listed in December, 1940, and was recently promoted to gunners mate, third class.

All three of the brothers joined the navy at the age of 17.

The only army man of the group is James Russell Arrington. He enlisted in January, 1941, at the age of 15. He is around six feet tall, and has no trouble in posing as an older man. He was in the Philippines, and his mother has had only one card from him since the war started. This note was written on December 28th, and received the first of April.

Perry Arrington, 34, lives in Charlotte, and Oliver Arrington, 14, is a student in the local high school.

The five daughters are Mrs. Blanche Anders, of Asheville, Mrs. Beulah Sparks, Saunook, Mrs. Henry Miller, Waynesville, Mrs. Jack Sease, Hazelwood, and Mrs. Charles Beck, Balsam. There are also nine grandchildren.

15,648 Persons Get Sugar Books In Waynesville Area

the car marvel at how the two occupants escaped instant death. The fenders, top, hood, frame and doors were bent in circular shape about the large tree.

Both young men are employees of a manufacturing plant in Hazelwood, and had reported for duty, but due to lack of material had the day off, and were coming back to Waynesville about 7:30 when the accident happened.

Lonzie Messer, 29, Drowns When Boat Turns Over

township with the Rev. Forrest

Ferguson and the Rev. Yoder Davis officiating. Burial was in the church cemetery.

Pallbearers were H. R. Clapp, D. D. Paschal, G. C. Clark, Carl Bridges, Jack Edwards and Lawrence Kerley.

Mr. Messer is survived by his widow, Mrs. Edna Blanton Messer, his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lawton Messer, three sisters, Mrs. Odie Fish, Juanita Messer, of White Oak, and Mrs. Joyce Car-center, of New Jersey, four brothers, Melvin, Yoder and Edgar, of White Oak, and Hugh of Florida, who is in service.

Messer and four companions, Jack Edwards, of Waynesville, Loyd Blanton, of Hazelwood, and two cousins, of South Carolina, were fishing in the lake when their boat nosedived and they were thrown into the water. The five started swimming for the shore, but Messer was seized with a heart attack and drowned.

His body was not recovered until Sunday morning.

Blanton, Messer's brother-in-law, became exhausted while swimming and had to be taken from the water. He remained unconscious for three hours. His rescue was due to the thoughtfulness of Jimmie Hartzell, 15, of Hazelwood, who had accompanied them. Messer had been employed by the farm agents office of Hazelwood county for the past several years.
