Cut Off His Hand

Carl Winkler

Because he wanted to quit the Michigan National Guard which he had joined a month ago and thought there was no other way out, Carl Winkler, 24, of Detroit, severed his right hand with six blows of a hatchet, according to police. Winkler told police, "I don't like guns or the thought of fighting." Winkler is shown in a hospital.

PREFERS SALES TAX TO PROPERTY TAXES

A woman in Charlotte is urging the commissioners there to reduce property taxes by imposing a three per cent sales tax in addition to the state sales levy.

"We are sick and tired of paying taxes to feed lazy, good-for-nothing men," she wrote. "We have been down to cornbread and fatback but we've never asked for relief. I buy groceries for a family of nine and never spend more than $5 a week."

RICHMOND EDITOR TO PREACH AT THE UNION SERVICES

The guest preacher at the union service Sunday at the Methodist church will be the Rev. J. M. Rowland, D. D., of Richmond, Va.

Dr. Rowland for the past sixteen years has been editor of the Richmond Christian Advocate. He is a native of North Carolina, where he preached for some years before moving to Virginia.

Dr. Rowland is known throughout the country as a preacher, author,

13 From Haywood Take 4-H Club Short Course

Thirteen delegates from Haywood county were among the 900 attending the annual 4-H club short course in Raleigh recently.

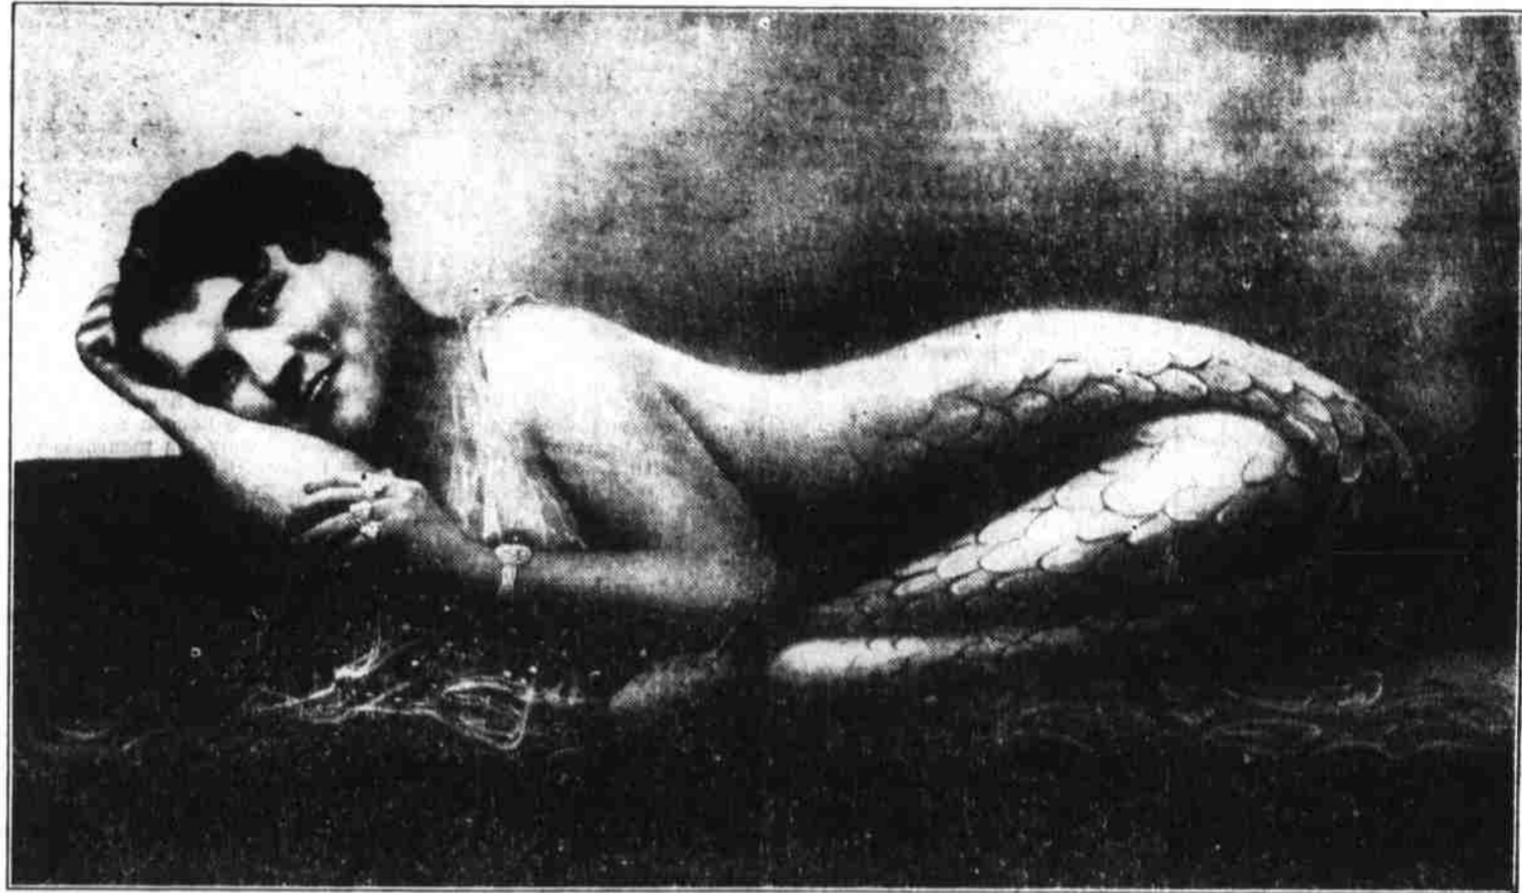

The Haywood group staged a play for one evening's entertainment. The mornings were spent in study, the editor and lecturer. Two of his books have their scenes laid in Western North Carolina: "Blue Ridge Breezes," and "The Hillbillies." He is widely popular both in his ministry and his lecturing as a humorist.

WHEAT QUOTA
North Carolina's 1939 acreage allotment for wheat has been set at 363,117 acres. During 1938, farmers of this state seeded 524,000 acres.

Sea-Tiny, Living Mermaid With Marine Show

Sea-Tiny, pictured above, has been a mecca of interest with the Mammoth Marine Hippodrome. Sea-Tiny is one of life's tragedies for where ever she is placed, there she must stay until someone goes for her. She must always, when not in the water have someone within call and consequently she can never know the meaning of an individual life.

Sea-Tiny is one of the feature attractions with the Mammoth Marine Hippodrome which will exhibit in Waynesville for one day only, Tuesday, Aug. 16. The exhibition, on a specially constructed railroad car over 100 feet long, will be located near Main street and Rogers street and will be open to the public from noon until 10 p. m. Admission ten cents.
