At High School, 238 In Junior High

The 1941-42 term of the Waynesville district schools opened yester-day with around 605 students in the high school and a registration of of 238 in the junior high school, according to M. H. Bowles, district superintendent.

Mr. Bowles pointed out that there will be a number of registrations after Labor Day and throughout the next two weeks, bringing up the total of each group.

A concert by the school band opened the initial session, followed by a talk by Superintendent Bowles. Mr. Bowles stressed observation of safety rules on the part of the students coming and going home from school, especially in cases where the student rode in the school buses.

There was no formal chapel program, the first to be held on next Tuesday when a special speaker will talk to the stu-

The greater part of the day was taken up with assignments of students to classes and home rooms and general organization for work:

The enrollment in the grammar grades in the various schools was not available yesterday afternoon, but that of the high school and junior high grades was as follows: 7th grade, 238; 8th grade, 201; 9th grade, 180; 10th grade, 110; 11th grade, T14.

Classes in Bible will be offered in the schools for the first time. and there is the possibility of an art course being offered in the high

The high school now can give a student four years in agriculture; two years in industrial shop work; three years in home economics; courses in bookkeeping, shorthand, typing, bunsiness arithmetic, salesmanship, music, public school music, band instruction, physical education, which is not offered in many high schools; arts and crafts (in junior hight) in addition to the regular academic studies.

the club, and Mrs. J. W. Silver offering, Mrs. Troy Ample Supply Of Gasoline On Hand

Indications last night were that there would be sufficient gasoline in the community to fill all needs over the week-end, and the general opinion of service station operators was that their stations would remain open Sunday.

Waynesville's stations closed last Sunday as a precautionary measure, since some stations were running low.

The price of gasoline has not dvanced here, as in some places, although operators said yesterday they would not be surprised at an advance of one cent a gallon, similar to the new price in Asheville.

Local motorists were taking the gasoline situation calmly, and operators reported that most peo ple were keeping their tanks full.

Deferred Draftees Urged To Aid Civilian Defense

A number of new rulings have been received recently from the state director of selective service by the local draft board relative civilian defense agencies.

It was pointed out by the diector that many young men have een granted deferment because of their occupations, because they have dependents or because they are not physically capable of undergoing service in the armed forces, but are qualified to perform some work in connection with civilian defense activities.

A ruling has been made that any person entitled to appeal the classification of a registrant, either the registrant or any person who claims to be a dependent, or any person who has filed written evidence of the occupational necessity of the registrant may do so within ten days after the registrant's notice of classification was mailed, unless the local board has extended that time.

Anyone wishing to make such an appeal must take the matter up with their local board and not the state director, as has recently been done in some cases.

While both the state and national headquarters have sympathetic regard for every registrant, these headquarters cannot assume the responsibility of considering a case, since the local board is more familiar with the facts that should determine action, it has been explained.
