

Following The News With A Camera

Threatened F. D. R.?

Benjamin S. Kitchener

Arrested as a vagrant at Tucson, Ariz., Benjamin S. Kitchener, 59-year-old German war veteran and United States army ex-service man, is being held for investigation in connection with the sending of a letter threatening to "throw sulphuric acid" in the eyes of President Roosevelt. Handwriting in the letter resembled that of Kitchener's, according to federal investigators.

Youngest U. S. Solor

Lindley Beckworth

Only 25, Lindley Beckworth of Texas will be the youngest member of the new house of representatives. Beckworth, a former school teacher, unseated Representative Morgan Sanders, a veteran of 18 years in the house, in the Democratic primaries.

Proof That There Is A Santa Claus

An organ for youngsters

Doll mothers like to play laundress and serve tea

"Learn by doing" is play motto of many children

These scenes were taken shortly after the break of dawn on Christmas morning, and proves beyond a shadow of a doubt that Santa Claus did make his annual visit to some homes at least.

Co-ed Has "It"

Elizabeth Warren

In a campus-wide poll conducted by the student newspaper and comic magazine at University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill, N. C., Elizabeth Warren of Monroe, N. C., was selected as the co-ed having the most sex appeal on the campus. Jim LeLanne, football star, won the male honor.

Bride of Curtis Dall

Mrs. Curtis B. Dall

In a ceremony performed at the home of her parents at Haverford, Pa., Katherine Miller Leas, above, becomes the bride of Curtis B. Dall, ex-husband of Mrs. Anna Roosevelt Boettiger, daughter of the president.

Sun Bowl Queen

Margaret Elizabeth McKee

To blonde Margaret Elizabeth McKee, 20, goes the honor of reigning as queen of the 1939 Southwestern Sun Carnival at El Paso, Tex., to be held in conjunction with the Sun Bowl football game between the Universities of Utah and New Mexico.

New $500,000 Home for Heiress Nearly Ready

View of the Doris Duke Cromwell home being built in Honolulu

Located on the ocean front at Honolulu, the new $500,000 home of Doris Duke Cromwell, the tobacco heiress, nears completion. At the left is the elaborate "playhouse" which adjoins a huge swimming pool. At the extreme right is the main room, with walls of glass. Between the two structures is a private yacht harbor, enclosed by a heavy breakwater made from native lava rock.

Robert Irwin

Laughing one minute and sobbing the next, Robert Irwin wears a sentence of 139 years in Sing Sing prison for the murder of Veronica Gideon, her mother and a roomer in the Gideon home. He is pictured just after coming to the New York penitentiary.

Pearl Buck Gets Nobel Prize

Pearl Buck and King Gustav

In a brilliant ceremony in the Stockholm concert house, Pearl Buck, American writer, receives from King Gustav V of Sweden the 1938 Nobel prize in literature. Mrs. Buck received a parchment certificate bound in tooled leather, the Nobel medal and a check for an amount equal in American money to about $37,700.

And Was the Driver Surprised?

How parked car sank on street

Imagine the surprise the owner of this automobile received when he returned from a restaurant in New York to find his auto, which he had parked but an hour before, in this condition. Another auto struck a fire hydrant in Flushing, breaking it at the base. The resultant flood undermined the street, plunging the parked auto into this flooded hole.

Part of New York's "El" Passes

The "El" in operation in olden days

After 60 years New York's Sixth avenue elevated passes out of existence, to be replaced in 1940 by a subway. Few recall the "El" when it was hauled by steam locomotives. Here's a picture, printed through the courtesy of the Museum of the City of New York, showing the "El" in the old days, with a steam locomotive hauling a load uptown.