Demonstration Clubs Hold Achievement Day

Largest Organized Group of Women in County Have Annual Meet At Courthouse

More than one hundred women representing the 17 home demonstration clubs of the county, with a membership of around five hundred attended the annual Achievement Day meeting which was held here in the court house on Thursday. Mrs. Henry Francis, president of the county council, presided.

Miss Ruth Current, of Raleigh, state home demonstration agent, was the principal speaker of the day. Miss Current made a strong appeal to the women for support of the work in home making. She outlined new fields of service and opportunity for the rural women. She also cited the changes that are taking place in the life of country women.

Received with interest and enthusiasm was the announcement by Jonathan Woody, president of the First National Bank, of $300 to be given by the institution in a county wide rural home beautification contest to be staged during the coming year, beginning on January the 1st.

Mr. Woody stipulated that the contest would be sponsored by the bank on the condition that there were at least 30 contestants. He also advised that there be some classification of farms as to the size in working out the prize list, and also that a prize be given to each township of the county.

The winners of the rural beautification contest sponsored by the bank this year were recognized and introduced prior to Mr. Woody's talk.

Reports on kitchen and home improvements were given by Mrs. Goble McCracken, Mrs. Troy Davis, Mrs. Frank Ensley, Mrs. Cordell Evans, Mrs. Charles McCrary, Mrs. Hardey Liner, and Mrs. George Rogers. Reports were also presented of the year's activities by the secretary of each club.

The showing of dresses made and modeled by members was an interesting feature of the program. Those modeling their garments were: Mrs. Mark Swain, Mrs. Edgar Moore, Mrs. Crom Cole, Mrs. Tom Hips, and Mrs. Paul Robinson, all of the Beaverdam club, and Mrs. W. W. Lowe, and Mrs. Maude

Teachers Hear Major Findings Of Youth Survey

C. E. McIntosh, State NYA official, addressed the teachers of the Waynesville District schools on Tuesday at the study period of the vocational guidance courses which they are taking. He presented the major findings in the North Carolina Youth survey which he directed in the spring of 1939, which was of special interest locally as the Waynesville School District was selected to represent the mountain section in the state. In all there were eight communities surveyed in different sections of the state.

North Carolina's Tourist Dollar is shared by Everybody

The chart at the left shows graphically how North Carolinians share in their $100,000,000 Tourist Industry. Since these groups must spend this money for their needs, this sum is quickly distributed through all lines of business and agriculture. Everybody benefits.

Stimulated by the Advertising Program of the Department of Conservation and Development, a $100,000,000 Tourist Industry in which everybody shares is flourishing in North Carolina.

On the basis of conservative estimates by the Department checked against findings of the U. S. Department of Commerce and the U. S. Travel Bureau, the $100,000,000 which visitors spend in North Carolina annually is distributed in accordance with the above chart.

Since all of these groups must spend this money for their own needs, the huge bonus which visitors pay annually to enjoy the attractions of North Carolina is quickly distributed among all lines of business and agriculture. Everybody shares in the benefits. The Advertising Campaign was launched in 1937. At the end of the first year, it was estimated that automobile tourists spent $64,000,000 in North Carolina.

At the end of the second year, $100,000,000 was pouring into North Carolina from this source. If you would like additional facts on what the North Carolina Advertising Program is doing for the State, write
