Principals Involved In Tugwell Controversy

Makes Good Record

COACH CARLETON WEATHERBY
(Waynesville Hi-Life.)

In the fall of '29 Coach C. E. Weatherby came to the local high school to take a position which had been held for three years previous by Coach C. C. Poindexter. In this responsible position as director and coach of athletics, Mr. Weatherby's teams have made one of the best records compiled by any Western North Carolina eleven. Before coming to Waynesville Coach Weatherby attended Duke University where he played three years of varsity football, being selected on the All-State team in his senior year. Mr. Weatherby also played freshman football and baseball during his senior year.

Since coming to Waynesville, Coach Weatherby has received a great following of friends and football fans. He has trained many boys and girls in the art of sportsmanship and developed numerous outstanding players with several of them receiving All-Western honors both in football and baseball.

His football teams have won four-fifths of their games, with Asheville High being the only team to win over Waynesville with any regularity. The Weatherby teams have defeated Canton six out of seven games. Waynesville High is fortunate in having an outstanding coach such as Mr. Weatherby.

Cape Breton Giant

Angus McAskill, known as the Cape Breton giant, was born in the Hebrides of Scotland in 1825 and died in 1863 in Nova Scotia. He is buried in the cemetery of St. Ann's, N. S. McAskill was 7 feet 9 inches tall, weighed 560 pounds, had span of hand 12 inches, foot 18 inches long, chest 90 inches. He performed before Queen Victoria in the fifties. One of his feats of strength was to shoulder an anchor weighing 2,200 pounds, to which was attached six fathoms of chain and walk with it a long distance. Another reported feat was to hold a pound of bulk tea in his hand.

Height of Tea Bushes

A tea bush growing naturally may reach a height of 30 feet, but on tea plantations the bushes are pruned every year.

Women Who Have Pains Try CARDUI Next Time!

On account of poor nourishment, many women suffer functional pains at certain times, and it is for these that Cardui is offered on the record of the safe relief it has brought and the good it has done in helping to overcome the cause of womanly discomfort. Mrs. Cole Young, of Leesville, La., writes: "I was suffering with irregular . . . I had quite a lot of pain which made me nervous. I took Cardui and found it helped me in every way, making me regular and stopping the pain. This quieted my nerves, making my health much better." If Cardui does not benefit YOU, consult a physician.

Wind
Wind is air in motion, resulting from atmospheric pressure by which air is forced to move from a place of high barometric pressure to a place of lower pressure.

vegetarianism
Vegetarianism was known in ancient India, and was advocated by Plato and Plutarch. It became a cult in England under George Cheyne in 1671.

Theaters Had Only Matinees
In the public theaters in the Elizabethan period the plays began in the early afternoon, usually between two and three o'clock, and lasted for about two hours.

Width of Potomac at Capital
The Potomac river at Washington is about 2,000 feet. When it enters Chesapeake bay it is about six miles wide. The lower Potomac covers what is known as a drowned valley.
