Proud of Record

Possessor of the enviable record of never having missed a day of duty in 22 years of service with the U. S. Army is Master Sergeant James Pilzari, of Ellington Field, Tex. His top ambition at present is to return to the Philippines, where he served in 1910, and help drive the Japs out.

Death Claims Carl Jentz, Paper Manufacturer

Last rites for Carl Jentz, 73, prominently identified with the paper manufacturing industry in Canada, Newfoundland and the United States for more than 53 years, who died in an Asheville hospital Sunday morning, were conducted at the Canton First Presbyterian church at 2 p. m. Tuesday. The Rev. George Bradley Hammond, pastor, officiated.

The body was taken to Macon, Ga., for cremation immediately following the funeral services.

Mr. Jentz, the first person in the southeastern district ever to be voted a lifetime member of the Pulp and Paper Mills Superintendents association last fall, had been regularly connected with the Champion Paper and Fibre company in Canton since 1929. He first came to Canton in 1907 and served as the company's first superintendent of the sulphite department.

He served for five years as treasurer of the Canton First Presbyterian church and was secretary to the board of deacons at the time of his death.

DEATHS

JESSE R. BURRESS

Funeral services were held yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Barbersville Baptist church for Jesse R. Burress, well known Haywood county farmer, who died at his home on the Dellwood road at 11:30 o'clock Monday night.

Jesus the Good Shepherd

HIGHLIGHTS ON THE SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL
(The International Uniform Lesson on the above topic for Feb. 21 is John 10, the Golden Text being John 10:11. "I am the good shepherd: the good shepherd layeth down his life for the sheep.")

"CHRIST the Good Shepherd," but what is a good shepherd? In Palestine it is said, sheep raising is carried on in the same manner as in Biblical times. According to Professor Richards, "the sheep of Palestine are still the broad-tailed sheep. The tail is from five to 15 inches wide, and weighs from 10 to 15 pounds, sometimes even as much as 30 pounds, supplying 10 pounds and upwards of pure fat, which is packed for winter use."

"The shepherd leads his sheep during the day in the cool months, but in the hotter part of the year from sunset to early morning, when he brings them back to the fold, or leaves them to lie under prepared shelter under the bushes.

Fold Is Walled
"The fold is a low flat shed or series of sheds, with a yard surrounded by a wall, on cold nights the flocks are shut in buildings. The wall is surmounted by a fence of sharp thorns to keep out the wolves and other wild beasts; jackals and hyenas prey almost up to the walls of Jerusalem, while leopards and panthers often leap over the high fence of the fold, and the shepherd is still at times known to lay down his life for the sheep." Robbers are as great a source of danger, a lamb or a kid is sometimes carried off by a bird of prey, and there are deadly snakes in the limestone rocks. The Gospel parable does not exaggerate the rejoicing of the shepherd when he has recovered a sheep that has gone astray upon the mountains.

We must keep this picture of the sheepfold and the shepherd in mind when we read the lesson today, of Jesus who said He was the good shepherd who would lay down His life for His sheep.

Porter Cares for Sheep
"Verily, verily, I say unto you, He that entereth not by the door into the sheepfold, but climbeth up some other way, the same is a thief and a robber. But he that entereth in by the door is the shepherd of the sheep. To him the porter openeth; and the sheep hear his voice; and he calleth his own sheep by name, and leadeth them out."

The oriental sheepfolds are commonly walled or palisaded with one door open or gate. Into one of these enclosures several shepherds drive their flocks, leaving them in charge of an under-shepherd or porter, who fastens the door securely inside, and remains with the sheep all night. In the morning the shepherds come to the door, the porter opens to them, and each calls away his own sheep.

The sheep will not follow a stranger, but they know the voice of their own shepherd. He, Jesus, is the good shepherd, and those that love and believe in Him are His sheep, but the Pharisees were the thieves who had succeeded in establishing their authority in the sheepfold of God's people, exercising that authority in a despotic manner and being suspicious and jealous, even to the point of murder, toward anyone who disputed them.

Jesus Loved of God
Jesus told his people that He was loved of God because He was willing to lay down His life for his sheep. "No man taketh it from Me," He said, but "I lay it down of Myself," having the power to lay it down and take it up.

This divided the people, some of whom said He must be a devil and mad. Others said "Can a devil open the eyes of the blind?"

Then some said, "If Thou be Christ, tell us plainly," and Jesus answered, "I told you and ye believed it not. . . . I and My Father are one."

At that the Pharisees and their friends took up stones to kill Him, but He asked, "Many good works have I shewed you from My Father: for which of those works do ye stone Me?"

"For a good work we stone Thee not; but for blasphemy; and because that Thou, being a man, makest thyself God."

"Say ye of Him, whom the Father has sanctified, and sent into the world. Thou blasphemest; because I said, I am the Son of God?" asked Jesus.

"If I do not the works of My Father, believe Me not. But if I do, though ye believe Me not, believe the works: that ye may know, and believe, that the Father is in Me, and I in Him."
They tried again to take Him, but He slipped away and went beyond Jordan. Many went to Him there and said, "John did no miracle: but all things that John spake of this man were true." And many believed on Him there.

Present 4-H Club Program To Youths collect salvage material needed, scrap metal, rubber, tin and other articles; be a good citizen, interested in community, state and country.

Projects that the boys and girls may take on at this time are: gardening, vegetables, poultry, dairying, pig, sheep and baby beef. Crops such as corn, snap beans, Irish potatoes, sweet potatoes, and tomatoes, food and nutrition, food preservation, clothing and home management or record keeping are also included.

Of the number of boys and girls contacted during the past week more than 700 have been given enrollment blanks, to fill out for definite projects and services.

There are now 1,500,000 boys and girls enrolled in 4-H Club work in the United States, with 100,000 in North Carolina, but each county is trying to enlarge the number of members for the coming year.

In presenting the work to the boys and girls of the county the leaders are telling them of the county's war record, and of the fact that Haywood county leads in number of men in service per capita. They are also pointing out that it is the duty of those who remain at home to keep these men supplied with clothing, food and munitions.

SAVE YOUR BOOTS

You men who wear boots should know that leather boots are not being manufactured and likely will not be on the market this Fall.

In plainer language, your chances of buying leather boots next Fall are slim.

We Recommend To You

- 1.—Give your boots the best of care. Keep them oiled. Keep them repaired.
- 2.—Wear boots only when necessary. When your work does not require boots, don't wear them.
- 3.—Wear instead work shoes, and with overshoes if necessary.
- 4.—If you don't have shoes to wear in place of the boots, buy a pair of RAY'S good shoes and get the most for your money.
