

It seems that Hazelwood has really got the baseball fever, with the Manufacturers, the "big team," in the league, and the Independent League, and the Independent League composed of Hendrix, the company and Allen's Creek, and made up of several workers from the Tapestry Mill, Barber's Orphanage and Satmook.

These teams play among themselves, and on several occasions have played the Clyde team. The teams are not out for any title, but solely for the sake of the game and for recreation.

And while on the subject of recreation, have you been down to the shuffleboards on North Main street? There are several who play in the day and at night they are lined up waiting their turn to push the disks.

With only two boards on which to shuffle, it takes some time for those waiting to get their chance to play the game. We hope there will be several more available before next year, so that everyone can be taken care of.

The horse-riding Tate family are still winning cups, ribbons, and what have you in the horse shows that are held over this and neighboring states. Their newest addition to their long list of prizes was acquired at the horse show staged at Blowing Rock recently.

The professional football teams of the South are looking for their material this season below the Mason-Dixon line with quite a few slated to come from this state.

We wonder if a lot of this did not originate when our own Freddy Crawford...

Golf Marathoner

J. Smith Feeber

One of the oddest bets on record was made by J. Smith Feeber of Chicago when he wagered his half interest in a $30,000 plantation and $2,500 additional in cash that he could play 144 holes of golf between dawn and dusk, completing each round in 95 or less. And he did it.

ford was named on an All-American team and later went in for professional ball—at least we think this broke the ice.

Manufacturers To Play Sayles; Tryon Rained Out

The Tryon-Hazelwood Manufacturers game was rained out last Saturday at Tryon with only four innings of the game played.

In the course of the four innings that were played, Monteith, hurler for the Manufacturers, only allowed one ball to be hit, striking out five men. Hazelwood managed to get six hits and five runs when the clouds opened up and the rain began falling to stop the game.

The Manufacturers will play at home this coming Saturday when they tangle with Sayles Bleachery. Both the teams are playing good ball the second half and the game Saturday is classed as a headliner.

With Monteith back in the lineup for the Manufacturers, and Putnam and Eyrd also on the mound the game should not drag or run up to a high score on either side.

Many Prizes Being Offered At Benefit

A benefit party which will strengthen the treasury of the Manufacturers is scheduled for next Tuesday night, August 16 at the junior high school building.

The admission is within reason of all who wish to play the popular game. The team is in need of funds to continue playing in the Industrial League.

There will be a varied list of prizes to be given, and with the small admission charge you play 'til you win or until the prizes are all taken. Plan now to attend.

Fans Buying Tickets For Carolina-Duke Game At Fast Clip

Press agents for the state's leading football teams are already flooding the desks of sports editors with ballyhoo for the coming season, which can't be far off now.

Fans are aware of the nearness of the season that it now appears that all tickets for the Carolina-Duke game at Chapel Hill on October 29 may be disposed of before October 1, judging by the large number of requests received to date.

Applications in hand will absorb practically all tickets inside the 35-yard line on both sides of the field. Tickets for the Tulane which will be played at Chapel Hill on October 8 are also going at a fast clip.

The other home games for Carolina will be with Wake Forest on September 24 and with V. P. I. on November 5.

The Tar Heels play a nine-game schedule this year. The other games are with N. C. State in Raleigh, October 1; New York University in New York, October 15; Davidson at Davidson, October 22; Fordham in New York, November 12; and Virginia at Charlottesville on Thanksgiving Day, November 24.

BOXING OVER

The American Legion announced that the boxing and wrestling bouts which they have been sponsoring recently, will be discontinued as far as the Legion is concerned.

If some other organization or individuals decide to continue the bouts the American Legion will not be connected in any way. The bouts failed to create enough interest to pay expenses and thereby causing the Legion to discontinue sponsorship.

The bouts may be continued under a different setup but nothing definite has been decided as yet.
