

Hay. Baptist Asso. To Hold Preachers Revival Next Week

Will Take Place At Ratcliff Cove Church. Services To Be Held In Ten Churches

The Haywood County Baptist Association will sponsor a preacher's revival, which will be held at the Ratcliff Cove Baptist church beginning Monday, the 9th, and lasting through Friday the 13th.

The opening session will convene at 10 o'clock Monday, with the following in charge of the devotional periods each morning during the week: Monday, Rev. L. F. Clark; Tuesday, Rev. John Finger; Wednesday, Rev. Wesley Mehaffey; Thursday, Rev. Doc Russell, and Friday, Rev. R. T. Reynolds.

Bible study will be conducted by the Rev. H. K. Masteller. A conference on pastoral problems will feature each morning session with the following leaders in the order named, starting on Monday: The Rev. W. N. Cook, "How can we bring our members to commit themselves more intelligently and completely to the church covenant; the Rev. W. M. Gerald, "What can be done in our public worship services to bring our people face to face with God;" the Rev. Don C. Young, "How can we reach our men with vital teaching about missions, and enlist them in our Baptist programs."

The Rev. J. S. Hopkins, "How can we develop a consciousness of the kingdom of God on earth;" the Rev. F. H. Leatherwood, "In the ordination of preachers what requirements should the candidate and ordaining church be expected to meet."

In the afternoon sessions the following will have charge of the devotional periods as follows: Monday, the Rev. Erwin Scott; Tuesday, Kennedy Messer; Wednesday, the Rev. M. T. Mann; Thursday, the Rev. Ellis Arrington; Friday, the Rev. Emanuel Wyatt.

The Rev. J. C. Pipes will discuss Stewardship each day. The afternoon sessions will be devoted to "Hastening a spiritual awakening in our church." Taking part on this program will be: Monday, Rev. R. P. McCracken, "What are the prerequisites of a spiritual awakening;" Tuesday, the Rev. P. C. Hicks, "Are there any evidence that a spiritual awakening is already beginning;" Wednesday, the Rev. J. M. Woodard, "What should be the aim of a revival and what method should be used;" Thursday, the Rev. F. H. Leatherwood, "What price must the spiritual leaders of our churches pay if this awakening is to come;" Friday the Rev. R. P. McCracken, "Some definite suggestions for bringing a spiritual awakening to Haywood county."

The closing service on Friday evening at 7:30 will be preached by the Rev. T. F. Deitz.

Revivals will be held in ten of the Baptist churches of the county during the week of the preacher's revival. The services will start on Monday night and continue through Friday.

Christian Science Churches Have Deep Spiritual Lesson

"God" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science churches and societies on Sunday, January 1, 1939.

The Golden Text was from Isaiah 44:6. "Thus saith the Lord the King of Israel, and his redeemer the Lord of hosts: I am the first and I am the last; and beside me there is no God."

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "For since the beginning of the world men have not heard, nor perceived by the ear, neither hath the eye seen, O God, beside thee, what he hath prepared for him that waiteth for him. (Isaiah 64:4.)

On The Rounds Of The Circulation Man

John Noland of route 2 has finished a lengthy job of carpentry in the Cane creek section of Buncombe county, and is at home sharpening the saw and readying the other tools for a fresh start. John brought back with him a few samples of yellow locust flooring which had withstood the scuffing and scratches which any floor gets during two generations, yet was good enough to be utilized for porch floors. He states that it is the first time in a quarter of a century of building he had seen yellow locust put to such use, but that it surely makes hardy flooring.

Women Still Waging War On Hidden Taxes

The campaign of women in North Carolina to "expose and combat hidden taxes," is moving steadily ahead with the announcement that National Consumers Tax Commission units already have been organized in 111 communities throughout the state.

The drive by North Carolina women, joining others in a nation-wide crusade against hidden taxes, started on Oct. 25 with the formation of a Waynesville unit. Asheville, Bryson City and Canton women set up groups soon after and the movement spread rapidly throughout North Carolina, stated the report made by Mrs. William T. Hannah, of Waynesville, NCTC state director.

"Within a month, women in 90 cities and town in the state had organized crusade units, and it is ex-

S. C. Clapp To Head Seed Department Farmers Federation

S. C. Clapp, head of the Mountain Experiment Station at Swannanoa for nearly 22 years, has accepted a position as manager of the seed department of the Farmers Federation and will assume his new duties January 2, it was announced Tuesday by James G. K. McClure, president of the farm pected similar groups will grow up in every community," said the report. "These units join with 2,500 already active in the nation."

The NCTC is described as a non-political organization seeking, through local women's study groups, to inform the public of its hidden tax burden and to war on harmful, unnecessary taxes. The organization has national headquarters in Chicago.

co-operative. Before becoming assistant director in charge of the Swannanoa test farm on February 1, 1917, Mr. Clapp for 10 years was a nursery and orchard inspector for the state department of agriculture.

In his new position Mr. Clapp will supervise the buying and handling of seeds for the farm co-operative. He will make regular visits to the federation's 18 warehouses to study the requirements of each county.

Having served on the federation's board of directors for some years, Mr. Clapp is thoroughly familiar with the organization's activities.
