

Women Urged To Aid In Sewing And Knitting

Loses His Command

Maj. Gen. Clifford R. Powell, former president of the New Jersey State Senate and one-time acting governor, was suddenly relieved of command of the 44th Division, which is composed mainly of New York and New Jersey National Guard units. His superior, Lieut. Gen. Hugh A. Drum, gave no explanation.

Mrs. Stovall is general chairman and anyone wishing to sew is asked to contact her for materials, the garments having all been cut ready for the making.

Among the groups having taken garments to make are the Home Economics departments of the county schools, the NYA girls, and members of the Dorcas Bell Love Chapter, DAR, as well as a number of individuals.

Mrs. W. T. Crawford, who has been assisting in the cutting, makes the following appeal to the women of the community: "Let us come to attention women of Waynesville. The Red Cross sends out a distress signal. There are thousands in war torn England who need clothing and winter is coming on. This cruel crazy man goes on and on. Last week a number of the ladies went to the sewing room in the basement of the Central Elementary school and cut yards of cloth into shirts and dresses for children, and they are now ready for the sewing ma-

Pigtails Are Back

According to fashion experts, America's glamor girls are braiding their long bobs into little girl pigtails. But if your bob isn't long enough you can always follow the example set here, a pert Dutch felt hat which has long plaits ending in bows.

Red Cross Roll Call Will Start On Week Of 11th

Rev. Malcolm R. Williamson, chairman of the annual Red Cross membership roll call, has announced that the local drive will conform to the National group and will start after Armistice Day, November the 11th.

Rev. Mr. Williamson stated yesterday that he was appointing the various chairmen who will serve during the drive and that they would be announced next week. He is making an appeal to all those who are contacted for aid in this drive to answer the call, pointing out the critical need for meeting the quota for the coming year.

Rev. Mr. Williamson attended the regional conference held in Shelby last week when plans for the coming campaign were discussed.
