

Thanksgiving

1621

The wilderness was their chosen lot in which their homes they made . . .
The Pilgrims, though, ne'er once forgot to give thanks for what God gave.

1938

We've even more to be thankful for
. . . safety, homes, our nation . . .
Let's all bow down once more and pray . . . in Pilgrim emulation.

There's A Lot For Which
EVERYONE
Should Be THANKFUL

WE have a tremendous lot to be thankful for in spite of depressions and unemployment . . . and the indications are that even these two things are greatly lessened. At any rate, we aren't at war, either diplomatically or militarily; we can be thankful for that. We still are free men; almost a rarity in this disturbed world. We still have families, friends, books, music . . . all things to be thankful for. Our blessings extend even into the field of business . . . a man can still choose his own calling, unhampered by despotic power. The firms of this community, for instance, are free and independent . . . free to bring the world's wares to you right here at home. This, perhaps, is one of our greatest blessings . . . it permits you to go down town, get everything you need for Thanksgiving, or any time during the whole year, at prices that are fair to one and all. Let us be genuinely thankful!
