

Streams In Park Have Stocked With Many Trout

1941 fish planting season has brought to a close in the park with a total of 208,690 fish being planted in park streams during the period December 1, 1940, to November 30, 1941. The fish weighed a total of 2,830 pounds when planted. Of these, 95,115 were brook trout, weighing 2,830 pounds; the remainder were rainbow trout. All fish were reared in either Kephart Prong, Cades Cove, or Kephart Prong rearing pools in the park, 15 per cent in the Kephart Prong rearing pools, and the remainder in the Chimneys rearing pools, which varied in size from 3 to 100 acres when released.

Fish were distributed in the park in the following streams: Little Pigeon River, Little Pigeon Creek, Little Pigeon West Prong, Little Pigeon Middle Prong, Little Pigeon East Prong, Little Pigeon North Prong, Little Pigeon South Prong, Little Pigeon West Branch, Little Pigeon Middle Branch, Little Pigeon East Branch, Little Pigeon North Branch, Little Pigeon South Branch, Little Pigeon West Fork, Little Pigeon Middle Fork, Little Pigeon East Fork, Little Pigeon North Fork, Little Pigeon South Fork, Little Pigeon West Run, Little Pigeon Middle Run, Little Pigeon East Run, Little Pigeon North Run, Little Pigeon South Run, Little Pigeon West Branch, Little Pigeon Middle Branch, Little Pigeon East Branch, Little Pigeon North Branch, Little Pigeon South Branch, Little Pigeon West Fork, Little Pigeon Middle Fork, Little Pigeon East Fork, Little Pigeon North Fork, Little Pigeon South Fork, Little Pigeon West Run, Little Pigeon Middle Run, Little Pigeon East Run, Little Pigeon North Run, Little Pigeon South Run.

The 1938 census of the trout in the park streams has been taken for the fourth consecutive year. The average catch was 6.37 fish per fisherman. This fall many more fish were planted than were in the previous year. The number of fish planted this year was 208,690, an increase of 22 per cent over the previous year.

It is planned to continue these creel census in order that an accurate picture can be obtained on the natural production and the amount and type of stocking that is needed to maintain the fishing. Barring unusual occurrences such as excessive droughts and floods which destroy the food and fish, good fishing can be maintained throughout the waters in the park.

It has been the practice to open the larger streams each year and some of the smaller ones. In this way no water is bad. By stocking the smaller streams, which do not retain their fish like the larger one, and allowing them to remain closed for a year or so, it has been possible to keep a fish population in them. Many of the smaller streams carry the native brook trout which are more susceptible to lures, so that at the end of a fishing season the remnant left is very small. In the large streams there is usually a fair sized number of fish remaining after the season.

On 20 miles of fishing streams where creel census were taken, 2,129 fishermen caught 11,371 fish in the season of 1941. It is estimated that approximately 20,000 fishermen spent one day on the streams of the park, their catch averaging 4 fish per fisherman.

Fishing is the only form of harvest that is permitted in the National Parks. It may be considered a special privilege. The cooperation of the fishermen has been excellent, so that it has been possible to build and maintain a better sport.

man, an increase 22 per cent over the previous year, which represents the greatest increase in take for any stream in the park for one single year. The census on Abrams Creek showed that the catch was slightly greater than during the previous season. Very few large fish were stocked in this stream between the two seasons though many legal size fish were placed in the feeder streams.

Local Cagers To Meet Clyde Tuesday Night

The Waynesville high school cagers are scheduled to clash with the Clyde high school basketball team next Tuesday night in a double-billing which is to be played on the Clyde hardwood.

Couch Weatherby reports that although his teams have not had time to practice that they are ready to take on the powerful Clyde team.

Clyde has had several engagements this season and have been playing their usual fine brand of basketball.

The local team is expected to meet quite a lot of opposition from the Clyde team.

Milner Rated High As Football Star

Bill Milner, local gridiron star, is still rapidly climbing to the pinnacle of football success.

Bill, who is a sophomore at the University of South Carolina, was recently chosen as one of the All-Star Sophomores. Bill has done a very good job of filling the position of guard.

We have been hearing little things about Bill all along and this only bears out our firm belief that he will soon become one of the best players that Coach Weatherby has ever turned out.

Bill is a former captain of the Waynesville Mountaineers and was a well liked star. He played outstanding football for four years under Coach Weatherby.

If he keeps climbing at the rate he has started, he will soon be one of the top ranking football stars in the country.

Keep your eyes of him folks, he's going far!

Local Man Goes Duck and Goose Hunting In East

Felix Stovall, along with T. N. Massey, Phil Stovall, and Ray Erwin, the latter three of Sylva, have returned from Currituck where they spent three days last week duck and goose hunting. They came home with 46 birds.

Mr. Stovall has an aluminum band that was taken from one of legs of a duck that interests him very much. It bears the "Inscription 'He Cares for Me,' I Peter 5-7—Write Jack Minor, Kingsville, Ontario, Canada. He is planning to comply with the request and write the man who placed the band on the bird's leg.

Mr. Stovall is enthusiastic over shooting in Eastern Carolina, being his first trip gunning on the coast.

INCREASE

An increase of 82 percent over the previous year in electricity delivered to consumers is shown in a report of REA-financed power systems for the fiscal year ending June 30.

Automobile sales in Brazil are nearly double those of a year ago.

Beaverdam News

The Beaverdam home demonstration club met on December 2nd with Mrs. Goble McCracken for the combined November and December meeting, which was an all-day affair. At noon a delicious lunch was enjoyed.

New officers were elected for the coming year. They are: president, Mrs. Frank Williams; vice president, Mrs. Troy Davis; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Mark Swain; project leaders were also chosen.

The different members displayed hand made Christmas gifts and told how it was made. Miss Mary Margaret Smith gave a number of suggestions and illustrations on Christmas decorations and a short talk on how to reduce the hosiery bill.

The club will meet with Mrs. Ester Moore in January.

East Waynesville To Give Pageant On 16th

On Tuesday night, December 16, the children of the East Waynesville school will give a Christmas pageant which depicts the life of Christ in Scripture and song.

The public is cordially invited.

Band Will Give First Concert In Winter Series

The Waynesville High School Band will open its winter series of concerts with a Christmas concert in the high school auditorium on Thursday, the 18th, at 8:15.

The band has had a busy season, making 27 public appearances in the 14 weeks since school opened last September. During this period they have made two trips out of town and have entertained two out of town bands here.

The band has been rehearsing for this concert which will include patriotic selections, popular tunes, marches, and overtures, since the closing of the football season.

Of more than 100 appearances of the band since its organization, this will be only the fourth to which there has been an admission charged.

It is hoped that there will be a good attendance and the director gives his assurance that there will be an interesting program. Tickets will go on sale Friday, and, as has been the custom in the past, for each ticket bought in advance another ticket will be given free.
