MARRIAGE OF INTEREST TOOK PLACE SATURDAY

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Therrell, of Atlanta, have announced the marriage of their sister, Mrs. Caroline Ashton Hyatt to James D. Henderson, of Canton. The wedding was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. Lenoir Gwyn, with the Rev. H. K. Marsteller, pastor of the Baptist church, of Canton, officiating. Only members of the two families and a small group of intimate friends attended.

The vows were taken before an improvised altar of greenery and white flowers, with floor candelabra holding lighted tapers on either side, in front of which were tall silver vases containing white and yellow dahlias.

Prior to the ceremony Miss Margaret Stringfield, violinist, accompanied by Miss Grace Crocker, rendered a program of nuptial music. The march from Lohengrin was used for the entrance of the bride and groom, who came down the stairway and entered the living room together, unattended. During the ceremony, "To a Wild Rose" by McDowell, was softly played.

The bride wore a becoming costume suit of sheer wool in teal blue, with short coat trimmed in beaver. Her hat was of soft felt in a similar shade of blue, and her accessories were of brown. She wore a corsage of pink roses and swansonia.

Mrs. Henderson is the daughter of the late Nora and Herbert Frank Ashton. On her maternal side she belongs to an old Western North Carolina family, and from her father is descended from the Ashtons of Brookline, Mass. She was educated at Lucy Cobb Institute, now a part of the University of Georgia, and is a graduate of the Woodberry School for Girls, of Atlanta. For the past few years she has been connected with the district health department.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James E. Henderson, of Canton, and his family has been prominently identified with the political and business life of the county for many years. He resides in Canton, where he is associated with his father in a contracting firm.

Following a fortnight's trip to New Orleans and other points on the Gulf Coast Mr. and Mrs. Henderson will return to Waynesville, and for the present will reside in the Kirkpatrick apartments.

After the ceremony an informal reception was held, with Mrs. Harry Marshall, Mrs. James R. Thomas, Miss Betsy Lane Quinlan, and Mrs. James Atkins, Jr., assisting in receiving.

Yellow and white flowers in various arrangements were used throughout
