The Americans have made a good deal of unfavorable comment in the past on the alleged fact that German and Italian women were asked to give up even their wedding rings to the government for the gold which could be melted down and converted into money with which to buy ammunition of war. Which may be a pretty good warning to a few people to go slow, who seem to be having some "bright ideas" about asking people to sacrifice practically new and unused articles to some of our urgent scrap drives. We are not asking people to make any such sacrifice. We do not need it; not yet, certainly. The government is not asking it. In fact, we are definitely instructed not to turn in articles of rubber, aluminum, or any other material, which is being used or is useful.

ticked and sinners before the Lord exceedingly." It does not Nem that all the people living in a large city could have been bad, and you remember the Lord promsed Abraham that if there were good persons in Sodom, He would spare it for their sakes. Since Abraham's time the wickedness had greatly increased in the cities. Those living there were guilty of the vilest sins.

Sodom and upon Gomorrah brimstone and fire from the Lord out of heaven; And He overthrew those cities, and all the plain, and all the inhabitants of the cities, and that which grew upon the ground."

The vale of Siddim, where these cities were located, is thought to have abounded in asphalt and other combustible materials, and the district was liable to earthquakes and volcanic eruptions from the earliest to the latest times

During these eruptions, according to the historian, Josephus, the Salt sea sends up in many places black masses of asphalt, which look somewhat like headless bulls in shape. This lake lies in the lowest part of the valley of the Jordan, and its surface lies about 1,300 feet below the sea's level.

Cities Wiped Out

We do not know what this rain was that is so described by the writer of Genesis, whether it was burning pitch, lightning, or a vol-tanic eruption, which destroyed all this region, but the cities were

"Be sure your sins will find you is not an idle maxim. It is true. If you live what your conscience calls a wrong way, you tannot be happy, and if you con-timue to live like that, doing things you know are wicked, you never will really enjoy life, and in the and the sins and unhappiness will destroy you as surely as Sodom and Gomorrah were destroyed. This isn't just "moral talk"; it is true. It is the law of life.

They Take Their Ease

They 'lie upon beds of ivory," he says, "and stretch themselves upon the couches, and eat the lambs out of the flock, and the calves out of the midst of the stall; "That sing idle songs to the viol; that invent for themselves instruments of music, like David; "That drink wine in bowls, and anoint themselves with the chief oils; but they are not grieved for the affliction of Joseph.' Stretching themselves out on luxurious couches inside of sitting to eat; drinking great bowls of intoxicating liquor, instead of the usual goblets; eating of the best food in the land, while others went cold, tired and hungry, and they took no heed. These were the sins for which it is said, "Woe unto them," and they are told, "they now go captive with the first that go captive; and the revelry of them that stretched themselves shall pass away." In the whole history of the world, the alcohol problem has been with us. Following in its wake have come many other problems. Expenditures for intoxicating liquors top those for education; there are many more saloons than there are churches, and billions of dollars are spent on alcohol. Arrests for drunkenness; accidents and deaths, as well as crimes, all are laid at the door of excessive drinking. It ruins people physically and morally. It is indeed literally true as our Golden Text says, that, "The way of the wicked shall perish."
