"Aunt" Ida Finds Three War Stamps

Aunt Ida Mullis was proudly displaying three war-saving stamps to her friends this past week. She would show them and just beam with enthusiasm.

It wasn't that she did not own more war stamps; she even has bonds. But these three special war stamps had a certain fascination about them. She had found them.

While going through some old trunks, Aunt Ida found the three stamps pasted in a folder. They had been bought by her son back in World War I.

Teacher From Cuba On St. John's Faculty

Senorita Carmen Comas, native of Havana, Cuba, has arrived here to take up her duties as teacher of Spanish at St. John's High School until the end of the first semester, at which time her visit to this country will expire.

Miss Comas came here at the request of her cousin, Mrs. DeGuerra, who had taught at St. John's previously. Miss Comas says that her main reason for coming to the United States is for the purpose of attaining a greater knowledge of the English language so that she can teach that subject in Cuba.

Teaching has been the life work of Miss Comas, both in music and grammar grades, the latter being her favorite. She learned the English language at the age of ten. She was educated in private parochial schools and in a Cuban normal school, where the study of English was compulsory. Miss Comas says that the English lan-

State Has 7,700 Acres Of Burley

Indications point to a 7,700-acre crop of Burley tobacco in North Carolina this year as compared with 6,600 acres for 1942, the Crop Reporting Service of the State Department of Agriculture said recently. Yield prospects, said the report, are 150 pounds less than the 1150 pounds per acre realized last season.

Buyers paid an average of $42.08 for the 5,859,326 pounds sold on the Asheville and Boone markets in 1942.

State Department of Agriculture officials have been informed that a burley tobacco marketing quotas referendum will be held on October 23.

State College Hints To Farm Homemakers

By Ruth Current
N. C. State College

As you think of some of the most tantalizing odors of good food, aren't golden loaves of freshly baked bread high on the list? Good, home-made bread is uniformly shaped, evenly browned, a fine even porous texture, and above all, the flavor is wheaty and good. By all means use Enriched flour, — and some should be made of whole wheat flour.

To make bread that will satisfy, understand the principles of bread making, use a tested recipe, select ingredients of good quality, and follow directions explicitly. If you stick to these simple rules, you won't have unlucky baking days.

As our civilian food supply grows smaller, the homemaker's problem of providing adequate diets and attractive meals for her family grows larger. Therefore, it is more important than ever for Mrs. Homemaker to know the seven basic food groups, the foods that insure the health and well being of her family. If you can't remember the seven basic groups, get a copy of the chart from the local home agent and hang it in your kitchen.

Keep wearing apparel and household supplies and equipment well aired and dry these days. This is the best way to prevent mildew, which is caused by molds. Molds need moisture and certain temperatures in order to grow. Wherever the closet is damp, poorly aired, and poorly lighted or dark, molds will flourish.

Language has been difficult for her to learn, but adds that languages are her greatest weaknesses.
