HERE and THERE

In a recent book "Portraits and Self-Portraits," by George Schreiber, which tells how forty famous authors look and write . . . there is a sketch of Asheville's famous Tom Wolfe . . . in which I am sure all Western Carolinians will be interested. The book includes portraits by Schreiber, and short sketches of the authors by themselves. . . Mr. Wolfe's sketch is described as one of the best in the book. . . Considering how very thoroughly Mr. Wolfe exposed the details of his life and that of his family and friends in his novels . . . one can not help but entertain a great curiosity as to how much he gives out in this interview with himself. . .

We honor this week in this column . . . Captain Cecil Brown, of the Mountain Circle Corps of the Salvation Army . . . who in a quiet way is reaching and helping many persons, whose lives are not touched by other groups in Haywood county. . . Born and reared in the Hartman community . . . after several years of experience in the work of the Salvation Army . . . in one of the more important fields in the state . . . she has realized her ambition to come back to her people . . . and in the name of the Salvation Army minister to this section. . . she has been here for more than two years . . . and her accomplishments have now won the support of the Salvation Army of the South . . . and she will soon have an assistant in her work. . . as Captain Brown says, "I do not interfere with churches. . . there is enough for us all to do."

To those of you who may be . . . I thought I'd get you a little . . . here at home "even though it's a little late" . . . take heart . . . from the following . . . maybe your experience might match the Woodward's. . . I surely believed my eyes . . . when I met Mr. Woodward on Main street late Monday afternoon . . . for he and Mrs. Woodward had told me goodbye before Christmas . . . as they were leaving for an extended stay in Florida . . . noting my surprise . . . Mr. Woodward offered this explanation . . . "Well, it was as hot as July . . . so we decided we might as well come on back home and enjoy a change of seasons . . . before our summer begins here. . ."

At the beginning of the new year when most of us take stock of the past twelve months . . . and find ourselves as a result . . . making certain mental reservations . . . whether definite new year's resolutions or not . . . of the things we hope to improve upon during the next turn of the year . . . I find in talking to others that everyone seems to be a bit more cheerful over the prospects of 1937. . .

As one woman expressed it . . . "I think everybody I have seen, has had the best Christmas in years . . . one reason is that most of us are more certain of where the next meal is coming from than we were three or four years ago. . ."

And as one man said . . . "I haven't got a bit more than I had two or three years ago . . . but a lot of other folks have . . . and I am not out of the 'woods yet.'" . . . but I can see glimpses of the sunshine . . . and can get a glimmer of some way to work out of my problems."

All of which takes . . . naturally a political turn . . . so here's hoping that our great leader Franklin Delano Roosevelt, . . . will succeed during the next four years to lead us all out of the "wilderness" . . . for we face 1937 with a more secure feeling . . . that there is a better day ahead. . .

MISS MARY MORROW BEATTY GIVES INFORMAL PARTY

Miss Mary Morrow Beatty, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Beatty, entertained a group of her friends with a party at the home of her mother, on Thursday afternoon. The living room was adorned with Christmas greens.

Contract was enjoyed at two tables, with the following playing: Miss Thomasine Stringfield, Miss Catherine Martin, Miss Dolle Marsh, Miss Irene Messie, Miss Sara Jane Walker, Miss Jane Whites, and Miss Marguerite Murphy.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Patton had as their guests during Christmas their seven children, several of whom live in distant states. It was the first time the family had been together in twenty years.

Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Lee and daughter, Mrs. Bees Lee Page, have returned from Charleston, West Va., where they were the guests during the holidays of Mr. and Mrs. Cameron Lewis.

Mr. and Mrs. George Anderson have returned from Parkersburg, West Va., where they spent the holidays with relatives.

MISS SARA ELIZABETH MOODY WEDS MR. ROBERT W. JAMES

The marriage of Miss Sara Elizabeth Moody, of Canton, to Mr. Robert W. James, of Clyde, which was solemnized on Christmas Day was announced this week by the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Moody. The Rev. Thomas Irwin performed the ceremony.

The bride is a graduate of the Bethel high school, and has recently been connected with Abbotts' Hotel Corporation in New York and Camden, S. C.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. James, of Clyde, and was educated at Mars Hill and Carson-Newman College. For the past four years he has been a member of the faculty of the Cecil school. The young couple will reside at Lake Logan.

Miss Louise Rotha, who teaches in the high school of Salisbury, was the guest during the week of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Rotha, Miss Rotha was en route to Salisbury after spending the holidays in Florida.

Lady Took Cardui When Weak, Nervous

"I can't say enough for Cardui if I talked all day," enthusiastically writes Mrs. L. H. Caldwell, of Statesville, N. C. "I have used Cardui at intervals for twenty-five years," she adds. "My trouble in the beginning was weakness and nervousness. I read of Cardui in a newspaper and decided right then to try it. It seemed before I had taken half a bottle of Cardui I was stronger and was soon up and around."

Thousands of women testify Cardui benefited them. If it does not benefit YOU, consult a physician.
