On The Tar Heel Front

IN WASHINGTON

By Robert A. Erwin and Frances McKusick

Washington. — It's been "great going" at the Capitol for the past several days. The stupendous six billion dollar 1942 income tax has passed and received the President's okay. That one little item alone will dip well into the pockets of all of us.

Well, we'll all be in the plutocratic income tax class now—or rather, we are already there. Any single person who earns the magnificent sum of $10 a week will have to divvy up with Uncle Sam. And any married person who makes more than $750 and has no little ones must do likewise. But at that, most of us would rather pay into an American ante now than be wiped out by a Nazi blitz later. It's a dealer's choice now, but if we don't pay high stakes today, there will be no choice at all tomorrow. There'll be just one dealer, and we'd have to take what he gave us, with no questions asked.

Farmer Bob Doughton, the chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee which spent so many tedious months framing the tax bill, was jubilant over the quick passage in the House of the conference committee report on the bill. Only two dissenting votes were recorded, and Mr. Doughton says that is a major victory for his committee.

Over in the Senate, there has been much confusion surrounding the drafting of the 18 and 19-year-old boys. Back of this confusion, the issue of to drink or not to drink seems as important as to draft or not to draft.

Senator Josh Lee of Oklahoma believes no intoxicants should be sold within a military area. He offered an amendment to the draft bill to that effect. But whether this issue is settled, Senators have started talking of prohibition again.

In our state, Senator Josiah W. Bailey was expected to vote for the dry amendment. Senator Bob Reynolds has always held that alcoholic beverages should not be too accessible to the soldier, but he accepted Secretary of War Stimson's request to vote against the amendment.

Even though the House has passed the bill lowering the draft age of male citizens to 18 years of age, several members of Congress are still receiving repercussions from it.

Because so many Tar Heels will be out of Washington on October 26—remember there's an election on November 3—the annual election meeting of the N. C. Democratic Club was postponed until Thursday night, November 12. As usual, the Queen Elizabeth Room of the Raleigh Hotel will be the scene of the event.

Senator Johiah William Bailey, up for reelection for a third term in the election next month, urges "the people to go out and vote in great numbers."

With so many men away from home in the armed services and the gasoline shortage, the total vote is bound to be smaller than usual, he admitted. "Nevertheless, I believe the people will vote in pretty good numbers," he added.

The senior Senator presented to the Senate resolutions of State Commissioner of Agriculture W. Kerr and the state board of agriculture asking that something be done to alleviate the current farm labor shortage.

Western North Carolina, which in the past has endured a power shortage in many of its homes and industries will be gratified to learn that because of plentiful rains this year, the great power dams of TVA and the Nantahala Power and Light Company will be able to furnish adequate power supply. TVA has added several hundred horsepower to its capacity; Nantahala, 90,000 horsepower, and the Georgia Power Company, 140,000 to 150,000 HP.

The 1942 tax bill has proved to be a glutton for work not only for the Tar Heel Chairman Robert L. Doughton of the House Ways and Means committee, and Senator Johiah W. Bailey, member of the Senate Finance committee, for also for a third Tar Heel, John D. Gatling of Windsor, enrolling clerk of the Senate and member of the State Democratic Executive committee from Bertie county.

Gatling not only had to enroll the most-amended bill in United States history, but he also had to enroll the Senate's 504 amendments to the House version of the measure. Gatling said he had to work on it day and night for an entire week.

When the smoke of battle cleared from the bill to draft 18 and 19-year-old youths, North Carolina legislators were few and far between on Capitol Hill. They had gone home for some last minute, long-neglected general election campaigning.

Representative Zebulon Weaver, of Asheville, said he would make a tour of his new twelfth district which is the same as his old eleventh except for the loss of Polk, Rutherford and McDowell counties. His secretary, Mrs. Sarah Alley Smithson, Haywood county native, already was in the district when the veteran Con-

Mountaineers Defeat Hendersonville 46-0

Dellwood News

Waynesville's first team piled up 33 points in the first half against the Hendersonville Bearcats last Friday, and for the last half, the second team pushed across 13 points for a 46 to 0 score on the latter's field.

The Mountaineer reserve team have had tough luck this year in being scored on, but they came to life in the Hendersonville atmosphere and put on a good show. Rogers, Fie and Davis led the reserves in their spirited attack and scoring.

The team went into action, following a splendid performance and parade of the Waynesville band. The Bearcats took to the air, as they were out-weighted about 15 pounds per man. The air attack worked nicely, taking them to the Waynesville 9-yard line early in the game. It was then the Waynesville backs perked up, and intercepted practically everything tossed, and in six plays had scored.

The Mountaineers clicked in every department, getting off some excellent blocking, tackling and good teamwork.

Henry, Arrington and Yount led the attack for the first defense and receiving passes.

Henry ran 55 yards on an intercepted pass, and Arrington shortly afterwards picked another intercepted pas out of the air and went 50 yards for a score.

One of the longest kicks of the season in a high school game was booted by Henry, when his 70-yarder sailed beautifully down field.

The Bearcats' captain, Bob Sparks, was injured in the early part of the game, and did not act after the first five minutes. Sparks was quarterback and usually carried a large proportion of the offensive and defensive brunt of the Hendersonville team.

They were married the 19th of September in Virginia. Mrs. Hall is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. V. Phillips, formerly of Waynesville, now residing in Virginia.

Mr. Hall is the son of Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Hall, of Dellwood. He now holds a position in the shipyard at Newport News, Va.

Christ School Is Undeafated And Unscored On

Yount and Constance Led To the Mountaineers For Most Of Saturday's Game

The Mountaineers face the hardest game of the season, they prepare for the battle with the undefeated and unscored Christ School Greenie. The game will be Saturday, on the local field starting at 3:15.

With an extra day to prepare for the game, Coaches Weather and Ratcliff have put the team through hard drills all week.

Old Man Hard Luck stuck neck into the ranks of the Mountaineers this week and sent Yount to bed with flu and Constance an injured shoulder. Neither their regular players will probably see much action on Saturday.

The Greenies defeated the Mountaineers last year by a 25 to score. They have always been of the hardest playing team the calls meet, and are well coached every department. Dick Faysan, a coach of 21 years experience, well-rounded teams and is ranked as one of the best in this section of the state.

The Mountaineers came through the game with Hendersonville with only slight injuries with the exception of Constance.

Coach Weatherby said he planned to use Coin and Fie in place of Yount and Constance against the Greenies.

THIS IS WORTH FIGHTING FOR

The right to govern ourselves

BRAVE AND DETERMINED Americans left bloody footprints in the snow at Valley Forge, to give us the priceless right to run our country as the majority of us think it should be run.

Today, equally resolute and courageous Americans are fighting to preserve that hard-won heritage—for themselves and for their children. They know that in the Axis nations people are mere puppets bowing to the brutal whims of fanatical dictators.

That's why Americans are fighting. And, as they fight on to certain Victory, they are inspired by an unshakable determination that this government shall continue to be "of the people, by the people, and for the people."

The Southern Railway System, because of its strategic location, is playing a tremendously vital role in the transportation of war materials and fighting men. But it is doing more than that. It is also helping to keep the wheels of our national life rolling in defense of the home front. It is grimly but willingly taking on burden after burden—because it's a rich privilege to serve the nation in times like these.

When private automobile travel began to be curtailed by tire and gasoline rationing—the kind of travel that normally accounts for more than four-fifths of all inter-city travel—the railroads took on the thankless job of providing substitute transportation. That meant more trains, more cars per train, more locomotives, crowded stations, and a thousand headaches!

But the job is being done—on top of the major task of handling hundreds of thousands of Uncle Sam's soldiers, sailors and marines.

When the oil shortage developed in the eastern states, the railroads said that they could move 200,000 barrels a day to meet the emergency. They are now moving more than 800,000 barrels a day. In the first eight months of this year, the Southern Railway System alone handled more than 19,000,000 barrels of oil to the North and East.

These are simply examples of how one railroad is doing its bit to protect our way of life; our heritage of freedom; our right to govern ourselves.

From this experience, a better Southern Railway System will emerge—more efficient and more useful to the people it serves than ever before—because, even during these trying times, we are taking advantage of every opportunity to improve our services, facilities and methods; every opportunity to plan for a better tomorrow when Americans will continue to hold their heads high as free men, proud in the knowledge that their children, too, will enjoy the blessings inherent in a nation of self-governing people.

That is worth fighting for!
