

Welcomed news to football fans, is that there will be 26 Tar Heel boys on the N. C. State squad this fall. This will probably be more native sons than on any other Big Five squad. The fact that makes it so interesting, is that the fans would not have such a hard time trying to pronounce the names of some guards and tackles, to say nothing of the poor sport writers in having to spell them.

The 18-inning game between Asheville and Rocky Mount last week—Asheville finally dropping the score by one run—went down on the books of the Piedmont League as a record for the number of innings. Another feature of the game, was that Asheville's pitcher, Han Gornicki, tossed good ball all 18 innings without relief.

The urge to see big time baseball, together with a public wedding on the diamond, took many Waynesville fans to Asheville Tuesday of this week.

Two men spent an afternoon together at golf. They were not very well acquainted, and at the clubhouse afterward one said to the other, "By the way, what is your line of business?"

"I am a minister," was the reply. The other in great confusion apologized to the cloth for the shocking profanity he had used on the course. "Never mind," twinkled the minister, "I'd probably swear, too, if I played as badly as you do."

N. C. State College will open its 1938 football season the night of September 24 in Charlotte against Davidson College.

Chick Doak, N. C. State College football coach, tutored the Raleigh American Legion junior baseball team. His assistant is Bob Warren, State varsity backfield coach.

John VonGlahn, business manager of the athletic department of N. C. State College, raises fine breeds of Dashedunds and Scottish Terrier dogs.

Although he never ran on a cinder track except in inter-collegiate competition, Bill Davis won three varsity letters at N. C. State College.

John Sexton, president of the N. C. State College, general alumni association, was a star lefthanded pitcher during his college days.

Farm Questions and Answers

Question: When should the poultry laying flock be culled?

Answer: This, of course, depends upon laying conditions and the period of molt. The flock should be watched carefully during the early summer and when production falls below thirty per cent it is time to start culling. The earlier the molt, the more rigid the culling. The bird that has been properly fed and goes into a molt in June, July, or even August should be removed from the flock. The price of feed, the feed cost per dozen eggs, and the price that eggs are bringing should also be considered when culling.

Question: Should tobacco plant beds be plowed up after the plants are pulled?

Answer: By all means. The beds should be plowed and all remaining plants killed as these plants furnish breeding places for thousands of insects that spread to the tobacco in the field and cause serious damage.

Dr. "Kirk" Brings Back Good "Catch"

In spite of the fact that many candidates are over-joyed with their victory, none were wearing as broad a smile as Dr. W. L. Kirkpatrick here Wednesday morning.

Dr. "Kirk" went back into the hills Tuesday afternoon, and arrived here shortly before noon Wednesday with a dozen or so of the finest fish brought back this season.

"After working hard for 46 years, I figured I was entitled to 'take off' one day once in a while for fishing," he said, as he chewed on his old corn-cob pipe and rubbed the bib of his fishing overalls.

to the growing weed. That, too, failure to plow the bed may result in a serious outbreak of blue mold next year. The bed should be seeded to sweet potatoes or some other garden vegetable immediately after plowing.

Question: When is the best time for seeding the fall garden?

Answer: This depends upon the hardness of the different vegetables and upon the time required for maturity. Tender vegetables should be planted in time to produce a crop before killing frosts occur. Many of the cool-season crops will mature through light frosts, but most of them should be planted in time to reach maturity before the heavy frosts. A table giving planting dates for seasonal vegetables is given in Extension Circular 122 and this may be obtained free upon application to the Agricultural Editor at State College.

Question: When is the best time to caponize cockerels for the early market?

Answer: As it usually takes from eight to eleven months to properly develop and finish a capon, the birds should be caponized from mid-June until August. Caponizing at this time also takes late-hatched cockerels off the market when broiler prices are low. Birds from one and one-half to two pounds in weight may be used. Only vigorous cockerels should be used for this purpose and it is not economical to caponize Leghorns or the smaller breeds.

Question: How many trees should be left to the acre in thinning a timber stand?

Answer: About 200 of the thickest, best-crowned trees should be selected and reserved for the future crop. Trees that interfere with these should be cut out. The stand should be thinned and weeded just the same as a cotton patch. The best timber cut should be held for poles and saw logs as this class of timber brings from two to four times as much as firewood. In all thinning operations, cut out all crooked or poorly formed trees as well as those that are fire-scarred and diseased.

Question: When should I treat my sheep for stomach worms?

Answer: Drenching for stomach worms should begin about June 1. Usually one or two treatments is sufficient for mature animals, but in cases of severe infestation, both the lambs and ewes should be treated every two to four weeks until frost. Keep the animals to be drenched off feed for 24 hours before and after drenching. Pregnant ewes or lambs that are under two months of age should not be treated.

Beacon Defeats Manufacturers; Too Many Errors

Beacon Gets Seven Runs, Hazelwood 5. Both Teams Make Four Errors.

The strong Beacon team scored five runs in the sixth inning as Saturday against Hazelwood, and defeated the Manufacturers 7 to 5 in an interesting game, with both teams making four errors.

L. Byrd was on the mound for the Manufacturers, and allowed 19 hits while Rymer, Beacon hurler, let the Hazelwood batters send out nine hits.

Hazelwood made a threat in the eighth inning to overcome the Beacon lead, when they sent three runners across home plate, but Beacon tightened, and held their two-run margin for the remainder of the game.
