NEED OF MANPOWER CONTINUES

Although the United States has reached its planned strength of 7,700,000 persons, it still needs 75,000 to 100,000 men to maintain that strength, according to the War Department. The Navy Department said it would need 400,000 additional personnel by September 1 to get the Army and Marine Corps and Coast Guard up to peak strength of 3,000,000. Meanwhile, the National Selective Service System has abandoned the war unit plan for deferred agricultural deferments, pending agricultural deferments, and the War Relocation Authority is regularly engaged in it, whether that occupation or endeavor is necessary to the war effort or whether a replacement can be obtained.

JOBS FOR DISCHARGED VETERANS

For men discharged from any of the United States armed services, a summary of job opportunities in 114 major industrial centers will be placed in nearly every local U. S. Employment Service office, the War Manpower Commission announces.

ROUND-UP

The War Food Administration says: The public should consume more eggs, at least through mid-May, to take care of an anticipated record production amounting to at least 350 eggs for each civilian during 1944. About 70 per cent of the 1944-45 supply of dehydrated vegetables will be allocated to U. S. war uses, 23 per cent to Great Britain and Russia, 5 per cent to U. S. civilians, 1 per cent to liberated areas and 1 per cent for other purposes.

In Naval Hospital

BUD H. PRICE, seaman second class, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. N. Price, of Waynesville, is now a patient in the Naval Hospital in Charleston, S. C. Seaman Price has recently returned to the States after two months of sea duty on a destroyer in the South Atlantic. He entered the service in September, 1943, and took his boot training in Bainbridge, Md. He was sent from Bainbridge to Norfolk, Va., and then to Houston, Tex., prior to being assigned to sea duty.

Before he entered the service Seaman Price was employed on defense work.

More Farm Timber Must Go To War

Smokeless powder, blood plasma containers, cargo parachutes, aviator vests, shell casings, first-aid kits, and commando bags are just a few of the many hundreds of things for which pulpwood is needed in the prosecution of the war.

Timber and pulpwood needs far outstrip the supply and R. W. Graeber, Extension forester at State College, appeals to North Carolina farmers to do everything possible to help supply the wood products needed to meet military and essential civilian requirements. He warns that unless farmers do more in supplying timber products there may be a serious shortage of containers, packaging, and wrappings for farm crops.

"Lumber and pulpwood production can be increased without stripping our woodlands. Selective cutting will assure greater returns for less time and labor, and will improve the stands for future timber crops," Graeber says.

Farmers may obtain help in marking, cutting and marketing their timber by applying to the county agents, the Extension farm foresters, the Timber Production War Project foresters, and the U. S. Forest Service. All of these agencies stand ready to assist farmers in determining the mature trees to be taken from the stands of lumber, thinning for pulpwood, and approved methods of forest management.

"The armed forces are now demanding tremendous quantities of both timber and pulpwood, especially to meet invasion needs, and farmers can make no greater contribution to the war effort than by helping to supply forest products," Graeber says.

SUBJECT to the right-of-ways and easements, as appear of record in the Office of the Register of Deeds of Haywood County, North Carolina, and fully described in the appraisers' return to allotment of homestead of Minnie K. Woody. The above described tract of land, subject to the above exceptions, is the same tract of land allotted to Minnie K. Woody as a homestead by report of appraisers dated October 19, 1936, and thereafter conveyed by her to Margaret Elizabeth Setzer and Arthur Dillard Woody by deed dated September 27, 1943, recorded in Book 120, page 58. Sold subject to life estate of Minnie K. Woody. This the 1st day of April, 1944. R. V. WELCH, Sheriff of Haywood County, North Carolina. 1352—April 6-13-20-27.

Pressure Cooker Clinic To Be Held Here On April 27

A pressure cooker clinic will be held at the court house on Thursday, April 27, according to an announcement by the county farm and home agents.

The clinic will be a cooperative affair with the Extension service, Farm Security Administration and the county farm and home agents as joint sponsors. An engineer from State College assisted by Wayne Franklin, assistant county farm agent, will have charge of the demonstrations.

The purpose of the clinic is to check on the pressure cookers belonging to Haywood county families. The sponsoring groups are asking that the cookers be brought to the office of the home demonstration agent the Friday before the clinic. Each cooker will be tested by the engineer from State College, and any necessary adjustments will be made, so that by the time the canning season opens the owners will be ready to start canning.

Miss Mary Margaret Smith will give a demonstration on how to take care of a pressure cooker. All owners of pressure cookers in the county are invited to attend the clinic.
