have become so worn from usage that corners have been worn from some of the pages thereby destroying the reference numbers which identify the correct location of deeds. We are informed that the general index of deeds is one of the most important records in the county and injury to it jeopardizes property rights of the citizenship of the county. If the present condition is not remedied immediately, there is a probability that the county and its citizenship may suffer from the existing deteriorated condition and as a new and modern index will save the citizenship of the county considerable time and money in obtaining abstracts of property, we do hereby recommend that the Board of County Commissioners take immediate action in having these Index Books revised into a modern and efficient system.

"The stairway from jail to Depot Street should have a strong hand rail on each side as a matter of safety. We recommend that garbage cans be placed at convenient places in hallways and offices to prevent the scattering of ashes, match stems, etc., on the floor. Also that a clock be placed on front of Court House; also that the words 'Haywood County Court House' be placed on front of building. We recommend that the old books now in library not belonging to the county and being of no value, be removed and room be properly cleaned up and arranged. The walls in Sewing Room have been damaged by chairs or other things coming in contact with wall. This should be remedied. As to the janitor service, we believe that with the number of janitors and the amount of money paid, the janitor service in the building is very poor. The conditions existing in the little court room still exist and are worse.

"We have been informed that a Justice of the Peace is using the Library Room for an office. We recommend that this be removed.

"County Home: We found at the County Home 47 people, 27 grown people and 20 children from 3 to 14 years of age.

"We recommend that Lou Griffin be removed to the County Hospital as she is in a helpless condition, having a sore foot which we understand is incurable, causing a very disagreeable odor. The Superintendent is not equipped so as to keep down odor and dress wounds. She is expected to live only a short time; also Creasman West appears to have an unhealing sore on his head. These people are there among other inmates, children and all. We recommend that these two people be removed to Hospital where they can be better taken care of, and at the same time not endanger the other inmates. We heard no complaints from inmates as to their treatment. All seem satisfied. Rooms in building were clean and neat as could be expected.

We found 1,000 pounds of flour, 150 bushels of corn, 75 gallons of molasses, 300 pounds bacon, 8 cows, 1 bull, 4 calves, 2 mules, 15 hogs to kill this fall and 3 brood sows, and 150 chickens. The cows on the farm are now giving 20 gallons of milk per day; 200 bushels wheat threshed this year; 26 acres of corn well cultivated; 25 bushels planted to Irish potatoes; barn under construction on last visit completed and in good condition. Superintendent says he is reasonably supplied with tools and tools are in reasonably good condition. All buildings are in good repair. Ten acres of hay are ready to cut.

In view of the fact that there are 20 children at the County Home ranging from three to fourteen years of age who are living with the older inmates of the institution; and as the Grand Jury has further found that a large portion of the law violation in this county is being committed by young people, we recommend that Haywood County build a children's home either on the county farm or on some other suitable place so that there will be no connection between these children and the older inmates. The Grand Jury understands from outside information that there are a number of other children who need the aid and assistance of a children's home in addition to those at the County Home.

"We think the money expended in building a children's home would decrease expenditures in other lines, especially as to the Criminal Court and the care of these children if they do not make good citizens. There have been numerous recommendations from citizens in the county for this home to be built, and we feel that we speak the sentiment of the citizens of this county in making this recommendation.

"The Grand Jury, in accordance with His Honor's charge in regard to the alleged violation of the Prohibition Law, desires to make known to the Court and to the citizens of this county that the Grand Jury has invited and requested many citizens to give them any information available in regard to persons and places where liquor was being sold; although many rumors have been afloat in regard to this matter the Grand Jury finds the people reluctant to give the Grand Jury the benefit of their information, if any they have. The Grand Jury reports that it has diligently and carefully acted upon all presentments sent to it by the Solicitor, and has called all witnesses marked on said presentments and examined carefully all the witnesses that could be secured, resulting in the Bills which have already communicate with S. H. Bushnell, secretary-treasurer, in the Building and Loan offices in the Morgan and Ward building.

The Haywood Home Building and Loan Association offers three distinct types of service:

1. A means of financing a home by the payment of weekly or monthly installments with an interest charge of 6% covering payments extending for a period of approximately 328 to 348 weeks.

2. As a means of saving in which the investor makes weekly or monthly payments, maturing his stock in from 328 to 348 weeks with a rate of interest from 5 per cent to 7 per cent, depending upon the earnings of the association in which all share holders participate equally in the earnings. For each share of 25c per week, the investor pays in from $84 to $87 and receives at maturity $100.

3. Paid up stock; in which the investor pays for his stock in full at the time of purchase and receives interest at the rate of 4% payable semi-annually.

The officers and directors of the Haywood Home Building and Loan Association are elected annually by the share holders and comprise as a representative group of business men as can be found in the community.

R. L. Prevost, president, president Unagusta Manufacturing Company, E. J. Hyatt, vice president, part owner and general manager Hyatt & Company, S. H. Bushnell, secretary-treasurer, formerly of Blackwell-Bushnell Company.

Directors: Willard Ray, C. E. Ray's Sons, merchants; L. M. Killian, owner Waynesville Ice & Cold Storage Company; J. R. Boyd, president First National Bank; O. H. Shelton, assistant postmaster; L. M. Richeson, superintendent England-Walton, Junaluska Tannery; C. N. Allen, merchant.

been returned as True Bills, into Court and continuing those Bills where witnesses were not available.

"We, the Grand Jury, wish to express to the Presiding Judge, Hon. Felix E. Alley, our appreciation for the courteous and considerate manner in which he has borne with us."

The grand jury is composed of the following: F. M. Byers, foreman, Carl Medford, R. H. Morris, Reeves Rathbone, Glenn Tate, Charlie Paxton, J. B. Hill, John Russell, J. W. Teague, R. G. A. Campbell, Gaston Burnett, W. A. Moore, Joe Howell, D. H. Turpin, Fred Gibson, G. C. Leatherwood, C. Z. Noland, and James M. Ratcliff.

Dr. Winton Says World Suffering Of Moral Sickness

Work Started On Rock Hill School. Two Other Buildings To Be Ready By Winter

Much of the world is suffering from a kind of moral sickness whose only cure lies within ones self and his determination and ability to be true to the inner, better self which animates every human breast, according to Dr. George B. Winton, dean of the school of religion, Vanderbilt University, Nashville, Tennessee, whose Sunday morning sermon in the Stuart auditorium at Lake Junaluska powerfully moved a large congregation.

Dr. Winton's sermon theme was "Moral Insanity," and he took as a text words from the parable of the prodigal son, "When he came to himself."

"The young man in the parable," said the speaker, "seems to have been out of his head. All of us have a better self to which we have to turn. It is a common expression these days among young people, 'Be yourself.' That is what this young man had not been. Something was the matter with him. It was not unconsciousness, for he was alive and active. It must have been some kind of a demoralization,—intoxication. Those are very significant words. Demoralization suggests that he lacked morale; intoxication that he was poisoned. What kind of poison was it that had entered into this boy's life and robbed him of his normal morale? The story says he had been indulging in riotous living. That may have meant, of course, that he did not get drunk. But it was not the after-effects of an ordinary spree that made him come to himself. As history discloses, it was a profound moral readjustment. There must have been in his life a touch of moral insanity. We are accustomed to mental insanity, unfortunately, but I am not so sure that we are disposed to recognize moral insanity.

GREEN FAMILY REUNION, SUNDAY, JULY 28, 1935.

The 20th annual reunion of the Green family, organized on the 50th wedding anniversary of the late T. M. Green and Luisa Shook Green, will be held at the home of T. L. Green and L. O. Ferguson, on Lake Junaluska-Hot Springs highway, 7 miles below Waynesville, Sunday, July 28, 1935.

All members of the family, with their relatives and friends are invited to be present, bringing a well filled basket for the picnic dinner which will be served on the lawn.

T. L. GREEN, Pres.
MRS. L. O. FERGUSON, Secretary.

Doubt Raised As To Stand Of State On Liquor Question

RALEIGH—Action of Rockingham county in the election on Tuesday, July 9, on the proposal to open liquor stores, defeated by a small margin of 519 votes, the first stemming of the wet tide sweeping eastward up the state, causes the thoughtful to wonder if the state has really gone as "wet" as it is claimed.

Rockingham is the only county west of Raleigh to vote, all of the other 16 having gone for liquor with majorities ranging from a small percentage to 10 to 1.

As the matter now stands, 14 of the 18 counties are permitted to have liquor stores. New Hanover and Greene voted wet but are restrained from operating stores under court orders.

Congress Not To Adjourn Before Aug. 20

WASHINGTON—Tall, lanky, sandy-haired Representative Braswell, Democrat from Alma, Ga., was cheered for three minutes in the House Monday when he suggested that Congress adjourn immediately.

Members of both parties whistled, stamped their feet and roared their approval like a group of school boys. Speaker Byrns said there was no chance of adjournment before August 20. He said President Roosevelt's program for new taxes on wealth is what is delaying the end of the session.

Money Available for Dam Near Murphy

WASHINGTON—The second deficiency bill carries an appropriation of one million dollars for the beginning of construction work on the Hiwassee Dam. The site of the dam is in Cherokee county, near Murphy.

1 Killed, 5 Hurt In Two Auto Crashes

ASHEVILLE—One man was killed and five other persons injured, none seriously, Monday, in two automobile accidents in Buncombe county.

W. R. Johnson, 38, of Weaverville, state highway employee, was killed when his car crashed head-on with a truck. Raley Elliott, driver of the truck suffered cuts and bruises.

Four others were injured in a crash on the Black Mountain highway.

Two Died Friday In Electric Chair

RALEIGH—Louis Serrano, a man convicted of murder in Rockingham county, and George Whittier, sentenced to die in Raleigh for a criminal assault, were executed in the State's prison Friday morning.

Sentell went to his death and had little to say after entering the death chamber alone but Whittier preceded in his own way. Whittier last mile by the Rev. George A. Fisher, negro Episcopal minister of Raleigh, prayed about 10:30. Mask was placed over his face.

Sentell, 39, was convicted of killing Mrs. William Drake on the Supreme Court.

Whittier, 22, was sentenced to die for criminal assault on a county white woman and appeals to the State and Federal preme Courts.

COURT RULES AGAINST FEDERAL GOVERNMENT

CINCINNATI—The sixth circuit United States circuit court of appeals held the federal government has power to condemn land for use as public housing projects.

The court acted in sustaining the Charles I. Dawson of Louisville, retired from the bench, who on January 4 held condemnation for a purpose to be illegal, through failure to come within the government power to condemn lands for buildings, parks, fortifications, arsenals.

Directly affected is a $10,000,000 housing project in Louisville, Ky., directly, however. Secretary Ickes said, the suit here affected the $160,000,000 housing program in 40 cities.
