

Cabinet Maker Makes Novel Table From One Hundred Woods

When asked what his next venture would be, he remarked that if the table was sold he would start another—larger and more elaborate. If it did not sell, he would continue to repair furniture and make up special orders for his customers.

One of his first creations in wood, was a wooden bicycle. Back in 1901, he built this bicycle, which was without pedals or chain, but would coast down hill for long distances. It was on this wheel that the boys of the neighborhood learned to ride, and when the time came when they could own a real bicycle, all of them could ride.

In 1908 Mr. Miller made a Jesse James show of wooden toys and exhibited them at the Haywood County Fair. Many people often speak of this unique piece of work to Mr. Miller today.

Not so long ago he invented an automatic handsaw fling machine. Not all of this machine was made of wood, however.

Later he added a double saw fling set to his inventions, and also a saw clamp.

In 1925 he patented a toy, which had a dog chasing a rabbit and a hunter appearing on the scene as the rabbit disappeared in a hollow log. The toy was operated by a mechanism run by a stout spring.

Three years ago, he decided he would tackle clock-making. So after looking into an ordinary clock he found that there were fourteen essential wheels. He figured at least half of them were useless, even though the clock was made by a large manufacturing company. Any way, he proceeded, and when he finished the job, he had a clock that would keep perfect time, run 40 hours without winding, and it only had seven wheels.

Mr. Miller not only possesses a gift for making wooden and mechanical things, but has an ear for music. During his life he has made 18 guitars, 20 violins and several harps. And when time begins to drag on his hands with these things, he turns to guns, and assumes the role of an expert gunsmith.

All his life has not been spent as a cabinet-maker. He has tried the lumber business and other things, but there is always something that draws him back to whittling, he explains.

He has no idea what he might start on tomorrow, but he is sure of one thing, there will be some whittling to do, or he won't start.

And so, for fifty-one years, he has not only found contentment and enjoy whittling, but has made a good living at it besides.

The one hundred woods in the table, includes: Red amon, dogwood, white oak, privet, apple wood, swamp dogwood, yellow amon, Norway spruce, black hawk, seven bar, crabapple, white holly, Japanese maple, hazelnut, black pine, cucumber, red hickory, elder, white ash, red plum, wild gooseberry, red birch.

Spice wood, chestnut, yellow poplar, white hickory, boxelder, wahoo, mahogany, birch, wild plum, yellow willow, sycamore, hemlock, catalpa, white rhododendron, bamboo briar,

Wage-Hour Chief

Co-operation of industry and police methods will be relied on to enforce the wage-hour act, said Elmer Andrews when he assumed his new post as chief of the federal branch regulating labor conditions. Andrews, appointed by the president, also served under him in the labor department in New York state when Roosevelt was governor.

Survey Of Crops In State Near Complete

The North Carolina Department of Agriculture's annual farm census survey, giving complete information on the acreage for all 1938 crops, will be completed by September 15, Farm Census Supervisor S. M. Hines, has announced.

Tabulations of the crop reports furnished by county tax listers were begun May 15. North Carolina is the only Southern state rendering this service.

To make a novel, colorful Summer salad, stuff dark red seeded cherries with white cream cheese. Serve twelve per portion on crisp lettuce leaves. Add a thick French dressing.

Cash, Duckett, Chambers Reunion Set For Aug. 13th

The reunion of the Cash-Duckett-Chambers families will be held Saturday, August 13, at Harmony church, Banks County, Georgia, on the Homer and Cornelia highway, six miles South east of Cornelia.

Speakers on the program to represent the families will be Richard E. Russell, Winder, Ga., Rev. J. B. Townsend, pastor of the Presbyterian church, Anderson, S. C., and Prof. George Chambers, Homer, Ga.

Much interesting data has been found since last year and plans are underway to start compiling a book on these families. A basket lunch will be served, according to Mary Cash Lane, secretary.

State Low In Burley

Although North Carolina produces about 70 per cent of the total flue-cured tobacco in the United States, it produces only about two per cent of the total burley crop, reports the State Department of Agriculture.

$500 Safety Award Helps Build Church

The rebuilding of historic Calvary Episcopal church at Fletcher, N. C., which was burned three years ago, will be virtually completed with the $500 first prize of the Puro-Pep Drive Safely Crusade contest for June. John E. Schley (top right), Asheville insurance man and senior warden at the church, who won the prize, is seen as he received the $500 check from Wiley L. Moore, of Atlanta, president of the Pure Oil Company of the Carolinas. A few minutes later, Mr. Schley presented the check to A. L. Montfort-Bebb, of Fletcher, chairman of the building committee of the church, to be applied on the rebuilding of the church, which was originally built in 1859. Calvary church is one of the most historic churches in North Carolina. It was rebuilt at a cost of about $26,000. Mr. Schley's contribution furnished $500 of the last $1,000 needed for completion of the structure, which is seen in the lower picture as it appears today.

Farm Questions

Question: When should hens be culled from the flock?

Answer: It is suggested that when egg production is especially in the summer months below 30 per cent it is time for the entire flock to be handled. If a more complete record is needed before it could be culled from the flock. The price received for a dozen eggs should be compared with the cost of feed, and the profit before any intensive culling. Watch the flock for signs of disease and dispose of them as soon as they appear or when production appears to be dropping. The removal of these birds is a care of the culling in time to select breeding birds.

Question: What is the best cut lespedeza for hay?

Answer: Lespedeza should be cut when it attains a height of 25 inches or when it is in full bloom, whichever occurs first. The best time is the Korean variety in 2000 August 1 to September 1 and fifteen days later for the other varieties. In July and August are dry and September wet, the main growth of Common, Tennessee 70 and Korean varieties will take place in September and it will pay to delay cutting on October 1 or later. If cut early however, lespedeza will make a second growth to make up for the loss. It is seldom possible to get a hay crop and a seed crop in one year.
