Father Mahoney Takes Up Duties At Marine Base

The Rev. Vincent J. Mahoney, religion teacher of St. John's High School and assistant pastor of St. John's Church during the past three years left January 20 for his new position as assistant pastor at New River Marine Base, Jacksonville, N. C.

On the eve of his departure a committee representing St. John's Parishioners presented Father Mahoney with a farewell purse of $150.00 and a scroll containing resolutions of gratitude and felicitations.

Simple Susie says she'll never marry for money. She might miss it and be left with a man on her hands.

Requirements For New Grower Of Tobacco Allotments

Anyone desiring to grow tobacco on a farm in this county for the first time in 1944 should make application for a new grower allotment at the AAA office in the courthouse, not later than February 1, according to R. C. Francis, chairman of the AAA committee.

Mr. Francis stated that in order for a farm to be eligible for a new grower allotment the landlord or tenant must have grown tobacco within the past five years.

It will also be necessary for anyone desiring an allotment to furnish a record of the tobacco acreage which he has grown or shared in from 1939 through 1943, according to Mr. Francis.

Mr. Francis stated that anyone who had not grown tobacco within the past five years would not be eligible for a new allotment under the present regulation.

Southern Buying More Newspaper Advertising Space

Employing the unusual technique of advertising its own advertising, the Southern Railway System is currently reproducing some of its national magazine advertisements in southern newspapers along its line.

"Faith is the keynote of these advertisements... a compelling, abiding faith in the future of America's great and growing Southland," Ernest E. Norris, President of the Southern explained.

These magazine advertisements which reach 1,492,153 people each month tell of the contribution the South is making to help speed Victory; its agricultural and commercial growth in recent years; and the new opportunities for Southern industry and agriculture after the war is over.

The railway is thus "proudly telling the nation to 'Look Ahead—Look South,'" Mr. Norris added.

To Demonstrate Means Of Delicing Livestock Here

Two demonstrations will be given Friday by J. Myron Maxwell, state extension entomologist, to livestock men on the best methods of clearing animals of lice and grubs.

The first demonstration will be held at the farm of Jack Rogers on Crabtree at ten o'clock. The second will be at the farm of Claude T. Francis, in Ratcliff Cove.

Howard Clapp, county agent, said it was important that more cattlemen know of this procedure and it will be time well spent to attend.

Rev. Clay Madison Heads "Spiritual Ideals" Group

Rev. J. C. Madison, minister of the First Methodist Church, has been newly appointed to serve as City Chairman in Waynesville for the Mobilization for Spiritual Ideals, it was announced yesterday by Dr. James W. Field, Jr., national director of the movement.

With headquarters in Los Angeles, California, and with more than five hundred City Chairmen throughout the United States, the movement is one through which clergymen of all denominations have organized to oppose the stateism trend which is considered to be pagan and anti-Christian.

A governing board consisting of such men as Will Durant, Channing Pollock, Alfred Noyes, Upton Close, Ely Culbertson, U. S. Senator Albert W. Hawes, Roger Babson, and other leading figures serve in an advisory way.

It is reported that more than two million American citizens have subscribed to the ideals of the Mobilization since its inception in 1934.

Mica Picture To Be Shown Here This Week-End

A special film, "The United States Army Salutes the Mica Industry for Outstanding Results in the Battle for Mica," is being shown at the Park Theatre here today and in the other mica producing sections of North Carolina under the auspices of Colonial Mica Corp., Asheville, and promoted by M. V. Dunavant.

The mica industry in North Carolina, centering in the Spruce Pine area, produces considerably more than one-half of the mica mined in the United States. This mineral, used in many of the strategic war implements, such as electric equipment, radio and radar, gun mounts and spotlight equipment, has become increasingly scarce.

Mica mining has been classed as a critical war activity and the industry has been put on a 48-hour work week basis.

Fighting heroes back from the fronts will display captured enemy equipment and tell of the experiences of overseas fighters in the lobbies of the theatres showing the movie.

Two Priests Are Added To Faculty Of St. John's

Two diocesan priests, the Rev. Hugh P. Kennedy and the Rev. Francis J. Murphy, arrived at St. John's rectory on Saturday, January 7, to begin their work as members of St. John's faculty and assistant pastors of St. John's parish.

The Rev. Kennedy was born in Philadelphia. He attended Our Lady of Mercy Grammar School and the Roman Catholic High School in Philadelphia. He spent seven years at St. Charles Seminary, Overbrook, Pa., and completed his studies for the priesthood at St. Mary's Seminary, Emmitsburg, Md.

Father Kennedy was ordained January 1, 1942, at Mt. St. Mary's Chapel by the Most Rev. Bishop John M. McNamara, D. D. Since then he has served simultaneously as assistant pastor of St. Mary's Church, Goldsboro, and as auxiliary chaplain at Seymour Johnson Field, Goldsboro.

The Rev. Francis J. Murphy was born in the Bronx, New York City. He attended Our Lady of Mercy Grammar School, Fordham, and later the Resurrection Grammar School, Rye, N. Y. He graduated from Fordham preparatory school and Fordham University.

Father Murphy has had five seasons of experience as counselor in summer camps for boys. During the summers of 1939 and 1940 he was counselor at Camp Notre Dame, Lake Spofford, N. H. During the summers of 1941 through 1943 he was counselor at Camp Rip Van Winkle, Catskill, N. Y.

Father Murphy was ordained December 21, 1943 at Sacred Heart Cathedral Raleigh by the most Rev. Eugene J. McGuinness, D. D. He has just been appointed second assistant pastor of St. John's Church and physical education director for boys in St. John's High School.
