreciative, educationally and thoughtfully, of the principles and theories of government . . . then, and not until then, will the vision of Arch Bishop Ireland prevail; the ideals of Wilson triumph, and a federation of humanity function with precision that thrills the hearts of mankind throughout the world.

Suffered weak, nervous

"I WAS in a very weakened, run-down condition, surely in need of a tonic and builder," says Mrs. J. R. Wrenn, of Anna, Texas. "I was so weak I had to go to bed, and kept getting weaker."

"I suffered with my back so much. I was very nervous, couldn't rest good at night. I couldn't eat anything—I just wasn't hungry."

"I had read so much of Cardui, I thought best to use it. I took seven or eight bottles, and by the time I had taken them I was stronger than I had been in several years. I can highly recommend Cardui."

Thousands of other women have found that the tonic effects of the purely vegetable ingredients of Cardui were just what they needed to help restore their appetites, to help bring them easily and naturally back to normal health and strength. Its action has been found to be of great benefit in many common female ailments.
