Allen's State History Will Be Used In Schools

Book Of Local Historian Placed On Supplementary List In State Schools,

Notice has been received from State Superintendent of Public Instruction that "The Story of Our State" by W. C. Allen has been adopted by the Board of Education of North Carolina for supplementary use in the public schools.

Dr. Clyde Erwin, in giving out this notice to Mr. Allen Tuesday, said, "This is official notice of the adoption of your history as part of our supplementary list. It is listed for use in the schools of the State and any school is authorized to make purchases in accordance with its needs and from such funds as said school may have."

Mr. Allen does not know how oon the book may be off the presses and ready for delivery to the schools, but he hopes to have it completed early in the fall. Illustrations and other necessary parts of the book are now being collected.

The first edition of ten thousand copies will be distributed through the State Text Book Commission directly to the schools.

Do you believe that Friday, 13th s an unlucky day? Do you think the day is full of sinister situations?

Tomorrow is Friday, 13th—the only Friday on which that fateful 18th day falls in the year of 1941. If you are above superstitions, ignore these warnings, but if you take your life in your hands, and ill luck haunts you, remember you were warned ahead of time. Friday was nrst considered unlucky because of its connection with the crucifixion. If you're superstitious, don't plan to start on a long journey on Friday, the 13th.

If you have a fuss with your neighbor you will be mad at them the rest of the year. Don't cut out a garment if you expect to complete it. Don't have a fuss with your mother-in-law before breakfast. If you do, some disaster will befall on your home before sunset. Avoid any planting on Friday, day to ward off bad luck. If you should fall down the stairs on Friday, the 13th, the only way to break the charm of fate, is to walk up the stairs backwards.

(That is, if you can.) Don't sit at the table with 13 people because in less than a week some member of the party will meet with an accident.

Watch your step on this fateful -and every day, for that matter.

Hazelwood Police To Enforce New Traffic Laws

A warning was issued this week by Hazelwood officials and police, that beginning today, strict enforcement of all traffic laws would go into effect. "Speed limit signs have been erected, and fair warning is being given to all," Chief of Police Jerry Rogers said. "An advertisement in this newspaper is also being used to warn people.' "Bicycles used after dark will have to have a tail light and a front light. All drivers of vehicles will be forced to observe the traffic lights and parking lines."

"We are going to make a special drive against speeders, and will prosecute them the full extent of the law," the police chief and Mayor Clyde Fisher said. "Undue noises will also be banned," the officer pointed out.

"For sometime there has been a total disregard for the traffic laws. Motorists have been speeding along the streets, bicycles have been ridden without lights after dark, and there has been a general let-down in observance of the traffic laws, but beginning with today, we are starting to arrest any and all violators we see," Chief Rogers stated.

Hard Rains Hit This Community

One of the hardest rains to fall in this section in 1941, fell late Tuesday afternoon, accompanied by thunder and lightning. The rain was so hard that gutters and drains were overtaxed, and in some instances damages done. A huge transformer in Hazelwood caught on fire fluring the storm. The damage was slight.

Another drenching rain fell Wed-Raleigh last week on business for nesday about noon.
