Gets Dad's Award

FOUR-YEAR-OLD Sari Earlyn Berman of New Orleans receives from Rear Admiral Howard Vickers of the Maritime Commission the Mariner's Medal awarded posthumously to her father, Chief Mate Saul H. Berman, who lost his life when his ship was bombed in the Bay of Bengal. The presentation was made in Washington. (International)

Discover Old Coins A logging accident near Silas Crossing, Ga., recently uncovered a hoard of 200 Spanish, Mexican and Bolivian coins. The oldest coins were dollars bearing the date 1772 and a likeness of King Charles III of Spain.

Three salesmen were eating dinner in a Washington hotel. The bill was $30 and all reached for the check. The first fellow said his firm was in the 50% bracket, doing war work, and that the bill actually would cost him only $15. The second man said, "Let me pay it. We're in the 80% bracket and it will cost me only $8." The third man said: "I'll pay the check. My firm is working on a cost plus basis and we'll make $3 on the meal."—Arch Ward in Chicago Tribune.

ANGLES . . . Flattery is the name some women give to the praise they hear given others . . . It is well to consider that it takes two to make a petting pact . . . The unvoiced idea is as good as no idea . . . Of what avail is a piece of art if the audience does not possess sufficient culture to appreciate it?

A BIT MUDDLED

Two men somewhat under the influence of intoxicating drink were uncertainly flitting their way down a road with a deep ditch on each side. The car made a lurch to one side. "Careful, Bill," hiccupped one, "I wancha t' be ver' careful. First thing you know you'll have us 'n th' ditch." "Me, be careful?" exclaimed Bill in surprise. "Why (hic) I thought you wux drivin'."

Dog Story No. 99999

Once upon a time a man had an extremely smart dog. It would do anything he told him. One morning the man said: "Go up and get a shirt for me." The dog went upstairs but he didn't come down right away. After a while the man began to worry. So he went up to see what was wrong. The dog was sitting on the bed sewing a button on the shirt.

What Only Fifty?

The war was over. The Dictator was dead. The soldier who had helped lay the body well and truly underground was describing the scene. "We put the coffin down fifty times," he said. "Fifty times!" exclaimed a listener. "What for?" "Encores!"

More Thought Needed

Harry—It's odd but my best ideas come when I'm washing my hands. Jerry—Why don't you take a bath then!

RIGHT ANSWER

Tax Man—Now, what's your husband's average income? Lady—Oh, about one o'clock in the morning!

Sweet Nothings

Mary—What was that crack you made about me being like a lamp post? Harry—Oh, that was nothing. I just said there was one like you on every corner.

But Smart!

Father—You're a bright lad, son, but you want to make too much money. Why, do you know what I was getting when I married? Son—No. And I'll bet you didn't either!

Effective Anyway

Tom—Grandma was looking for bicarbonate of soda last night and took a spoonful of plaster of paris by mistake. Dick—That ought to have settled her hash!

The Woman of It

Flora—You know a week ago I was crazy about that soldier. Now I don't care for him a bit. Dora — Yes, it's strange how changeable men are.

IN THE ARMY

Sarge—Now men, why is walnut used in the butt of this rifle? Rookie One—Because it's harder? Rookie Two—Perhaps because it's more elastic? Rookie Three—Maybe because it looks nicer? Sarge—Don't be dumb. It's because it's laid down in the regulations!

Mixed Parents

Housewife—These two girls are brother's! Investigator—Lady, that's impossible. Housewife—It's not. My brother and his family will live here as long as they like.

Heat at any Price

Hubby—Isn't this wonderful, sitting here before the fireplace with that wonderful fire? Wifey—Yes, but I'm sure I'm going to miss the furniture.

Timely, Practical Household Suggestions

by Ruth Currant of State College

In making a dress at home, use mercerized cotton thread on wash fabrics and on all dull-surface materials. Buy thread that is a shade darker in color than your material because colored thread usually works in lighter when it's stitched. The best time to buy buttons is when you're getting pattern and goods. Choose buttons that will stand washing or dry cleaning. And this might be a good time to consider the belt you want so you'll be sure it suits the buttons and the fabric.

Well-Dressed for Home Work. Here is a five-way test for a home work garment:

- 1. It is comfortable—allows for free action, and for warm weather it is cool as can be. 2. It has safety-first features, such as sleeves that won't catch on pan handles. 3. It has time and energy-saving features—easy to make, to put on, and to launder. 4. It is durable material and workmanship. 5. It is attractive because of good design, and not because of some outside decoration like an embroidered flowerpot or perky bow. Patterns for these garments are now being produced by a commercial company for the home seamstress.

Add 'G' to 'R's' The three R's of educational fame will have to make way for a "G" after the war. The "G" is for geography which has already emerged as a key science in this global war. The science is not only necessary for a proper understanding of world-wide strategy now being carried out, he said, but it will also be essential to an intelligent understanding of the problems which will follow the war.

A small bell tied around the neck of a bottle of poison medicine is a simple household safety measure to prevent mistaking one bottle for another.

Helps Tell Colors It has been reported that some cases of weakness in distinguishing colors can be relieved by vitamin A.
