

A Smile Or Two

Three small boys, as all boys naturally do, were talking about their fathers:

Son of Certain Columnist—My father just writes a few words on a page of paper and gets $25,000 for it.

Son of Lawyer—Oh, my father sits in a room and tells people what to do, and they give him $50,000 for it.

Son of Minister—That's nothing, my Papa gets up in the pulpit, preaches for a few minutes, and when he's finished, it takes eight men to take up the money.

A lot of fellows who complain about their boss being dumb would get out of a job if the boss was any smarter.

Junior—Dad, what is a deficit? Dad—It's what you've got when you haven't got as much as you need when you had nothing.

Dad—I've worked hard these 50 years, Jim, and I feel it is time for me to turn the business over to you and retire.

Jim—Aw, shucks, Pop, why don't you work a little longer, and then we can retire.

Promoted

S/SGT. DAVE Z. ALLISON, who has been promoted from sergeant to his present grade. S/SGT. Allison is attached to the Infantry Replacement Training Center, Camp Wheeler, Ga.

Sgt. Allison has been in the service for more than two years, six months of which has been spent overseas. He volunteered in the service and was inducted at Fort Jackson.

A Smile Or Two

The Scot was ill and the Doctor, another Highlander, was conferring with the family:

Doctor: "I cannot tell you exactly how Jock will be. But if it was me doing it, I wouldn't buy more than half a bottle o' the medicine the next time."

Lawyer: "I can get you free if you've got money enough." Defendant: "How much money must I have?" Lawyer: "How much you got?"

Teacher: "Spell 'straight.'" Junior: "S-t-r-a-i-g-h-t." Teacher: "Correct. Now, what does it mean?" Junior: "Without ginger ale."

Yesterday is gone; forget it, Tomorrow never comes; why worry? Today is here; get busy!

Blessed is he who expects nothing, for he shall not be disappointed.

Old Lady: "Are you afraid of work?" Bum: "Certainly not, madam. I can lie right down beside it and go to sleep."

G.O.P.'S RUNNING MATES

TOM AND JOHN exchanged warm handshakes when they met, as shown above, for the first time after the Republican convention had named them as "The Ticket." Gov. Dewey and Gov. Bricker are now planning one of the hottest campaigns in many a year. (International Soundphoto)

Both the photographer and the mother had failed to make the restless little four-year-old sit still long enough to have his picture taken. Finally the photographer suggested that the "little darling" might be quiet if her mother would leave the room for a few minutes. During the mother's absence the picture was taken successfully.

On the way home, the mother asked: Mother—What did the nice man say to make mother's little darling sit still? Child—He said: "You sit still, you little nuisance, or I'll knock your block off!" So I sat still.

R & P and Tannery In Lead In Softball Play

In the softball league during the past week, four games were played, with R&P and the Tannery holding to 2 wins and no losses, while Dayton has dropped one and won a game, and Pet has lost two.

In the first game, on the 11th, Dayton barely nosed out Pet in a 15 to 11 score. Costly errors sent Pet's score down. Dayton made 12 hits and 2 errors, against Pet's 7 hits and 7 errors.

LEAGUE STANDING table with columns for Team, W, L, Pct. R&P: 2, 0, 1.000; Tannery: 2, 0, 1.000; Dayton: 1, 1, .500; Pet: 0, 2, .000

The 13th was lucky for R&P, as they won their second game of the week, as they played Pet. The score was 14 to 9, with R&P making 13 hits and 2 errors. Pet gathered 10 hits and made 8 errors.

The Tannery and Dayton met on the 17th, and the leathermakers won in a 7 to 2 score. The Tannery batted out 9 hits and made 2 errors, while Dayton sent 4 hits out and made 2 errors.

Helped Love-Sick

Up until the late 1800s there were no Valentine greetings available expressing a variety of moods and sentiments as there are today. These Valentine senders would either make up their own messages or consult "Valentine Writers," which were books of suggested verses published as aids to those "struck dumb with love"

Rakes Help Haying

The sweep rake or buck rake is one of the greatest aids in hay mowing. Because only one man is needed to load, and two or three loads may be moved away at a time, one man alone can work efficiently.
