

Haynes Reunion Called Off; To Have Picnic 14th

"Because of a shortage of gasoline and tires, the annual Haynes reunion will not be held this year," J. H. Haynes, chairman, said this week.

"We want to do everything within our power to save our great country and we want to maintain the freedom of religious liberties in our beloved America for our children, and theirs," he continued.

The executive committee of the reunion organization have decided to have a community picnic at the home of James H. Haynes on the highway at Clyde.

Friends and relatives are urged to attend and bring baskets, on Saturday, August 14. There will be singing and a devotional, but no annual address this year.

Mrs. Thurman Haynes is secretary of the organization.

Pfc. Lester Hendrix Now at Fort Dix, N. J.

Private First Class Lester Hendrix, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred W. Hendrix, is now stationed at Fort Dix, N. J. He volunteered in the service in January, 1941, and was inducted at Fort Benning, Ga. From Benning he was sent to Camp Gordon, and from there to his present post. Before entering the service he was employed at the Waynesville Country Club.

Airmen were allowed to bomb anything in Rome but religious and cultural objects—which probably sent Mussolini to an air raid shelter instead of his balcony.

Freedom of the press is too vital to be let go by default. The things Mr. Maas described would be grave blows at freedom of the press. They should be very easy to prove or disprove.

Standardization sometimes is okay—but the movies are too deadly in earnest about it.

Remember the good old days when girls made poets of men instead of rubbernecks?

Pearl Harbor

It was over in Pearl Harbor Or so the people say, Close to the town of Honolulu That ships began to sway.

It was first the Arizona She was set aflame When in those terrible war birds The yellow heathen came.

Bombs were falling swiftly, Like brimstone from heaven In that terrible attack Upon December seven.

Peace had been suggested Between the U. S. and Japan But now they've struck us They've killed so many a man.

Pray on you Christian people That God look down in pity And right the terrible wrong Where bombs rained on that great city.

Our sons have shed their blood They died that we might live That we may be the free men And never our country give.

To some foreign dictator Who tries to take the world Let the Star Spangled Banner yet wave And let it stay unfurled.

That we may worship God And have on earth a home And always have our freedom No matter where we roam.

And down in history's pages If the world should stand Will remain the bloody conduct The cowardly act of Japan.

For many boys died Many rest above They're high in yon Great City Up with the God they love. —By Jack Justice and John Foster.
