

Mountaineer Football Squad Looking Good

Canton Drops Opener To Hickory By 6 and 2

Canton high's Black Bears dropped their season's football opener to Hickory Friday night, 6-2, and also lost the services of German Miller, star halfback, due to a broken right leg received in the second period of the game.

Coach Scarborough's Hickory eleven held the Bears pretty well at bay and gave up a safety in the final quarter when Greene, fullback, was swamped by the entire Canton line as he attempted to kick out from his own end zone. The visitors were put on their own seven-yard line when Canton's H. Smathers got off a 53-yard quick kick.

Hickory registered in the second quarter. Getting the ball on their own 38, the visitors cracked Canton's line for three first downs to reach Canton's 29. A short pass from Parker to Havnaer put the ball on the 21 and then Parker passed to Buff, an end, in the end zone for the touchdown.

Miller's leg was broken just prior to the Hickory score. Observers reported that Miller attempted to break up Hickory's interference on a running play and when he fell to the ground his leg was stepped on and broken.

A crowd of 1,500 attended the season's opener.

The lineups:

Canton (2)	Pos.	Hickory (6)

Team Rounding Out Good In Scrimmages

Opening Date Set for 25th August Andrews In Night Game Here; Others Pending.

The Mountaineer schedule has been undergoing many changes in the last two weeks due to the Blue Ridge Conference not being active this year and games scheduled with teams of the conference having to be filled in with prep schools or any team that is available. Due to the shortage of coaches in the various schools the Blue Ridge Conference seems to be discontinued for the duration.

The tentative schedule of the Mountaineers follows:

Sept. 25—Andrews at Waynesville, night.

Oct. 3—Asheville School, there.

Oct. 9—Bryson City, here, night.

Oct. 16—Canton at Waynesville, night.

Oct. 23—Hendersonville, there.

Oct. 30—Christ School at Waynesville, night.

Nov. 6—Mars Hill, there.

Nov. 13—Open.

Nov. 20—Open.

Nov. 26—Canton at Canton, afternoon.

The local griders suffered heavily from graduation last season, losing such men as Captain Richard "Scratch" Inman, Harry Evans, Fisher and Wyatt out of the backfield and Francis, McMorie, Albright, and others whose places will be hard to fill in the line.

Men who are showing up as promising material for the current season are Henry and Yount, two veteran backs, Scruggs and Arrington, the latter a 200-pounder who switched from his center position last season to the fullback position. Other backs showing promise are: Rogers, Harris and Davis. The line will be made up of B. Jaynes, Clark and Evans, veterans of last season supported by Caldwell, Medford and Hoyle.

According to Coach Carleton Weatherby, there are several kinks that will have to be ironed out of the line, but on a whole the 1942 team is showing good prospect.

Baptists Plan Special Program

A triple program is being arranged by the First Baptist church for Sunday, September 27, according to Rev. H. G. Hammett, pastor.

The observance of Sunday School Promotion Day, a church rally, and featuring two soldiers from Camp Croft will be the program during the morning worship hour.

Complete details of the events will be announced more fully next week.

ROUND-UP of SPORTS

Haywood football players have a habit of going on up the gridiron ladder after leaving the county. Some of the county's best players have made national names for themselves, all the way from All-American on down.

This year Bill Milner as a junior at the University of South Carolina is expected to stay in the spotlight of big-time football. Last year he was an outstanding sophomore player at guard. Bill is expected to gather in many honors this season for the Gamecocks.

Down at Chapel Hill, Jimmy Stringfield, a six footer, and tipping the scales at 200, will make many a hole for the runner at his place at tackle in the line. Jimmy played good ball here several years, and he should also hang up some honors this season.

Several of the graduates of the 1941 Mountaineer squad are in the army or on defense jobs.

Last week, Richard Inman, captain and full back, joined the 60 men from Western North Carolina in making up a marine battalion. If he fights like he carried the ball in 1941, he'll give the Japs and Germans a fit.

Billy Fisher, the fighting half back of '41, is in service, and doing his bit to carry his country's flag to victory.

Joe Francis, an outstanding end of the '41 champions, is helping to make planes in a Baltimore factory.

Canton will be well represented on the Wake Forest team this year by Don Hipps, a former Black Bear star. He has been mentioned frequently in pre-season predictions as one player the team will rely on heavily.

Up in New York on October 12, the heavyweight title bout between Champion Joe Louis and Billy Conn will be staged. The event will be at Yankee Stadium, at four o'clock. Conn and Louis are now soldiers in Uncle Sam's army, and were friendly when they met. They acted just like two soldiers on furlough—they are.

TIMELY Farm Questions and Answers

Question: Should all timber cut for firewood be seasoned first?

Answer: Although most trees do require seasoning before they are used as fuel, the small amount of moisture in some timber at the time of cutting makes seasoning almost unnecessary. Among such trees are black locust, shagbark hickory, lodgepole pine, American beech, Virginia or scrub pine, white ash, red pine and a few others.

Question: How can one determine which hens to cull from the flock?

Answer: If the comb is blood-red and waxy, the hen is on the job; if the comb is pale and shriveled, she is loafing. If the bird belongs to one of the common yellow-skin varieties and if she is laying, the color will be faded or bleached out. Also the skin of the layer has a soft texture, while the non-layer has a hard, dry skin that is relatively tight. Then, too, the laying hen has a soft, pliable abdomen and well-spread bones.

Question: What are the symptoms of internal parasites in sheep?

Answer: Loss of flesh and diarrhea are the principal symptoms. As the condition becomes more serious, the skin turns pale, and in extreme cases the skin under the jaw becomes baggy from the accumulation of fluid there. Drenching with a recommended drug, such as phenothiazine or a copper sulphate-nicotine sulphate mixture, has proved effective treatment.
