

57-Year-Old Negro,
Now With 8th Husband,
Seeks Old Age Pension

Applying for old age assistance here recently, Anne, who is quite a Whensville character of dusky color, was told to supply necessary information about herself. Here's what she brought in:

"To name of Mae Concern: This is to certify that Annie Bell Bowden is living with 8th husband. Mother and father's name Mary Elizer, Father Willie Henry Nobles and she was the mother of twenty-one (21) children. "Mother was bit by a snake. Father was kicked by a mule and died from it. Husband No. 1, Judge Mitchell shot to death gambling in Florida. Left me with 2 children. No. 2 husband, Harvie Brown Runkleson was froze to death from drinking, left 2 children. No. 3, Jim Henry Johnson, home, Macon, G. A., died of Bright disease, left 10 children. No. 4 husband Shaw Lewis died with stroke digging wells, left 11 children.

"No. 5 husband George White from Hope Well, Va. got burnt up, fell in lumum pot at Petersburg, Pa., left two children. No. 6 husband, Willie Brown, native of Richmond, Va., he died from launching ships at Carolina Ship yard, Wilmington, N. C. No. 7 husband, Charlie Moten from Horry County, S. C. died from cramp, 1 child left.

"The husband that I am living with now name Henry Bowden, Cumberland, M. D. making a total of 8 husbands. Yours truly, Annie Bell Bowden. Her age is 87 years."

When Anne brought the letter of information in to Mrs. Nip, the welfare officer, asked her:

"Anne, you didn't write this, did you?"

"No mam," Annie replied, "but I supposed it."

CAN'T KEEP 'EM DOWN ON FARM

The bright lights of the city and jobs in factories have lured workers away from the farm in ever-increasing numbers.

A Census Bureau survey issued in Washington showed that 53 per cent of all the nation's gainful workers were on the farm in 1870.

In 1930, only 21.4 per cent of gainful workers were in this basic industry.

$10 Mortgage Given On Odd
Items of Personal Property

Back in the flourishing days of 1926, money must have been flourishing in Haywood County, that a mortgage on anything was considered good collateral. At least such is the case of one mortgage on record in the Haywood register of deeds office.

Back in these flourishing days, a certain man in these parts, owed the sum of ten dollars to a woman in the community. She held a note, which was due the first day of September, 1936, and her security was a mortgage as follows:

"These articles of personal property, to-wit: one empty quart fruit jar, formerly used to hold corn whiskey, one old felt hat, so old that the mind of man runneth not to the contrary when it was bought."

The record is duly signed by the clerk of court, a witness and the register of deeds.

Was the mortgage ever paid? If it wasn't the holder of the mortgage did not realize her full $10, we bet.
