

ALONG THE SKYLINE

With the Rambler

Seen and heard here and there... One of Waynesville's steady summer residents is with us again... but he didn't intend to be here... He decided that he'd been coming here long enough... this year he'd change... go somewhere else... so he did... in fact he went to three places... and stayed a day or two in each one... but in modern parlance "he couldn't take it" and before a week had rolled by he'd packed his car for the fourth or fifth time... and here he is... and we're glad to have him... and his wife... To those who have been coming to Waynesville every summer for years pulling into town has a thrill all its own... something like a homecoming... they look forward to renewing summer friendships... Winter divides them... but summer can't be far behind... and they meet again... Sign on a visiting car—"Florida on Parade"... Okedoke, Mister... let her go right down Main St... A real Indian chief attended the Rotary luncheon last week... some said he didn't look like one... but others report that when he talked he talked sense... And if you'll pardon the interruption, it's raining... I'm wondering if anybody else is seized with a desire to rinse the hair of one of these artificial blondes... with a good strong cake of soap... What's that?... Can I help it if I've had too many birthdays... Guess I must be sorter queer, tho... I lay awake for an hour last night... thinking what a fix I'd be in if I had to buy gas for that big seven passenger Lincoln that rolled in here the other day.

They came into the Green Tree Tea Room together. Two boys. Both about the same age. Late teens. I've never seen such a contrast. One was handsome and the other was homely. One wore his clothes to the manner born while the other waged a hopeless battle with a new shirt that was at least a full size too large. One handled a knife and fork with the sureness of culture and polish while the other dropped whatever he failed to overturn. Then something funny happened—I don't know what it was—but one smiled, and looked sleek. The other grimaced, and looked honest and likeable. But maybe I'm wrong about the first one.

Typographic errors are funny things. Some time ago I said that a certain Waynesville gentleman had an armful of clothes but didn't look at all self-conscious. It was printed "sub-conscious." I'm glad it didn't come out "unconscious!"

The Rambler's pet aversion—folks who acknowledge a friendly greeting as tho they were bestowing a favor. He doesn't know it but there's a guy I know who has a first class insult coming his way—soon!

Waynesville is about to become air-conscious. If the fellow who's flying that Waco plane around here as this is being written sticks around long enough we won't even look up when we hear a ship overhead. I've been looking for Uncle Abe to take a trip—and write about it.

Saw one fellow climb in the other day and it seemed to me that he was wasting his money. The world was already going round and round for him, judging by his walk. But up he went, and when the plane came down they couldn't get him out. I never did find out whether it was because he liked it or whether he just couldn't make it.

Incidentally the prettiest sight to be seen from the air is a well kept cemetery.

I saw her in a drug store down town. She looked to be about sixty five years old, but the years had treated her kindly. Her hair was a beautiful grey, giving promise of being snow white in a few more years. She wore a becoming dress in a stylish way and her small feet were neatly shod. Her voice was firm and well modulated. I couldn't help but think that she must have grandchildren who were crazy about her... and then she lit a cigarette. It wasn't simply the fact that she smoked. It was the way she did it. And I wondered if she ever had a child at all.

And that, dear reader, is what I call spoiling a picture!

From somewhere faintly I hear strains of the Wedding March. Which reminds me of what Josh Billings said about the man who loudly proclaimed that he was the boss in his home. Josh said that such a man would lie about other things too!

NOTICE

All persons will hereby take notice that the undersigned, who was convicted of breaking and entering the establishment of the Farmers Federation, at Waynesville, North Carolina, at the February Term of the Superior Court of Haywood County, and was sentenced by the Court to serve a term of two years, will forthwith make application to the Commissioner of Paroles for a pardon or parole. All persons opposing the granting of said pardon or parole will make objections known to said Commissioners of Paroles. This the 9th day of July, 1935. DWAIN PATTON. No. 366—July 11-18.

NOTICE OF TRUSTEE'S SALE

Household Hints

Chocolate stains can be removed from table linen by sprinkling with borax and then pouring boiling water through the stain.

Scorches can sometimes be removed by moistening a white cloth with peroxide, rubbing it on the scorched place and then rinsing in clear water.

A slice of banana added to the white of an egg and beaten until stiff makes a good whipped cream substitute.

If white paint is washed with water in which a few onions have been boiled the dirt will disappear, leaving your paint white, glossy and perfectly clean.

When baking and you have no cream of tartar, take a teaspoon of soda and two teaspoons baking powder. Mix thoroughly and use as a substitute.

Use a good curtain rod fastener up by your sink for drying tea towels. Whites of eggs will heat more quickly if a teaspoon of water is added for each egg white.

Engineers Working On Parkway Route In This Section

Locating Party Of 27, And 30 Laborers Following Route Flagged By Federal Crews

ASHEVILLE—The axes are ringing on the mountain slopes near Asheville carving out the preliminary route for the Southern Appalachian Parkway connecting the Shenandoah and Great Smoky Mountains national parks and by the end of this week, the state's locating party of 27 men, employing 30 other local laborers, will be based in Asheville.

The party, in charge of G. A. McKinley, senior engineer, will move in here from Spruce Pine and will have offices in the old home demonstration room on the third floor of the court house.

Five of the party already here are

NOTICE

"Mr. Edwin Haynes, Register of Deeds, is mailing out notices to threshing machine operators. The new state law requires each machine to be licensed and to make acreage and bushel reports for each crop and farm threshed. Those expecting to operate, even if for their own farm only, should see Mr. Edwin Haynes promptly and get a record book; as well as a 1935 license card.

NOTICE OF EXECUTOR STATE OF NORTH CAROLINA, HAYWOOD COUNTY.

Having qualified as Executor of A. E. Allison, deceased, this is to notify all persons that have claims against said estate to present the same to the undersigned on or before the 28th day of June, 1935, or this notice will be pleaded in bar of their recovery. All persons indebted to said estate please settle same at once. This the 24th day of June, 1935. FRED ALLISON, Executor of A. E. Allison, Deceased. June 27-July 4-11-18-25-Aug. -

ADMINISTRATOR'S NOTICE

Having qualified as administrator of the estate of T. N. Massie, Sr., deceased, this is to notify all persons having claims against the estate of the deceased to the same with the Clerk of the Superior Court of Haywood County, on or before the 18th day of July, 1935, or this notice will be pleaded in bar of such recovery. Any persons indebted to said estate will please make settlement at once. This the 18th day of July, 1935. T. G. MASSIE, Administrator, Estate of T. N. Massie, Sr., Deceased No. 368—July 18-25—Aug. 1-8-15-22.

V. M. Utter, J. G. Gibbs, C. D. Driver, W. B. Bakefield, and J. S. Lawrence. They were assigned office space in the court house by Commissioner Sam A. Johnson.

Mr. McKinley said that if weather is favorable, the party will remain based in Asheville for about six weeks, while cutting preliminary route for the parkway from Pinnacle in the Black Mountain range, through the Craggies, down to the Swannanoa river near Oteen, across the French Broad at Bent Creek, then up to Pisgah and over to Balsam Gap.

This state locating party is following the federal flagging party, which is at present flagging near Oteen.

They are cutting away sufficient trees and brush to use the transits, and then are clearing a 500 foot swath along their route—cutting away only enough woods through so that the federal engineers can see the route definitely and size up quickly its advantages and disadvantages.

Besides the 27 men in the park on the state highway department's regular payroll, about 30 or 40 day laborers are hired in each locality as the party proceeds to do the cutting and other heavy work.

The federal flagging party, which is preceding the locating party, is headed by E. W. Alfater, senior engineer of the forestry bureau of public roads.

Rhinoceros Largest Animal
The largest known land mammal of all times was a giant rhinoceros of 5,000,000 years ago, found in Asia.

Nervous, Weak Woman Soon All Right

"I had regular shaking spells from nervousness," writes Mrs. Oora Sanders, of Paragould, Ark. "I was all run-down and cramped at my time until I would have to go to bed. After my first bottle of Cardui, I was better. I kept taking Cardui and soon I was all right. The shaking quit and I did not cramp. I felt worlds better. I gave Cardui to my daughter who was in about the same condition and she was soon all right." Thousands of women testify Cardui benefited them. If it does not benefit YOU, consult a physician.
