

Turbyfill-Freel Wedding Takes Place In Asheville

Miss Nell Lorena Turbyfill, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Lee Turbyfill, of Bear Creek, Asheville, and granddaughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. James Turbyfill, of Waynesville, became the bride of William Christopher Freel, of Atlanta, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Norman Freel, of Canton, in a candlelight ceremony on Tuesday evening at 8:30 o'clock at the West Asheville Methodist church.

The Rev. T. A. Groce, pastor, officiated.

The altar was banked with palms and ferns, entwined with clematis. Before the altar were wrought iron standards of white Maid of Orleans gladioli, August lilies and white hydrangeas and three seven-branched candelabra. Reserved seats were marked with white satin ribbons, arrangements of clematis and white tapers in tall standards. Tapers were used in the windows.

Music Is Presented

A program of wedding music was presented by Miss Ciola Owenby, of Asheville, organist, Miss Sara Orr, of Asheville, soprano, Julian Brookshire, of Asheville, baritone, Miss Marion Rodgers, cellist, and Miss Sarah Rodgers, violinist, of Salisbury, cousins of the bride.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white point de'esprit, with fitted bodice, sweetheart neckline, full gored skirt, each gore and the hem edged with ruffles, forming a long train at back. She wore long white gloves. Her only ornaments were an heirloom necklace and bracelet of seed pearls and rhinestones. Her finger-tip veil was of bridal illusion, held in place with a white orchid. She carried a white prayer book with a white orchid attached and a shower of tube roses.

Miss Conner Attendant

Miss Betty Lou Conner, of Asheville, was maid of honor. She wore a yellow organdy dress with fitted bodice and full, gored skirt. Her headdress was a Juliet cap of blue gladioli and tulle. She carried a fan-shaped bouquet of Queen Anne's lace and blue gladioli, tied with a bow of blue tulle.

Bridesmaids were Miss Louise Gordon, of Asheville, Miss Martha LaMae Smathers, of Canton, and Miss Marion Rodgers and Miss Sarah Rodgers. They were dressed in blue shadowed organdy made like the maid of honor's. They wore Juliet caps of yellow gladioli and tulle and carried fan-shaped bouquets of Queen Anne's lace and yellow gladioli, tied with bows of yellow tulle.

The maid of honor and bridesmaids each wore small gold crosses, gift of the bride.

Bruce McClure, of Atlanta, was best man. Usher-groomsmen were Bruce Livingood, Columbia, S. C., Steve Williamson, John Stevens and Jimmie Kirkpatrick, all of Canton.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the bride's home. The house was decorated with arrangements of summer flowers. The bridal table was covered with a lace cloth, centered with a wedding cake, banked with flowers. White tapers in silver holders were used.

In the receiving line were the bride's mother, parents of the bridegroom, the couple, and the bride's attendants.

Following the reception, the couple left for a trip. The bride wore a dress of white sheer wool crepe with a fitted blue wool coat, shoes of blue and matching bag and hat with navy blue trim. Her corsage was of white orchids. She wore a gold lapel watch, a gift of the bridegroom, which had belonged to his grandmother. The couple will reside in Atlanta.

The bride attended St. Genevieve-of-the-Pines, Lenoir-Rhyne and Pfeiffer college. The bridegroom was graduated from Gordon Military and attended Mercer university and Georgia School of Technology. He is a member of Phi Gamma Delta fraternity. He is assistant controller for the Civil Aeronautics Authority in Atlanta.

Out-of-town guests for the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Norman Freel, parents of the bridegroom, Mr. and Mrs. Willis Kirkpatrick and David Kirkpatrick, Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Coleman, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Neal and Ashley Neal, II, the Rev. and Mrs. W. R. Kelly, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Sheffield, Mr. and Mrs. O. M. Hampton, Jimmy Kirkpatrick, James Freel, J. R. Stevens, Johnnie Stephens, Mrs. Edgar Smathers, Lawrence Barlow, Miss Rhoda McClure, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Mease, Navey Mease, and Mr. and Mrs. Lonis E. Gates, all of Canton, Mrs. J. P. Rodgers, grandmother of the bride, Miss Edith Rodgers, aunt of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. Otis Floyd, aunt and uncle of the bride, Charles Frederick Floyd, cousin of the bride, Misses Marion and Sarah Rodgers, cousins of the bride, all of Salisbury, Mrs. R. A. Livingood, cousin of the bride, and Bruce Livingood, cousin of the bride, both of Columbia, S. C., and Mrs. William Freel, of Andrews.

Miss Sarah Louise Leatherwood, who is a student at the University of North Carolina, arrived this week from Chapel Hill, to spend a three weeks vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Troy Leatherwood, on Jonathan Creek and her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Boyd.

We Are Proud of the fact that all our workers are investing 10 percent or more of the gross payroll in War Savings Bonds every pay day.

We Are Proud

of the job our workers are doing in Civilian Defense, through air-raid protection, salvage, conservation, Red Cross, USO, and other home-front activities "after hours."

We Are Proud

of those workers who have gone into the armed forces to carry on the fight for freedom for us who stay behind.
