

The Tar Heel Front IN WASHINGTON

By Robert A. Erwin and Frances McKusick

There's been something different at the U. S. Capitol almost every day for the last few weeks, and as usual, the Tar Heel front is right in the center of it.

On the visit of Harold D. Cooley, former Governor of North Carolina, to the U. S. Capitol, the Tar Heel front was particularly active. Friends of the former Governor are laying bets he will run for the Senate against Bob Reynolds next year. Reynolds himself is expected to make radio speeches at Raleigh and Greensboro. Gardner attended the big Washington birthday dinner of the Democratic party at the Mayflower Hotel here and then came home to Shelby for a few days. It is generally assumed that he will visit at home, ending the mid-winter of this week, was not altogether devoted to his Shelby textile mill.

Senator Reynolds, meanwhile, told folks in the State what he had told them before, that he had been a candidate to succeed himself ever since he was rebuffed in 1938.

On the Tar Heel front, the U. S. Congress met at the Capitol with departments of agriculture, war, navy, and air force. The Tar Heel front was particularly active in the House of Representatives. May Warn of Disordered Kidney Action

Modern life with its hurry and worry, irregular habits, improper eating and drinking—its risk of exposure and infection—these heavy strains on the work of the kidneys. They are apt to become overtaxed and fail to filter excess acid and other impurities from the life-giving blood.

You may suffer nagging backache, headache, dizziness, getting up nights, leg pain, swelling—feet constantly tired, nervous, all worn out. Other signs of kidney or bladder disorder are sometimes burning, scanty or too frequent urination.

Try Doan's Pills. Doan's help the kidneys to pace off harmful excess body waste. They have had more than half a century of public approval. Are recommended by grateful users everywhere. Ask your neighbor!
