Doyle Alley Is Named State Vice President Of Young Democrats

Waynesville Young People Play Important Part In State Convention

Doyle Alley, prominent Waynesville attorney, and former chairman of the western district of the Young Democrat organization, was elected state vice president by an overwhelming majority at the state convention last Saturday at Wrightsville Beach.

Mr. Alley had the distinction of organizing the first young people's Democratic club in the state, and during the time he was chairman of the western district he held the distinction of having organized and held together the only 100 per cent district in the state. It is generally conceded that Mr. Alley will be president of the organization next year.

There were approximately 100 from the western counties in attendance at the convention, at which Governor Ethinghaus and Senator Robert R. Reynolds and other state officials were speakers.

Miss Isabel Ferguson, of this city, made the keynote address of the convention. Her address in full is published elsewhere in this issue.

It was through the efforts of Mr. Alley and his associates that the convention was brought to Asheville for the next annual meeting. Mr. Alley was also instrumental in getting Mr. Cooke, of Asheville, appointed as district chairman.

Another honor conferred on the western district was the naming of John Edwards, of Franklin, as state publicity chairman.

Those attending the convention stated that throughout the entire convention there was no display of drunkenness or other misconduct. "It was one of the cleanest and best conventions I ever attended," one member stated.

Those going from Waynesville were: Mr. and Mrs. Doyle Alley, Mr. and Mrs. Ferguson, Thomas Reeves, James Ferguson, Elizabeth Henry and Johnny Johnson.

State Revenue Receipts Show 3 Million Drop

Raleigh.—North Carolina paid $27,744,196.46 into the coffers of the state's general and highway funds during the fiscal year ended June 30, the annual report of Commissioner of Revenue A. J. Maxwell reported this week.

This amount, with $14,503,400.19 going into the general fund and $19,240,699.27 into the highway fund, was approximately $3,500,000 less than the $37,164,038.70 collected in the 1931-32 fiscal year, when general fund taxes produced $16,661,838.08 and highway levies $20,502,200.62.

Decreases in income and license taxes, made up the bulk of the loss in general fund collections, while gasoline and license made up the great portion of the decrease in highway receipts.

License taxes in 1932-33 produced $1,870,210.21 as compared with $2,955,645.41 in 1931-32, while income collections fell off from $7,153,738.68 in 1931-32 to $6,004,433.15 in the fiscal year just closed.

The six-cent-a-gallon gasoline tax produced $14,165,026.42 in 1932-33 compared with $14,941,180.59 in 1931-32 and automobile licenses brought in $5,004,609.85 compared with $5,450,703.98 in 1931-32.

June general fund collections totaled $670,748.43 as compared with $1,147,602.76 collected in June of 1932, but Maxwell explained an exceptional amount of income tax payments were received in the month.

He said the reduction did not indicate a change "in the trend of revenue collections occurring consistently for several months."

Highway receipts in June, 1933, were $1,377,492.95, an increase of $177,800.45 over the $1,199,692.49 collected in June, 1932. Maxwell reported, explaining there was "a continuing increase in automobile registration and gasoline consumption" last month.

Beacon Team Falls Before Hazelwood

Tryon Ball Club Comes To Hazelwood Saturday. Hazelwood Going Good

Playing on the Beacon diamond last Saturday, the Hazelwood Industrial Ball Club turned in a 7 to 5 victory over the Beacon blanket makers. Hazelwood took the lead early in the game and was not threatened until last half of the ninth, when Beacon taking advantage of an error, a walk, and three singles, put across four runs. Putnam was going good Saturday, having eight strike-outs to his credit. He was ably assisted by his team mates throughout the game. Starring for Hazelwood at the bat, Queen and Robinson each had three hits for five tries.

Charlie Hall started on the mound for Beacon, but in the sixth inning competition got too strong, or Charlie got too weak, at which time he was replaced by Lovin, a "south-paw." Biggs took the batting honors for Beacon, getting three for five.

Saturday of this week Tryon will come to Hazelwood. The game will be called at 2:30.

P. D. Deaton Takes Over Ga. Printery

P. D. Deaton, formerly co-publisher of The Mountaineer, left Wednesday morning for Gainesville, Ga., where he has taken over a commercial printing plant, and will operate it.

Mr. Deaton came to Waynesville about 18 months ago from Johnson City, Tenn., and became a partner in The Mountaineer. He sold his interest in this paper last May.

W. T. SHELTON IS NAMED U. S. COMMISSIONER

Will Succeed Mr. Frank Miller Who Is On State Highway Commission

W. T. Shelton, of Waynesville, has received a letter from Judge E. Yates Webb, of Shelby, commissioning him as United States commissioner for the Waynesville district, succeeding Frank W. Miller, of Waynesville, who was appointed about a month ago to membership on the state highway commission.

Mr. Shelton has been a prominent figure in the politics of Waynesville for more than 10 years. He served as alderman for the town of Waynesville from 1921 to 1929, and was one of the leading forces in the building of the sidewalks and the extension of the water system, enlarging it from about 900 acres to about 9,000 acres. He is a member of the firm of Hyatt and company, of Waynesville, lumber manufacturers, coal, feed and seed merchants. Mr. Shelton is also a farmer, and an extensive grower of dahlias.

For about 25 years he was in the government Indian service. He was superintendent of the Navajo Indian reservation in New Mexico for more than 10 years. He has been back here since about 1920.

Supreme Court Upholds 12 of Judge Alley's Decisions

Judge Felix Alley has had 12 appeals come before the Supreme Court since his appointment last January, and to date the supreme court has sustained every one of the 12, and not reversed a decision on one.

This is a rather remarkable record for a judge, especially for the first 12 cases. One of interest is the decision Judge Alley made in regard to the Sullivan Bank Act which is scheduled to come up the 19th in Raleigh.

NEW BOOKS AT THE LOCAL LIBRARY

New fiction is such a rarity at the library nowadays, that the following list of books just received is a real news item: Two mystery stories, The Album by Rhinehart and The Broken O by Wells, Matched Pearls by Hill and Change Here For Happiness, by Buck both light summer novels. Let the Hurricane Roar, an unusual pioneer tale. The Strange Understanding by the popular author Harriet Comstock, Wife for Sale by Kathleen Norris, who has an even greater appeal of the reading public.

In addition to the above three have been donated: Deeping fans—will enjoy his very latest called Smith. The Store by Strindberg, recently awarded the Pulitzer Prize. As the Earth Turns, a human document which has led as the best seller all spring.

Judge Alley's Charge To Haywood Grand Jury

Judge Felix Alley in his charge to the grand jury Monday morning, held the members of that body as well as the vast throng that filled the court room to capacity, as he set out the duty of the grand jury and defined four common crimes—perjury, seduction, slander and prohibition. In his usual manner of delivery, Judge Alley impressed on his hearers the folly of crime and sin. So forcefully did he bring his charge that only a few of his hundreds of listeners realized that it consumed more than an hour.

The Mountaineer is printing a few of the paragraphs from the charge: "You have a two-fold duty to perform; one to the state, or to the people as a whole to see that parties against whom there is just ground to charge the commission of crime shall be held to answer the charge, and on the other hand the duty to the citizen to see that he is not subjected to persecution upon accusations having no better foundation than public clamor or private vengeance.

"The peace, the good order, the morality and well-being of the community depend in a large measure upon your diligence, intelligence and integrity of purpose, for, on the one hand, it is your duty to disregard trivial offenses brought to this court for the purpose of persecution and vengeance, and on the other hand,

MISS FREDERICKA QUINLAN PASSED AWAY TUESDAY

Funeral Services Were Held Here Wednesday, To Be Buried In Pennsylvania

Funeral services for Miss Mary Fredericka Quinlan, who died at her home on Pigeon street Tuesday morning after an illness of several months, were held from the home on Wednesday morning at 11 o'clock with Dr. R. P. Walker, of the First Presbyterian church, officiating, following which members of her family and several friends accompanied the body to Towanda, Penn., where interment was in the old Quinlan family plot in Green Hill cemetery of that place. Serving as pallbearers were the following: Wallace B. Blackwell, Hugh Sloan, Ernest L. Wither, W. F. Swift, Harry Rotha, and R. L. Prevost.

Miss Quinlan was the daughter of the late Edward Eldridge and Janet Snooks Quinlan and was born in Towanda, Penn. Her father was a prominent educator of Pennsylvania and came to this section in 1900 when he became interested in the lumber industry and was president of the Quinlan-Monroe Lumber Company. She spent the early years of her life in her native city coming with her parents when they moved here, where she has since resided.

She received her education in the school of Towanda and was a graduate of the Susquehanna Collegiate Institute of which her father was president and continued her education at the Elmira College for Women of Elmira, New York. She was an accomplished musician and was a charter member of the Waynesville Music Club and has been very active at all times in the development of music in the community. She was also a valued member of the Community Club.

She was active in the religious life of the town and of the First Presbyterian church of which she was a member. She served as organist of her church for the past thirty years and had held various offices in the church and Sunday school. She was president of the church for one term and at the time of her death was vice president.

She was beloved by a large circle of friends and her beautiful Christian character was expressed in her daily life. Modest at all times of her own accomplishments, she often unconsciously showed her talents in the help and inspiration she gave to others.

While she had been ill for some months, her death was unexpected at this time and came as a distinct shock to her friends and acquaintances.

She is survived by one sister, Miss Alice Crosby Quinlan, and three nieces, daughters of Mrs. Annie Guder Quinlan and the late Charles E. Quinlan, Miss Betsy Lane Quinlan, Miss Mary Quinlan and Mrs. Charles C. Crittenden of Chapel Hill.

Everybody welcome.

Three Murder Cases Will Be Disposed Of Here This Week. Brown Case Today

HOLDING COURT HERE

JUDGE FELIX E. ALLEY

For the first time since his appointment, Judge Alley is holding court in Haywood County. For the past six months he has been presiding in Buncombe and Madison counties, but courtesy Asheville Citizen Times.

Haywood County Officers Praised By Judge Alley

Haywood officers were praised for their work by Judge Alley after he had completed his charge to the grand jury here Monday morning. He gave a brief summary of the report of the state attorney general in which the statement was published that during the past two years there has been 772 criminal cases reported from Haywood county which averages one case for each 36 inhabitants, while Stanley county with the same population as this county, only had one case for 886 inhabitants.

"The statement strikes me so forcefully that I can't keep it all my mind," Judge Alley stated. "This looks like a shame upon our people, but there is another way to look at this report. Haywood county has a law abiding population and the county has a reputation for punishing crime, and it has officers who prosecute crime and bring criminals to justice."

"I don't believe any county has a better sheriff and more capable than Haywood," he said when speaking of Sheriff J. A. Lowe.

"There are few clerks of courts that can measure up to the one in Haywood county," was the expression made of W. G. Byers.

"I have never known a solicitor who prosecuted crime more forcefully than ours," he commented on Solicitor John M. Queen.

"In Mr. W. T. Shelton, who was appointed United States Commissioner last week, we have a man in whom I have the highest regard for his ability."

Board Gives This County 5 School Districts For 28

Alleged Wife Slayer To Face Trial Today, Jenkins' Case Friday

The jury got the Sigsbee Parton murder case about 10:30 o'clock this morning, after the court which is being presided over by Judge Felix E. Alley, held a night session Wednesday night for several hours.

The court will begin on the Humer Brown case this morning in which Brown is charged with killing his wife in the Fines Creek section of the county. It was a general rumor at the court house yesterday that a plea of insanity would be entered. A panel venire of 50 men have been ordered to be at court for this case.

Friday morning another venire of 65 men have been ordered to appear at court to begin the case in which Marshal Jenkins is charged with the murder of Deputy Sheriff James Chambliss, on Cove Creek.

The case which took most of Wednesday and Wednesday night, the outgrowth of a drinking party in which Parton and his brother-in-law, Glenn Kingsmore, were members. It was brought out during the testimony that these two men had made the liquor used on the party.

Parton entered a plea of self-defense, in that he, stated, King more came at him with something that looked like a knife while he (Parton) was sitting in the front of a car. King more came at him twice Parton and made a shot in self-defense after the second time.

Groves, and Lee Davis, represented Parton, while W. R. Francis assisted Solicitor John M. Queen in the prosecution.

Two Methodist preachers attended the opening session of court. Rev. Wade Johnson and Rev. W. O. Goodby, former pastor here.

The front of the court house was crowded with court spectators by eight o'clock Monday morning. The new benches recently placed on the walk and front of the building were occupied long before the time for court convening.

One of the factors for this case involved in getting in with the grand jury the first day of court.

Those in quite a contrast in this July term of court and the one last year. Last year court was held in the Masonic Temple and was if crowded, and was it hot and just to think about it makes great drops of sweat pop out.

Judge Alley took in position that if a juror had a good job he had received from jury duty, in that there are many men who would make good jurors and do not have jobs.

"I believe there will soon be jobs for all," Judge Alley remarked.

Second week: Clyde J. Jones, A. R. Spear, J. Beardsley, G. L. Allen, M. A. Chapman, W. C. Flynn, Waynesville, L. N. Davis, N. N. Norman, R. B. Williams, Crabtree, R. C. Rogers, East Fork, Elmer Crawford, E. O. Styles, Iron Duff, Guy Chambers, and White Oak, Allen Davis.

The grand jury, which was named last February, is as follows: F. E. Branson, foreman, J. J. Hayes, C. C. Willis, T. T. Green, A. M. Frazier, S. B. Reeves, S. D. Rich, W. L. Clark, Zeb Cagle, J. Byrd Smathers, E. A. Thompson, Paul Robinson, Walker Brown, R. L. Messer, C. S. Fresh, S. W. Chambers, David Howell, and G. C. Hooker.

The court record shows that the following cases have been disposed of: Roy Franklin, abduction, Alias Capias, and continued.

D. Hoyle, V. P. L. continued under former order.
