

Patriotic Groups Planting Memorial Forests In Pisgah

Spruce Arrive For U. D. C. And D. A. R. Groups

Plantings Will Be Made Along Parkway Near Devils Court House and Tennessee Gap.

It was announced today that the Pisgah National Forest will receive spruce planting stock the first of next week for the establishment of memorial forests for the D. A. R., and the U. D. C.

Mrs. Joseph Silversteen, of Brevard, state regent for the Daughters of the American Revolution, and Mrs. Ethel Harris Fisher, of Asheville, state president of the North Carolina division of the Daughters of the Confederacy, have entered into a co-operative agreement with Joseph C. Kircher, of Atlanta, Regional Forester of the thirteen Southern states, for the development of the Memorial Forests.

According to the agreement, the co-operating organizations deposit the sum of $5.00 for each acre to be planted and the U. S. Forest Service is to furnish the planting stock, supervise the planting and afford the area the same protection from fire, disease and trespass as is given other National forest lands in the immediate vicinity.

The D. A. R. and U. D. C. are contributing to the establishment of these forests in memory of the soldiers the State of North Carolina has furnished in memory of the North Carolina Daughters of the American Revolution, also as an expression of their interest in reforestation and the restoration of the natural resources of the Southern region.

The sites selected for these plantings are along the Blue Ridge Parkway between Devils Court-house and Tennessee Gap. At one time this area supported one of the best virgin stands of spruce in the United States. It now supports only a few scattered trees of merchantable species due to clear-cutting of the spruce stands and a severe burn following the logging operations prior to acquisition by the United States. It will be necessary to plant the area to bring it back into productivity.

In addition to the memorial plantings, the Pisgah National Forest is planting through its CCC camps about 350 acres of abandoned fields that are not restocking satisfactorily. The fields that are being planted have eroded to the extent that they are no longer suited for agricultural purposes or the land is too poor for that use. Before areas are planted it is first determined that growing for-Approximately 1840 acres have been planted to date on the Pisgah National Forest. Practically all of this reforestation work has been accomplished with CCC camps since 1934.

At The Park

THURSDAY—Wallace Beery as the swashbuckling bandit, comes to the screen in "Bad Man" in his most colorful characterization since "Viva Villa." The picture is a thrilling and whimsical story of a desperado who rides through high adventure as a modern Robin Hood of the west. Beery has numerous humorous moments as he seeks to straighten out the lives of others by his bandit philosophy. Lionel Barrymore has the part of a hard-bitten old rancher with a rapier-like tongue, whose candid remarks unmask motives of others in the play.

FRIDAY—Two men may look alike, but when it comes to making love, there's always a different technique, so it goes in "The Man Who Lost Himself." In this comedy, with Brian Aberne and Kay Francis, the wife had a husband who had a double, and she did not know which, was which. Her heart saw double, and the whole thing wound up in the merriest mixup ever imagined.

SATURDAY—When Roy Rogers entered pictures he thought Hollywood would never let him become an actor because of his voice. He played in a number of roles, but each required that he pose before the cameras and sing. In a dramatic role, Roy convinced producers of his acting ability, and he has been playing in dramatic action roles ever since, with a fine ballad voice a subsidiary to the picture. In his latest picture, "Colorado" which will show at the Park Saturday, he is seen as a United States Army Intelligence officer who is sent into Colorado to find the cause of the Indian uprising and internal strife during the War Between the States.

OWL SHOW—A mystery that only Scotland Yard detectives could solve, is the basis of the picture "Scotland Yard" scheduled for the Owl Show at the Park Saturday night. Against a background of present-day London, the picture unravels the story of a gentleman bank robber who joins the colors and is injured in Dunkirk and re-emerges with the face of a bank director as the result of plastic surgery... mystery upon mystery.

SUNDAY—Co-starring Carole Lombard and Robert Montgomery, who are seen together for the first time. "Mr. and Mrs. Smith" presents these top favorites in a riotous social comedy of a young lawyer and the woman who for three years has been accepted as his wife. Weaving its story deftly around the martial life of this highly modern pair, and the unique domestic rules by which they live, the film hits a crisis when the two discover that their wedding was illegal. In their emotional rebound they find their romance has become a triangle with the law-

MONDAY AND TUESDAY—Timely and significant, "Flight Command" starring Robert Taylor, brings to the screen the United States Navy's mighty air armada in flying thrills surpassing "Test Pilot." Filmed in co-operation with the Navy, it pictures air maneuvers at sea with aircraft carriers, battleships and squadrons of fighting planes engaged in every hazard of the service. Ruth Hussey plays opposite Taylor.

WEDNESDAY—A group becomes interested in a new radium deposit in the arctic circle, and charter a sailing vessel, and with the backing of a promoter, head for the north. Near the Arctic ocean, during mutiny among the crew, the captain is killed and the others are cast adrift on an iceberg. A spectacular flight by plane, gets rescuers there in the nick of time.

William Watkins, district supervisor of the 30 Western North Carolina counties.

The students have earned from $3 to $6 per month, at 15 cents per hour. About $1,400 was paid to students in the county-at-large, and $900 in the Canton schools. Forty-six students worked at the projects in the county and 18 at Canton.

The students earned money by performing various tasks in the respective schools of the county. Some served in lunch rooms, helped prepare food, acted as tutor to students in lower grades, did office work, checked records, worked in the library, and for the boys, many worked on maintenance jobs, such as taking care of the grounds, planting and grading school yards. Those participating were selected on the basis of need and ability. Mr. Watkins explained that only those who would use the money to an advantage were considered. "We do not want spend-thrifts in this work," he said.
